Senate Race Under Study By Stevenson

Consults JFK, Asserts He May Oppose Dirksen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson disclosed Saturday he is considering a race for the U. S. Senate seat from Illinois now held by Everett M. Dirksen, the Republicans' Senate leader.

Emerging from a White House meeting with President Kennedy, the U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations told newsmen Mayor Richard J. Daliey of Chicago had asked him to make the race.

The former Illinois governor and two-time Democratic presidential nominee said he will make his decision known before the end of this month.

CONSULTS JFK

Stevenson acknowledged he discussed the matter with the President and indicated Kennedy had advised him what he should do. But Stevenson said he did not think he should say what the chief executive told him.

Stevenson, who is 61, was governor of Illinois from 1949 to 53 and unsuccessfully opposed Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidency in 1952 and 1956. Kennedy named him U.N. ambassador early this year.

Dirksen, 65, has announced his candidacy for a third term in the 1962 elections. He was first elected to the Senate in 1950 and re-elected in 1956. He served six yars in the House before retiring temporarily in 1939 because of trouble with his eyesight.

Stevenson indicated to newsmen that his White House call Saturday was not primarily concerned with the question of the Senate candidacy, saying this was mentioned only casually.

As U.N. ambassador with Cabinet status, Stevenson customarily reports to the President about once a week. He said the hour-long talk dealt with several U.N. matters, notably the newly opened debate on admission of Red China to the international organization. He said he told the President he feels Red China will not be admitted at this time.

Stevenson said Daley, long a Democratic power in Chicago, phoned him Thursday and "asked me if I am interested in running." In making his decision, Stevenson said, "I want to be guided by the best interests of my party and the administration."

State Rep. Paul Simon is the only Democrat who has announced his candidacy for his party's nomination but several others have been mentioned. Among them are Paul Powell, speaker of the state House of Representatives, and Chicago businessman Arnold Maremont. The latter is a friend of

Times Supports Republican In Congress Race

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) —The Shreveport Times Saturday night came out editorially in favor of a Republican to succeed the late Rep. Overton Brooks, D-La., from the fourth congressional district.

The Times supported Charlton H. Lyons Sr., a 67-year-old Shreveport independent oilman, a Republican, in opposition to Joe H. Waggonner Jr., 43, of Plain Dealing, who won in the Democratic primary. The general election is Dec. 19.

The Times mentioned Lyons' "magnificient qualifications."

The newspaper, which has an independent editorial policy but supported the Eisenhower - Nixon ticket, said Waggonner's election might be interpreted as the congressional district's endorsement of the national Democratic Party's policies.

Also, said the editorial, Waggonner was elected to a six-year term on the State Board of Education, as a member at large from the third Public Service Commission district, and has served only 8½ months. Now, said the editorial, he is seeking "the more lucrative and glamorous post of congressmen." This, the Times said, in the event of election, would necessitate the appointment by the governor of a successor for a great part of the six-year term.

Brooks' unexpired term runs until January, 1963.

Downsville Man Dies In Crash; Car Rams Truck

A 32-year-old Downsville man was killed early Saturday morning after plowing head-on into a stopped dump truck on Coleman Street in West Monroe.

Pronounced dead on arrival at St. Francis hospital was Delma (Del) Clifton Cox of route one, Downsville. He was rushed to the hospital by Kilpatrick's ambulance after his smashup near the Coleman-South Eight Street intersection at 1:30 a.m.

According to West Monroe police investigating the accident, Cox struck a dump truck owned by Twin City Gravel Co. and operated by Burt Schanks Jr., 28, of 732 Olive St., West Monroe.

Schanks told officers he was driving east on Coleman Street when he saw Cox's new automobile coming toward him on the wrong side of the street. Cox was driving west on Coleman in the eastbound lane, he said.

Schanks said he stopped the loaded dump truck but that Cox just kept coming. Investigation showed there were no skid marks and apparently Cox did not attempt to stop his vehicle. Officers were unable to determine whether Cox went to sleep behind the wheel or what happpened.

CAUSE OF DEATH

Dr. C. U. Johnson, assistant Ouachita Parish Coroner, said death was due to a fractured skull and severe contusions of the chest caused by the steering column of the automobile.

Cox's head smashed into the front windshield and he was thrown into the steering wheel and column. Police estimated he was traveling approximately 35 miles per hour at the time of the accident.

No charges were filed by officers in the accident.

Funeral services for Cox, who was an insurance salesman, will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Halmsville Baptist Church in Downsville. The Revs. Clyde Baxter and Connie Ward will officiate at the services.

Burial will be in the Halmsville Cemetery near Downsville under

FOR BRIGHT YULE

Many Depending On Goodfellows

Many families in Ouachita Parish are depending on the help of the Goodfellows and the contributions from local residents to provide food and clothing for Christmas.

Letters asking for help are begining to mount as the drive for contributions has reached a total of $458.81, which is far short of the need.

These families requesting aid from the Goodfellows seldom mention presents; they ask instead for proper food and clothing for their children.

NEAR PARENTS

As one letter reads, "We came to your city to live because my parents live in Jackson Parish and they are getting old and in poor health and we wanted to be near to help them in any way we could. My husband hasn't been able to get a decent job since we moved here in February.

"We aren't askin; for Christmas gifts although we do have five children. We just haven't made enough all year to pay bills and live. We would appreciate it so much if you could help. Just to have work and be able to pay our bills and clothe and feed our children is all the Christmas we want."

Contributions in the form of money, clothes, or food may be sent to the Goodfellows Fund, in care of the News-Star — World, Monroe. Each will be listed in both papers.

A Monroe resident writes, "I am writing for two little girls ages four and five. Their mother is dead and their father is in jail. They are living with their grandparents, who are not going to be able to get them anything for Christmas because of pressing debts.

If you can please give them a little something they would be very delighted."

Islanders Learning Pedestrian Safety

LONDON (AP)—Road safety instructors began teaching the children of auto-less Tristan da Cunha Saturday how pedestrians survive in much-motorized Britain.

The first batch of 32 students, ranging in age from 7 to 15, reported to headuarters of the Society for the Prevention of Accidents after a bus trip from Pendell Camp in Surrey—now the home of Tristan da Cunha's entire population of 264.

Until the island was evacuated in October, because of a volcanic eruption, not one of the children had ever seen an automobile. The sole means of transportation in their island home were two bicycles, one tractor, a few ox-drawn wagons and a number of donkeys.

Instructor Frank Hamlet grouped the children around a table marked with road crossings and model vehicles and pedestrians and showed what dire things can happen if you don't look both ways.

"I," said 10-year-old Terence Green prudently, "would rather be back home riding a donkey."

Lewis Glass, 13, who learned to ride a bicycle on the island, said: "It seems I have a lot to learn. I'm not nervous about crossing quiet roads, but I'm not prepared to cross a road in London."

Betty Rogers, 13, said she had no desire to ride a bicycle on British roads. "I would be too scared," she explained.

Braver was Christopher Simpson, 11, who declared he was willing to risk it after a thorough course of instruction.

"I learned to ride a bicycle two years ago," he said, "and I'm hoping I'll get one for Christmas."

Jones Gives Pact Views On Tidelands

Senator Asserts Solution Likely By Early Spring

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Sen. Howard Jones said Saturday it would be reasonable to anticipate a Louisiana tidelands settlement by early spring because "enough progress has been made."

The St. Joseph senator, while not an official voice of Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' administration, nevertheless is a close friend of the governor.

GIVES VIEWS

Jones did not at this time go into what progress has been made, as he mentioned, but he did say: "I think the U. S. Department of Interior, as well as the Louisiana Legislature, realizes the importance of an early settlement. It has been hanging fire too long and has to be settled eventually."

However, on Thursday, Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall said although he would like a swift solution to the controversy he could see none in sight.

Last week, U. S. Solicitor Gen. Archibald Cox paid a courtesy call on Davis at the mansion, and conducted an aerial survey of offshore territory in the Gulf of Mexico. In this 14-year-old dispute, he is the chief tidelands negotiator for the federal government.

An oilman himself, Sen. Jones said from his personal studies of the offshore areas involved, "a reasonable interpretation of where our three-mile boundary should be—with any tidelands settlement—would at the most give Louisiana approximately $65 million of the estimated $340 million in oil production escrow funds now held in federal reserve banks."

In an interview, Jones said he wanted to make his statement because he had read published reports that Louisiana might expect as high as $200 million of the escrow money in any settlement.

Commenting on what he termed the "theoretical boundary" he

Negro Boy Shot, Body Is Hidden

Three frightened Negro children led their mother to a pile of tin and old bed clothing where they had hidden the body of a six-year - old brother, accidentally shot yesterday.

Ethel Lee Carter of Bosco, left her four children, ranging in age from nine to two, at home and when she returned at 5 p.m. one child, Billy Ray Burrell, was dead.

Deputies from the Ouachita Parish sheriff's department said the boy was accidentally killed when a .351 caliber rifle discharged as the children played with it, striking him in the heart.

The fatal shot was administered around 12:30 p.m. Saturday by nine-year-old Douglas O'Neal Burrell, according to the children.

They had been left at home by the Carter woman while she worked at a home in Bosco and the father picked cotton.

The children said they had been playing with the rifle and Douglas found a shell which he put in the gun. He told his mother the rifle was on the bed where they were playing, and it discharged striking Billy in the heart.

The children apparently became frightened and dragged the six-year - old's body into the back yard. There they hid it under-

1962 Cotton Allotment 16,321 Acres

A 1962 cotton allotment of 16,321 acres has been established for Ouachita Parish, W. A. Calloway, chairman of the ASC committee announced.

This is an increase of 3215 acres over the 1961 parish allotment, according to Calloway.

State and parish allotments are determined on the basis of average acreage regarded as planted during the 5 years preceding the year in which the allotment program is proclaimed.

Farm allotments are generally based on the allotment established for the farm for the previous year. Exceptions to this rule are farms that failed to plant at least 75 per cent of the previous year's allotment, Calloway said.

Cotton farmers will vote December 12 on a national referendum to determine whether marketing quotas will be operative for the 1962 cotton crop. At least two-thirds of the farmers voting must approve quotas if they are to

LITTLE BOYS BASEBALL

Series Bid Won By West Monroe

By PAUL MARTIN
Executive Sports Editor

"We have been most impressed and graciously accept your bid to host the 1962 Dixie World Series of Little Boys Baseball."

The announcement from Danny Jones, national commissioner of Little Boys Baseball, assured West Monroe the role as host of the August baseball classic for boys and brought a roar of approval from the near one hundred Louisiana, Mississippi, and Arkansas Little Boys Baseball leaders and supporters pressing for acceptance of the West Monroe bid.

Jones, just as he had a year ago inspected West Monroe facilities in a losing bid, came here Friday with Matt Goyak, national president, from their headquarters in South Carolina to again officially investigate the facilities offered before ruling on a bid presented formally last night at a banquet at Highland Park Country Club.

GOOD CHANCE

Jones earlier had indicated West Monroe had a good chance of being designated the series city when he declared Goyak and himself had been empowered by the national directors to make a decision when they were assured all tournament requirements will be met.

Neville followers have long called Coach Bill Ruple "snake-bit." When it comes to tossing the coin for playoff game sites, he rarely wins one and had already lost two this season. His "pore little boys" have better success on the grid.

But Ruple finally won one yesterday when he and Neville Principal Sidney Seegars met with Lee officials at Natchez, Miss., for the coin-flipping ceremony that determined which school could name the game site.

BY LITTLE THEATRE

Local Showing Set For Bye Bye Birdie

The Little Theatre of Monroe will be the first non-professional group to produce the hit musical Bye Bye Birdie, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Carl H. McHenry, president of the local organization.

The Northeast State Jazz Ensemble under the direction of Del Sawyer has agreed to play for the production. Dr. George T. Walker, Northeast president, and Dr. Harry M. Lemert, dean of the fine arts department, have cooperated in freeing the band's schedule for this engagement, Mrs. McHenry said.

Executive director Richard Clark said that rehearsals will start Jan. 2, with late February as the opening date target. The choreographer will be Elvie McGehee of New Orleans, his second Monroe appearance in this capacity.

Aside from its sensational Broadway run of 18 months, Bye Bye Birdie has special interest for Monroe play-goers. Its backer and associate producer, L. Slade Brown, starred in productions of Pajama Game and The Boy Friend at the old Selman Field playhouse. Since moving away from Monroe, Brown has embarked upon a successful theatrical career. His newest venture, a musical called All American, will open in New York next February. He was instrumental in securing the release of Bye Bye Birdie for the Strauss Playhouse in time to replace Annie, Get Your Gun, which had originally been planned.

Six Removed From Prison, Assassinated

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Six men held in the assassination of dictator Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo have themselves been assassinated, the government declared Saturday night.

The attorney's general's office said two close associates of Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., son of the late dictator, gave the order that led to the mysterious disappearance of the six Nov. 18.

GUARDS ALSO DIE

An official statement given a few days after the men disappeared said they had escaped after a bus carrying them to a scheduled re-enactment of the killing of Trujillo May 30 was ambushed by unidentified assailants. Three police guards were said to have been killed in the ambush.

A communique issued by Atty. Gen. Porfirio Soria said an investigation showed the purported ambush was "not a question of escape as has been pretended but an assassination wherein the victims were not only the detainees but those acting as guards."

Friends and relatives of the missing men have charged that the reported ambush was a screen for the slaughter of the six in reparting act of brutality by Trujillos, who have been forced to leave the country.

The communique said the order for the six to be taken from the national prison to the assassination scene came from the office of Rafael Jr., a day after the government announced he had left this island nation. He is now in Paris.

Edward Dowdy, 72, Succumbs; Rites Pending

Edward Dowdy, 72, died unexpectedly at his home at 219 Malvern St., in West Monroe Saturday.

He was a life resident of Ouachita Parish and retired worker for the parish.

Mr. Dowdy died following a heart attack. He was using a pay-phone in downtown West Monroe when he suffered the attack. Ambulance drivers attempted to revive him, but were unsuccessful. Ouachita Parish Coroner Dr. John P. Burton said he apparently died from a heart attack.

Funeral services were incomplete last night but will be under the direction of Hixson Brothers Funeral Home of Monroe. The Rev. Charles Littleton and Rev. Cecil Gregory will officiate.

Burial will be in the Mount Vernon Cemetery in West Monroe.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Mary Roberts Dowdy, Monroe; three sons, Odell Dowdy, West Monroe, Ivan Dowdy, Long Beach, Calif., and J. C. Dowdy, East St. Louis, Ill.; two stepsons, William T. Barlow, Baton Rouge, and Elbert L. Barlow, Monroe; five brothers, Henry Dowdy, Oscar Dowdy, Earl Dowdy, T. O. Jones Gives Pact Views On Tidelands sees in a tidelands accord with the federal government, Jones said it was his opinion "it will run close to any actual agreement" on a boundary.

The issue that has to be settled since the U. S. Supreme Court has recognized only a three-mile offshore boundary for Louisiana, is where to form the baseline for the three-mile seaward limit.

The senator, again emphasizing what he called "a reasonable interpretation" of where this base line eventually might be placed, said he had surveyed current oil bonus revenues, royalties and severance tax accumulations in the disputed zones.

And, superimposing all production areas over the tidelands, and the theoretical boundary, Jones figured how — in his words — Louisiana might gain approximately $65 million of the estimated $340 million.

Beyond this three-mile boundary, he continued, would be another seven miles remaining in the 10-mile stretch Louisiana under a 1954 act claims as her historic boundary.

Recently, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., suggested Louisiana might have to do something about that 1954 law, to make tidelands negotiations easier.

In this seven-mile area, Jones estimated, roughly $135 million of the escrow money could be counted.

And outside this 10-mile zone would be the region which produced the remainder of the $340 million escrow money "and which rightfully would belong to the federal government," he said.

Louisiana congressmen have a bill prepared to give this state the same 10-mile offshore boundary the Supreme Court granted Florida and Texas.

This is a separate step from negotiations over a baseline for the three-mile limit, which is just one of the issues involved.

"You have to assume that when we have established a definite three-mile line," Jones said, "then the seven-mile twilight zone would extend seaward from there. And we hope the Congress will recognize and grant Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama this 10-mile territory to equalize their seaward borders with Florida and Texas."

tion, are life patrons of the Monroe Little Theatre. Miss Lallage Feazel of West Monroe, another life patron, was also an "angel" for Bye Bye Birdie, it was said.

Many Monroyans have attended the show in New York or Dallas. Mrs. McHenry found it well received in London. The Strauss Playhouse production here is expected to attract record throngs from the community and more distant points.

Try-outs for Bye Bye Birdie will be held at Strauss Playhouse on Lamy Lane on Fri. Dec. 8 at 7:30 p.m., Sat., Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m. and Sun., Dec. 10 at 2:30 p.m.

The show requires a large cast and backstage crew. Director Richard Clark will welcome actors with singing and dancing talent, but he stressed that there are many openings for people without either.

The stars of the Broadway production were Dick Van Dyke as publicity agent for rock'n'roll singer Conrad Birdie, and Chita Rivera as the agent's secretary whose main ambition is to marry him.

The zany plot revolves about a publicity stunt on the eve of Birdie's induction into the army. His farewell kiss as a civilian is to be given to a typical teen-age girl. Birdie's appearance in Sweet Apple, O., for this purpose causes something approaching a riot. In the meantime, Van Dyke's domineering mother, originally played by Kay Medford who nearly stole the show, resorts to all kinds of devices to separate her son and his secretary. It all works out in the end.

The music is fresh and spontaneous, the teen-agers make a delightfully different chorus and the dancing is what might be anticipated from director-choreographer Gower Champion.

The critics went all out to praise Bye Bye Birdie. Brooks Atkinson said "The audience was beside itself with pleasure." Walter Kerr called it "enormously appealing . . . frisky . . . delectable." John Chapman raved "The funniest, most captivating and most expert musical comedy one could hope to see in several seasons . . . there are so many enjoyable moments that it is difficult to choose the best . . . a happy, zestful, clean, smart musical."

LETTERS PILE UP

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's postal ministry reports 1.44 million letters and 8,000 parcels piled up as a result of postal workers' refusal to work overtime until the government grants yearend bonuses and pay rises. Postmen, asking $13.88 (equivalent) more a month, average $58.31 monthly.

Six Removed From Prison, Assassinated

ly to Police Chief Marco Antonio Jorge Moreno by Col. Luis Jose Leon Estevez, a brother-in-law of Rafael Jr., and Col. Gilberto Sanchez Rubirosa, the statement said.

Both the colonels also have left the country. The communique said every effort will be made to extradite any persons involved.

Two police officials at the prison have already been arrested in the case. They are Maj. Dante Minervino, known to many Dominicans as "The Butcher," and Lt. Francisco Antonio Marte Tejeda.

Col. Leon Estevez, married to Angelita Trujillo, was inspector general of the army. Col. Sanchez Rubirosa, an aide to Rafael Jr., is a nephew of playboy diplomat Porfirio Rubirosa and brother of Ernesto Sanchez Rubirosa, vice president of the official Dominican party.

The investigation also showed "important participation" in the alleged slaying of the prisoners by a physician identified as Dr. Federico A. Cabral, the communique said.

The attorney general's office reported Leon Estevez and Sanchez Rubirosa tried to get the prisoners removed Nov. 17, but were told they were under the jurisdiction of a civilian tribunal. However, they outranked the police chief, who then was under the jurisdiction of the army, and got the prisoners removed the following day.

Although Rafael Jr., was said to have left the country Nov. 17, a caretaker at his beach home said he did not leave until mid-afternoon the next day, a few hours before wives of the prisoners saw them being taken away in the bus. The wives said they were told the men were being returned to prison.

President Joaquin Balaguer ordered the investigation after cries were raised that the disappearance of the six was an act of revenge by the Trujillos.

The attorney general's report may take some of the opposition pressure off Balaguer. However, earlier in the day, Virato A. Fiallo, National Civic Union leader, charged that Balaguer's regime is nothing but a military dictatorship and a continuation of the Trujillo regime.

Senate Race Under Study By Stevenson

Illinois' present Democratic governor, Otto Kerner.

Dirksen was not available immediately for comment on Stevenson's disclosure.

In Chicago, Daley told newsmen he long had wanted Stevenson to run for the Senate and continued: "I telephoned Stevenson and told him what great service he could give his state and nation as senator from Illinois. I asked him to give the candidacy his deepest consideration. He told me he would do so and would speak to President Kennedy."

Stevenson lost Illinois in both his presidential campaigns. In 1952 it was Eisenhower 2,457,327, Stevenson 2,013,920. In 1956, Eisenhower won 2,623,327 to 1,775,682. Last year, Kennedy took a hairline decision from Republican Richard M. Nixon, 2,377,638 to 2,367,837.

When Stevenson was elected governor in 1948, he defeated the Republican incumbent, Dwight Green, by 575,000 votes.

Dirksen ousted incumbent Sen. Scott Lucas by 200,000 votes in 1950 and had a plurality of more than 330,000 when re-elected in 1956.

Rocket On Firing Pad For Attempt To Orbit Astronaut

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A converted war rocket expected to send a U. S. astronaut on America's first manned orbital flight within a few weeks was installed on its launching pad Saturday.

The silvery Atlas booster was carefully raised to a vertical position on firing pad No. 14, the spot where a similar rocket hurled U. S. space chimp Enos into the sky on the part of a two-orbit trip around earth last Wednesday.

Scientists on the $400 million Mercury man-into-space program already have selected John H. Glenn Jr., a 40-year-old Marine lieutenant colonel, to follow in the space trails of Enos and a pair of Russian cosmonauts, Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov.

Gagarin circled earth once aboard the "Vostok" spaceship last April 1 and Titov was whirled through 17 orbits last August. Enos made two trips around before troubles in his bell-shaped Mercury capsule forced scientists to bring him back to an Atlantic Ocean landing.

Glenn, oldest of the nation's seven astronauts, is in the final stages of training for a flight designed to carry him three times around earth—about 81,000 miles—to a landing about 1,000 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

Coon Named To Police Chiefs Panel

State Fire Marshal John E. Coon has accepted an assignment to the Arson Committee of the International Association of Police Chiefs, according to Frank A. Sweeney, president.

Coon has served as head of the Louisiana Fire Marshal's office since 1956.

Prior to that time Coon served two terms as mayor of Monroe after completing one term as a member of the Louisiana Legislature from Ouachita parish.

Since accepting the appointment as fire marshal in 1956, Coon has developed an active affiliation with efforts to further the causes of fire prevention and arson detection. He has served on numerous national panel discussions and clinic sessions.

He recently returned from the 1961 convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police in Montreal.

Ashley County Balloting Set For Tuesday

CROSSETT (Special) — Voters in School District No. 52 will go to the polls Tuesday to decide the fate of a proposed 31 mill school tax, as well as vote on one man for their Board of Directors and one man for the County Board of Directors.

The 31 mill tax is an increase of two mills over the present mill rate. The increase has been brought about by increased costs of school operation. The 31 mill tax includes 16 mills for the maintenance and operation of the schools and 15 mills is for retirement of existing indebtedness evidenced by bonds for which a tax of 15 mills has been previously voted and which is continuing annual tax until the bonds are paid.

Wm. C. Norman, president of the Crossett School Board, is running unopposed for another five-year term on the Board and Willie Earl Baker is seeking election to the county board for a five year term as a member at large.

Castro Now Boasts He's Communist

HAVANA (UP)—Premier Fidel Castro settled once and for all Saturday the question of his politics: He is dedicated to the principles of communism and has been since his college days.

"I'm a Marxist-Leninist and I'll remain one till I die," he shouted during a five-hour television address early Saturday in which he announced the merging of his 26th of July movement with the Communist Party.

Castro explained he had hidden his belief in communism from the Cuban people and his American friends for years "because otherwise we might have alienated the bourgeoise and other forces which we knew we would eventually have to fight."

His speech stripping away the last veneer of democratic trappings were in sharp contrast to his statement he made six months after he overthrew dictator Fulgencio Batista on Jan. 1, 1959. "Ours is not a Communist revolution."

Saturday in his post - midnight television marathon he said that when his tiny band of rebels made its first abortive attack on the Moncado barracks at Santiago on July 26, 1953, "the revolutionary thinking was completely formed."

Castro followed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in rejecting the idea of the cult of the personality and said he had discarded the probability of himself becoming a "caudillo" (boss)..."for which renunciation I congratulate myself."

The premier said he was "politically illiterate" when he attended high school "but today I'm a convinced revolutionary."

"In college I had my first contacts with bourgeois economic policies and right then I began to dissent," he said. "Thereafter I read the Communist Manifesto and other Marxist books."

He said the one party would have a Marxist-Leninist platform adjusted to the conditions of the Cuban revolution and those of the Cuban nation.

Laos Princes Receive New Peace Appeal

GENEVA (AP)—Britain and the Soviet Union appealed to the three contending princes of Laos Saturday to preserve the spirit of observance of their cease-fire agreement.

W. Averell Harriman, who has been the U.S. delegate to the Laos negotiation Geneva conference on Laos, told newsmen he fully supported the appeal for peace in the little Southeast Asian jungle kingdom.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko warmed [illegible] situation in Laos [illegible] serious [illegible].

They urged the three princes, Prince Boun Oum of the pro-Western government of Vientiane, and Souvanna Phouma and his pro-Communist half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong of the Pathet Lao, to implement their months-old agreement to form a government of national unity.

The three princes have agreed that Souvanna should be premier, but a further conference among them on composition of a government has been delayed by a dispute over the size of a military escort for Souvanna and Souphanouvong when they appear at the Vientiane conference site.

Britain and the Soviet Union, as co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference which split French Indochina into North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, have special responsibility for preserving [illegible].

GREEN CREEK, [illegible] (AP)—Mrs. Ann White asked her fourth grade pupils to name the seasons of the year. One boy said there are five—spring, summer, fall, winter and deer.

AT LITTLE THEATRE

'5 Finger' Drama Serious Effort

By JOHN CALE
STAFF CRITIC

Little Theatre took a serious turn for its second presentation of the season Friday with the opening of "Five Finger Exercise" at Strauss Playhouse.

Featured in the cast were:
Mrs. Judy Evans as Louise Harrington
John Callerca as Clive Harrington
Garland Moore as Stanley Harrington
Norman Jones as Walter Langer
Shirley Allen as Pamela Harrington

It's easy to blame the playwright for a play which seems to lack general appeal. He usually isn't in town for a Monroe performance.

"Five Finger Exercise" as a play violated some accepted rules of presentation which have functioned in many tongues over many years. Not that rules are all that sacred—"Teahouse of the Agust Moon" bent several of them around and got away with it on the basis of oriental charm.

But Playwright Peter Shaffer brought all his characters on stage early in Act I and failed to follow up with any degree of ascending action until the closing moments of the second and final scene of that act.

TWO ACTS

Since there were only two acts in the play, this late entry of the plot called for straightforward development. Instead, there was only more discussion of the "why am I what I am" sort of material which filled Act I.

Now comes word that the film version, which stars Rosalind Russell as Mrs. Harrington, stands to earn that actress an Oscar nomination.

This should wilt any criticism from the provinces? Not at all.

local cast and director Richard Clark handled the difficult and lengthy lines well. The playwright simply had more in mind than a brief, British character analysis could take care of.

Norman Jones, as the German tutor, succeeded in speaking with a realistic German inflection instead of the more familiar but less accurate Hollywood stereotype of an enraged Prussian general. His monologue in Act I on sex and manhood showed a measure of theatrical maturity.

Judy Evans, who also headed the costume department, came forward with the most effective character change of the evening when she discovered the young tutor living in the household was interested in her as a foster mother rather than an attractive young woman.

TENSIONS

Thoroughly at home in the gulf of family tensions were Shirley Allen and Garland Moore, both of whom had parts in Little Theatre's "Diary of Anne Frank" last spring.

John Callarman was equally convincing as the mixed-up and unhappy son in the Harrington home.

Set construction—the weekend cottage—and lighting measured up to the high standard of excellence Monroe audiences have come to expect.

In one respect, it is unfortunate at this time that Shaffer's play does not hold more audience appeal. Each of the characters represents a western nationality, that is, an English husband, French mother, German tutor, American - influenced daughter and groping son.

In the world of present - day reality, these peoples must somehow find a way to cooperate in the positive sense, not merely as partners in the defense against communism.

"Five Finger Exercise" as the pianistic workout of the same name, is not very entertaining.

But in fairness to the play reading committee, it must be said all plays cannot be in the lighter vein. Besides, in taking a look at the opening show, Director Clark might manage to work in a few rises in place of the flat spots.

Decision Due On Above Ground Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is now expected to make an early decision, probably before the new year, on resuming test explosions of nuclear weapons above ground. Officials said Saturday he is pressing his study of the crucial problem.

The present expectation in high government quarters is that the President will order atmospheric explosions primarily to test anti-missile weapons.

The President needs to know first whether there is a possibility that the Russians are close to developing effective defenses against nuclear rocket attack. Such defenses would decrease the effectiveness of U.S. deterrent power unless countered.

In the second place, the President needs to know whether the United States can develop a system of "missile killers" which would destroy incoming attack weapons or render them harmless while they were still far from their target areas.

Officials say this latter information can become known through renewed atmospheric testing, at least to the extent that scientists have been able to develop new ideas and devices in the missile defense field during the three-year test ban.

But only Kennedy can decide whether the need for the knowledge is important enough to U.S. military power to justify a step which would bring wide condemnation from neutral nations and others.

Pentagon informants spoke of firm information that the Russians are making a strong effort to develop their own anti-missile system. This, presumably, was one of the major objectives in the recent Soviet test series.

Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara have already decided, Pentagon sources said, to ask Congress for money to start tooling up for production of the Nike-Zeus missile killer. The purpose of this decision, reported reached a week ago, is to begin the process of tool-making so that an anti-missile system can get into production rapidly.

Just a month ago, Kennedy announced that he was ordering preparations made for above-ground tests should they prove to be necessary for the national security. He said he would be guided in his final judgment by what his advisers could tell him about the results of Russian testing.

Thus one of the major questions before Kennedy is whether the Soviets made any real breakthrough in the nuclear weapons field which would radically alter the balance of power in the world. Such an alteration would occur if, for example, the Soviets came up with an effective defense against U.S. missiles but the attack while its own weapons could get through.

Officials are extremely reluctant to discuss what they may know about the Soviet test results, but they indicate they do not believe Premier Khrushchev scored any spectacular breakthrough toward really new weapons. On the other hand, he may have made steady progress in the anti-missile defense field.

Such questions as these are believed to have been discussed by Kennedy during this week with Dr. Edward Teller, and Dr. Hans Bethe, both among the nation's top nuclear physicists.

Among the considerations before the President are not only the question relating to keeping progress in the arms race, but also the questions of possible U.S. reaction. He needs to weigh not merely could he accomplish what the United States considers a useful test of atmospheric explosion.

ADENAUER RECOVERING

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, recovering from the grippe, is expected to get back to his desk Monday or Tuesday, the federal press office said Saturday. He was afflicted after returning from a visit to Washington last week and has been confined to his home in nearby Rhoendorf since.

NEW CHEVY II
Never before such a team of totally new cars! Sedans, hardtop, station wagons, even a convertible . . . you name it, Chevy II has it. Nine models in all new in production. What are they like? Well, imagine all the solid virtues you've always counted on from Chevrolet . . . the steadfast dependability, the tried and true economy, the dyed-in-the-wool comfort . . . all dressed up in a new just-right size and built a modern new way. That's Chevy II . . . but that's only the beginning. It's easy on the eyes, easy on the road and easy on your pocketbook. It's built to be ultra-easy to service and maintain. Front fenders, for instance, bolt on and off for easy repairs. Two spunky engines, a four and a six (your choice in most models), purr along merrily on regular gas—and darn little of it, too. Thanks to Mono-Plate rear springs, the ride reminds you of the big Chevrolet—and you know how smooth that is. The space inside for people and things puts you in mind of big cars, too. So does the cushy comfort. But Chevy II parts company from anything else around when it comes to offering all these fine features—at a sensible low price. Fact is, luxury and low price have never been blended so beautifully. Check your Chevrolet dealer and see for yourself.

Military Takeover Ruled Out In Dominican By Leader

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—The chief of the Dominican armed forces Saturday ruled out any military takeover of the Caribbean republic despite a general strike aimed at overthrowing the government of President Joaquin Balaguer.

At the same time, leaders of 20 labor and professional organizations appealed for restraint of negotiations between the government and opposition to avoid further bloodshed. The talks were reported to have resumed in secret Saturday morning.

Troops were forced to hurl tear bombs and fire over the heads of demonstrators in Santo Domingo and Santiago Friday. At least 24 persons and a male spectator were wounded by bomb fragments here and 1 woman was reported to have suffered similar injuries in Santiago.

The government denied published reports that the troops had fired into the crowds of women demonstrators here or in Santiago, the republic's second city.

The possibility of a military coup during the current crisis was denied emphatically by Maj. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echeverria whom Balaguer named chief of armed forces after the flight of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo Jr.

SINGER Dinah Shore and her husband, actor George Montgomery, shown together in 1956, announced in Hollywood Saturday they will be divorced. The announcement came almost on the eve of their 18th wedding anniversary. They married Dec. 5, 1943. The couple, who jointly issued the announcement, has two children, Melissa, 14(and John, 7. SINGER, ACTOR SPLIT

'Perfect Marriage' To End In Divorce

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A marriage that even Hollywood cynics bet would last forever—that of Dinah Shore and George Montgomery—won't.

In a joint statement Saturday, the TV star and her cowboy-actor husband announced that they had split. Dinah filed for the divorce.

The announcement, which stung even their closest friends, came just three days before their 18th wedding anniversary. They were married December 5, 1943, in Las Vegas, Nev.

A source close to the situation said the decision, on Miss Shore's part, did not come overnight.

The friend said Dinah felt that "marriage is a sacred thing."

But, the source said, "she started thinking about this as long ago as last Christmas. George went to the Philippines the day after Christmas to make a picture and was gone three months.

"The two grew apart during this year, finding it extremely difficult to communicate with each other.

"But Dinah, who is against divorce, did not make her final decision until last night, only minutes before her TV show went on the air. It was then that George packed his bags and left the house. Dinah took the two children with her to NBC at Burbank for her telecast."

No one in the cast or in the TV audience had any inkling anything was wrong. Dinah is one of the few stars who still insists on doing her show live instead of pretaping them.

She clowned, sang songs and was her usual bouncy, TV self. And when the announcement came Saturday, no one suspected that her performance Friday night must've been given under great stress.

Both Dinah and Montgomery have left town.

"There is no dramatic reason for the decision and it was made without rancor," the terse announcement read. But Dinah confided to a friend:

Syrup-Making

WINNSBORO (Special) — The fall weather has correspondent Otis Hassell of Winnsboro thinking of syrup and hot biscuits. He writes:

"A lot of people still remember when, in bygone days it was 'syrup-making time in the country.'

"It hasn't been too many years since most every farmer had his own milch cow, chickens and hogs, and in every community there was a syrup mill. Then it was not uncommon to sit down on a cold frosty morning to a breakfast of hot biscuits, fresh pork sausage or a slab of cured ham from the smoke house, home churned butter and plenty of thick home made syrup.

"Also, if the children got hungry between meals they could get one of those large biscuits, punch a doodle hole in it with their finger and fill the hole with that good thick syrup. But, with progress, times have changed with most syrup and other food products being grown and processed on a commercial basis. Most of our food now comes from the super market.

"Jesse P. McGee Sr., 66-year-old retired carpenter, who lives on his 66 acre farm two miles north of Fort Necessity, Winnsboro, route 2, remembered and decided to do something about it.

"He has his own milch cow, hogs and chickens and this year, is making syrup. He said that the last time he had made syrup was in 1915 when he helped at his fathers mill in the hills near Grayson.

"To get the project started, McGee bought 700 stalks of Georgia Sugar Cane from Robert Horten, Ward five, Ouachita parish, last year and grew enough cane to have 40 gallons of syrup made besides leaving enough for seed this year. During the year he has constructed his own mill complete with tractor driven cane grinder.

"He has the fire wood ready, enough sugar cane cut and stacked to make 150 gallons of syrup — and syrup - making is underway."

Group Plans Baton Rouge Racial Tests

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Congress on Racial Equality Saturday prepared to attack racial discrimination here after the local unit seated at Southern University cracked segregation bars at a McComb, Miss., bus terminal.

David Dennis, 21, Shreveport, field representative for CORE in Louisiana, said the new tests would come in the near future.

Six Louisiana Negroes, singing "Freedom Rider" songs, traveled by bus Friday to the tense southern Mississippi town and used terminal facilities previously reserved to whites. Angry crowds beat four newsmen, but the Negroes were unharmed.

The McComb government sought an injunction against CORE to stop an influx of the so-called nonviolent Freedom Riders in an explosive situation.

Dennis, who said he was no relation of a former New Orleans labor leader of the same name, said he could not yet give the time or place of planned tests.

He said also the Baton Rouge group of CORE, numbering 60-65 members, mostly of Southern University for Negroes here, may go on rides to see if other Louisiana towns and cities have complied with an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling against bus terminal segregation.

He didn't exclude the possibility that more rides would be taken in Mississippi, but said there wasn't much the group could say about them now.

Dennis said the Baton Rouge group planned "to take action against discriminatory practices in the city of Baton Rouge in the near future."

He cited as examples discrimination in employment, at 5-10 cent stores, at bus terminals "and things of that nature."

Dennis, former student of Dillard University at New Orleans, said he used his home at Shreveport as his headquarters but was operating out of Baton Rouge temporarily.

Ronnie Moore, president of the CORE unit here, a student at Southern University, said he was gratified there were no injuries to the six who went to McComb from here and Southern University at New Orleans.

"Justice is coming," he said.

The six returned to Louisiana Friday night.

Wife Slayer Convicted, Posts Appeal Bond

BUTLER, Ala. (UPI) — John Lewis McPhearson, facing a 20-year sentence for the 1959 slaying of his wife, posted $15,000 appeal bond Saturday and walked out of jail free for the first time in nearly three years.

McPhearson, a 39-year-old one-time Choctaw County politician power, was convicted of second degree murder Friday and sentenced to 20 years in prison in the slaying of Mrs. Irma Lee McPhearson, 28.

However, defense attorney Roderick Beddow of Birmingham immediately filed an appeal and Circuit Judge William G. Lindsey set bond of $15,000.

Beddow, in announcing the appeal, said he would "try to get the defendant exonerated if we get another trial."

Circuit Solicitor Wyman Gilmore said after the trial, "I had expected considerably more than 20 years, but naturally, I will abide by the decision of the jury."

Louisiana Pelicans Reach Greek Isle

MYCONOS ISLAND ,Greece (AP)—Peter and Omega—a pair of pelicans—Saturday received the felicitations of islanders here.

Omega and another pelican, Alphonse, were flown here from Louisiana in hopes that one or the other would mate with Peter, the only pelican in this resort island.

Louisiana wild life agents, who captured the pelicans, were uncertain of their sexes.

A Texas mining company (Mycobar), with operations here, and the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission carried out the lonely-hearts adventure.

But, said an islander as he raised his glass of wine to the happiness of the newly - weds, "that still leaves one lonely pelican—Alphonse."

Anyway, the islanders were happy. The celebration lasted until 3 a.m.

French Charge Shocking Act By Egyptians

WASHINGTON (AP) — France told the United States Saturday the Egyptian government's treatment of a French mission in Cairo is a "shocking" violation of the rules of civilized relations among nations.

French Ambassador Herve Alphand presented this view to Secretary of State Dean Rusk in an unusual 30-minute conference at the State Department.

Afterward he told reporters: "I cannot answer what the French government will do. We are thinking of all sorts of possibilities to protect the rights of our citizens."

The Egyptian government Nov. 26 arrested nine Frenchmen, accusing them of operating a spy and subversion network and seeking the assassination of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The nine were members of two groups: a small commercial mission sent into Egypt in 1958 to seek restitution or compensation for French property seized in the 1956 French and English invasion of Suez, and a cultural group permitted to enter to reopen schools staffed by French nationals. France has no diplomatic relations with Egypt.

The 1958 agreement, Alphand said, provided diplomatic immunity.

Catahoula Wells Account For Half Of Oil Activity

Producing areas in Catahoula Parish accounted for half of last week's completions in the Monroe Oil and Gas District with a total of three wells finalled—one of them a wildcat venture and the others spotted in the Patton Church and Saline Lake Fields. Wells were also brought in or placed in production in Tensas and Union Parishes.

A weekly report, released through the office of District Manager Duncan S. Cook, showed no completions in Ouachita Parish. A new location, however, was staked in the Monroe Gas Field here. It was one of a total of 14 new sites marked off throughout the 14 parish district. Union Parish accounted for six of them —four of them in that sector of the Monroe Gas Field and two of them wildcats.

Overall, a total of 26 rigs were listed by Cook as actively drilling or testing in the area at week's end. Ten holes were plugged and abandoned and inactive sites now number 94.

A single re-completion was recorded, that being Humble Oil's Orrin James No. 1 in the Concordia Parish Fairview Field. Locations in the district total 63.

Here is a closer look at the completions, new locations and active rigs, showing driller, site name and special bits of information, and arranged by the pairsh and field:

SMA Names New Regional Director

WASHINGTON (AP) — The appointment of Robert E. West, a Honey Grove, Tex., businessman, as director of the Small Business Administration's Dallas, Tex., regional office was announced today.

The office serves small business in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Secretary Group Considering 2 New Projects

The Ouachita Chapter of the National Secretaries Association is considering participation in two educational projects — one a 'flying liberal arts European seminar' and the other an 'in - service training program on secretarial techniques'.

The European seminar is open to 80 secretaries, including non-members of NSA.

"This unique seminar," say officials, "is designed for secretaries who want to broaden their horizons in the realm of art, music, literature, drama and to learn firsthand more about the cultures of Italy, France and England."

It will be held from March 15 to 31.

The "Secretarial Techniques" in - service training program is intended for use in business and industry.

The manual consists of 15 sections. The program has been designed so that an individual company may use those units needed for its own program.

Techniques included cover those needed by the master typist, shorthand writer, machine transcriber and letter writer. Instruction is given on telephone techniques, organization of work and work space, quality of duplicating, use of postal and shipping services, information on how to find and record information, display staistical information, record meetings and make travel arrangements.

Mrs. Toby Smith, publicity chairman for the parish chapter, said that companies may receive complete informaion on the program by writing to the Educational Director of the National Secretaries Association, Dr. Fred S. Cook, c-o Wayne State University, Detroit, Mich.

Contracts Let For Shelters

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Army engineers have awarded contracts for the first fallout shelters in Mississippi, it was revealed Saturday.

The contracts cover survey work in 30 counties to locate buildings, caves, mines and other enclosures which may serve as shelters.

Firms getting the contracts were Kuykendall and Proffer of Laurel, and Biggs, Weir and Chandler of Jackson.

Car-Train Crash Fatal For Father

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP—Charles T. Irey, 34, New Iberia, father of nine children, was killed when his car collided with a Southern Pacific freight train in a dense fog early Saturday morning.

The crash occurred at a crossing east of here. Irey was thrown from the car and the train passed over him.

Organization Make Man's Life Easier

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some people, said the gray-haired man as he reached out to answer another telephone call, have it easy. They have a monopoly, he said.

He took the call. "New high!" He said with a broad smile. The phone buzzed again. "Finest boy you ever saw, I'm telling you. You ought to hire him," and he finished that one.

"If you handle all these calls," he was asked, "doesn't that mean you run everything from here? You keep an eye on everything that's going on? Supposing there's a scrap between a couple of designers and —"

"Got a wonderful organization," answered the busy man, David Schwartz, chairman of the board and president of Jonathan Logan, Inc. "Sure, I can take a vacation. Leave it all here. Got the best people I can get."

He charged through a doorway into the big, brightly lighted adjacent room 26 floors above the streets of the garment district and minutes later he had a two-piece, junior-size suit off the nearest rack, shaking it at two salesmen. They hovered near the end of a row of buyers' booths, empty at the moment.

"Why is it still on the rack?" he demanded. "I want to know about these things."

Someplace between the quiet of his own office, his attention to charities, the constant movement of the designing room and some conferences with some obviously astute financial advisers, Schwartz has directed the building of a corporation whose sales ($39,800,000 in 1960) put it among the world's largest manufacturers of women's apparel. Total annual volume of apparel sales in the United States is estimated at perhaps $12 billion.

To reach this point, Schwartz has taken advantage of all possible techniques of sales direction, advertising, sales and market research.

For example: His firm has for years aimed at the junior market. This is not a "junior" by the age of the prospective lady shopper; it's a size. The sales research shows that there is an always-ready market in the smaller, slimmer, short-waisted figure. The firm estimates about 90 per cent of its sales go to the older teen-agers and to women just past 20 (in age). And that the group 16 to 24 in age is a 21-million person market.

But more importantly, Schwartz has gone thoroughly into production. At the Butte Knitting Mills in Spartanburg, S.C. Jonathan Logan has what it hails as the first textile operation of its kind in the nation and the first large - scale production setup for double - knit jersey garments on this side on the Atlantic.

Wool tops come into the operation; finished dresses go out. They are spun, dyed, knitted, cut and sewed.

Cotton Futures Suffer Mostly Bad During Week

NEW YORK (AP)—There was little good news this week for dealers in cotton futures as prices in the near deliveries slipped as much as $1.55 a bale. Distant deliveries held steady.

The market had been off the week before also, when losses of as much as $2.15 a bale offset some gains of 60 cents a bale.

The week began with all deliveries firm, but liquidation of the spot market and a moderate amount of hedge selling dropped prices of early deliveries.

As prices eased, stop-loss orders were uncovered and the decline steepened. Holding the distant deliveries steady were reports that 1962 price supports will continue to be affected by a loan program.

There was some talk by observers, however, that the level of support next season may be from one cent to two cents a pound lower than it is this season.

The department of agriculture reported late in the week that the upland cotton parity prices for December remained unchanged at 38.83 cents a pound.

By February, when the Agriculture Deparment is expected to announce its 1962 minimum loan rate, parity may be up to 39.11 cents, observers predicted. However, there is no indication of how close to parity the department will place the support price

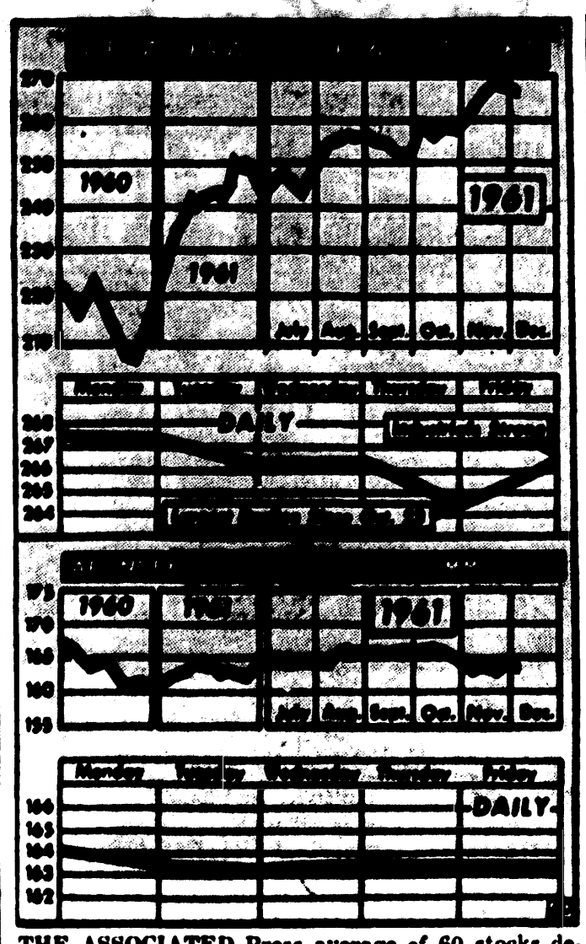
Exports by this country during the week ended Tuesday were 101,000 bales, compared with 50,000 in the week previous and 128,000 in the corresponding 1960 week.

Exports for the season rose to 1,665,000 bales, compared with 1,427,000 at this stage last year.

Shell Continues Newspaper Ads

Shell Oil Company, which in 1961 has concentrated the bulk of its $15,000,000 consumer advertising budget in daily newspapers, will continue to be a heavy advertiser in newspapers next year, the company has informed the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Shell's plans, the bureau said, indicate the company will be again in 1962 the biggest user of newspaper advertising in the petroleum industry.



THE ASSOCIATED Press average of 60 stocks declined for the second week in a row, closing today at 266.3 from 267.4 a week ago. Food and livestock components led the commodity index decline, which dropped to 163.3 from 164.0 during the week. (AP Wirephoto)

Solvents Board Sets Divident 20 Cents Share

The board of directors of Commercial Solvents Corporation has declared a fourth quarter regular dividend of 20 cents per share. This is an increase of five cents per share over the preceding dividend payment. The board also voted a one per cent stock dividend on the company's outstanding shares.

The two dividends will be paid on Dec. 29 to stockholders of record at the close of business on Dec. 6. Maynard C. Wheeler, president of Commercial Solvents, said that full information regarding the stock dividend is being mailed to stockholders.

The increase in the fourth quarter dividend raises Commercial Solvents' total 1961 cash dividend to 65 cents per share, a 30 per cent increaae over the dividend of 50 cents paid in 1960.

Commercial Solvents Corporation makes and markets a wide range of industrial chemicals including methanol, the nitroparaffins, and their derivatives: agricultural chemicals including nitrogen fertilizers; animal nutrition products including vitamin and antibiotic feed supplements; potable spirits, and antibiotics for pharmaceutical use. Second Test In Covington Field Slated

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A second test well in the New Orleans oil field of Covington County is scheduled to get underway immediately.

Pan American Petroleum Corp. is rigging up at its Windham No. 2 in section 25-8n-15w, an effort scheduled to go down to 14,500 feet. It is a southeast diagonal offset to the Pan American Discovery, the Windham No. 1, in the same section.

The discovery well was completed as a dual producer from both the Mooringsport and Rodessa sands.

In Adams County, Griffin and Keary have completed their U.S.A. No. B-1, sec. 52-5n-1w, as a Sparta oil sand producer. The well flowed 67 barrels of 30 gravity oil per day from 3,989-99 feet. It is located ½ mile north of the abandoned Pellucid Bayou field.

Argo Oil Corp. is preparing to run production tests at its Krauss unit No. 1, sec. 16-8n-11w, with indications that it will extend the recently discovered Cannonsburg field of Jefferson County about two miles north. Operators will test a gas sand at 9,981 feet and an oil zone at 10,116 feet.

Operators have set 5½ inch production casing at 10,150 feet.

Pan American Petroleum Corp. has completed its Newman No. 1, sec. 27-3n-5e, a north outpost well in the east fork field of Amite County. The well flowed 306 barrels of oil daily from 11,172-11,176 feet .

In Lamar County, Texaco is reported to be continuing to test its Davis No. 1 wilcat in sec. 2-5n-16w, located two miles northwest of Sumrall. The well was drilled to 16,018 feet with operators releasing no information. It is reported that production casing was set below 13,000 feet.

Cities Service Petroleum has officially completed its Smith County wildcat, the Hough No. 1 in sec. 6-10n-16w, as a dual producer. It flowed 257 barrels of 44 gravity oil daily from 13,780-92 feet and 2,345,000 cubic feet of gas daily from 13,118-47 feet. It is located a mile southeast of the producing limits of the Magee field, with the venture running considerably lower on structure than the producing wells in the field.

Field drilling during the past week saw two new oilers and one gas condensate well completed.

At Reedy Creek in Jones County, the California Co. completed its Bemis 2-1, sec. 9-9n-11w, flowing 98 barrels of oil daily from 11,219-53 feet. Operators will dually complete the well from a second sand at 11,052-80 feet.

In the Mallalieu field of Lincoln County, Humble Oil completed its Nora Sartin No. 6, sec. 17-6n-8e, pumping 23 barrels of oil per day from a sand at 10,384 feet.

At Maxie in Forrest County, Humble completed its Maxie gas unit No. SW-6111, sec. 13-1n-13w, flowing 986,000 cubic feet of gas daily and 2 barrels of condensate from a sand at 4,466-70 feet.

Two Ancient Economic Issues Return

Silver, Tariffs Enter Picture With JFK Action

NEW YORK (AP)—Two ancient economic issues—silver and tariff—popped back into full-blooded life during the week.

And he was reported preparing to ask Congress for authority to negotiate tariff cuts up to 50 per cent on whole categories of products.

Government sales of silver not needed for currency backing have held the price of silver at 91.5 cents an ounce by law since 1946.

The effect of the presidential order was to create an open market for silver. In New York, a dealer immediately quoted a price just above $1 an ounce. In London, the price moved above 98 cents an ounce, the highest in 20 years.

Stocks of silver producers spurted on the exchanges.

Industrial consumers of silver adopted an attitude of wait-and-see how the market pans out. It seemed likely that buyers of jewelry and silverware eventually would be paying higher prices.

Western silver producers generally were pleased by the President's action.

But some producers expressed reservation about repeal of the silver purchase laws which have held the silver price at 91.5 cents.

The tariff proposal is expected to be submitted to Congress in January and is considered likely to run into considerable opposition.

Under the anticipated program, the President could slash tariffs in half in a single year. The existing Reciprocal Trade Act permits reductions of five per cent annually for four years.

The President's intention, it was said unofficially, would be to keep the door open for American exports to Europe and to ease trade throughout the free world at the price of admitting more imports to the United States.

Kennedy said at his news conference that he wants authority to negotiate with the European Common Market. His desire, he said, is to protect American industry and to open the Common Market for trade with this country. But he emphasized that there is no intention that the United Sates join the ECM.

Meanwhile, the Christmas buying season got off to a rollicking start. Reports indicated that shoppers were out in droves and buying more heavily than at this stage last year.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, pointing to broad business improvement and record personal income, predicted that retail sales in December will be four or five per cent above the $17.9 billion rung up last December.

The Labor Department reported that prices paid by consumers edged to a new high in October. Its cost of living index rose to 128.4 per cent of the 1947-49 average from 128.3 per cent in September.

Much of the advance was attributed to higher prices charged by dealers for 1962 model automobiles.

However, the higher prices failed to discourage car buyers. New car sales for the middle 10 days of November, averaging 23,093 a day, were the highest ever for the period.

Passenger car production during the week, estimated at 164,000, was the highest in nearly two years. Output for November was estimated at 650,000, best monthly record since March 1960. Truck production, too, is booming with about 300,000 scheduled to be assembled in the fourth quarter. The one millionth truck of the year rolled off the assembly lines durin the week.

The Justice Department filed an antitrust suit against Ford Motor Co., charging its acquisition of the Autolite segment of the business of Electric Autolite Co. for $28 million may lessen competition in the auto parts field.

Philco Corp. stockholders approved sale of the company to Ford for about $100 million in Ford stock.

Steel production slipped to the lowest level in two months during the week, when 2,032,000 tons were turned out, compared with 2,037,000 the previous week.

Industry leaders predicted a sharp increase in December and January from the present rate of about 70 per cent of capacity.

Briefly around the business scene: A government contract expected to amount to $1 billion or $2 billion over the next five years was due to be awarded to North American Aviation for designing and building the Apollo spacecraft. . . . American Can Co. and National Can Co. raised prices of metal containers an average of just under two per cent. . . . The electronic component and equipment industry expects factory sales to increase to $10.1 billion this year from $9.7 billion last year.

ONE MAN MISSLEAD

LONDON (AP) — The British Aircraft Corp. has announced British soldiers are being equipped with one-man missiles that can destroy a tank at ranges of 200 yards to a mile. It says 30 other Western nations are interested.

MRS. MILDRED SWIFT became widely known as a source of information on home economics during her years in Agricultural Extension work. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

Retires From Extension

Advisor To Many

Weather extremes, bad roads, and communication problems through the years failed to deter Mrs. Mildred Swift in her work of conveying the latest information on home economics to homemakers around the area.

When boggy roads defied travel by car, the Louisiana Agricultural Extension Service home demonstration specialist sometimes plodded through mud to reach her destination. On occasions she went part of the way by boat.

In more recent times, in addition to personal visits to local homes, she relayed the latest in homemaking and marketing trends through media of newspaper, radio and television.

IN RETIREMENT

Her long career in this vital field of endeavor came more sharply into focus last Friday when she retired from the Agricultural Extension Service after 16 years in various assignments, ranging from associate home demonstration agent for general work, to that of providing marketing information for consumers.

It marked another milestone in a career that has extended over 33 years in the field of home economics, starting as a school teacher, and later becoming a supervisor with the U. S. Department of Agriculture branch now known as the Farmers Home Loan administration.

Her weekly column, "The Home Shift," a feature of the Sunday World for 11 years, and her midweek column, "Spotlight on Foods," in the News-Star and World for the past six years, have had a large following of readers.

She has had a daily program on radio station KNOE for 16 years, with only one interruption, the day she was too sick to appear and didn't have a spare program recorded. Mrs. Swift also has been hostess on the "Open House" program over KNOE-TV for about eight years. She has a spot on the television program, "Good Morning Ark-La-Miss," daily.

MANY PROGRAMS

During her career with Extension and the previous assignment with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, she appeared at one time or another on programs on every radio station in the Twin Cities.

Response to her columns and programs has been heavy. During the past year she received 3,102 phone calls for information on homemaking, gardening, clothing, landscaping, and related subjects. In addition to this there were many letters.

"That is the way it has been for many years," Mrs. Swift said.

An idea of her impact upon the area was summed up by West Monroe Mayor J. Allan Norris, who said that through her use of mass communication media, "It is doubtful that there are very many homes in the area that have not been touched by her work."

INFORMATION SOURCE

She became a prime source of information for persons with homemaking problems. Those who followed her columns and programs called on her for advice, and others were directed to her.

Late one night, a distraught young father who had encountered a vexing problem while baby sitting, phoned to ask:

"How in the ---- can you tell when you have the temperature of the baby's bottle right?"

She told him that instead of tasting the milk, he should test it against his wrist to gauge whether or not it was too hot for the baby.

On another occasion the phone rang in the wee hours of morning. A woman who said she had just arrived by train in Monroe, asked where she could get some diapers for her baby, since her limited supply was soiled.

"That was before the days of disposable diapers," said Mrs. Swift. "The station attendant had suggested that she call me. I told her to get some towels from the hotel where she was going to spend the night and use them as diapers until the stores opened in the morning."

TEACHING

Mrs. Swift's first love was teaching, and it still is. In Extension work, which is sponsored by Louisiana State University, the classroom is extended into all the homes where people want it.

Her work in Extension has kept trend with the changing times. When she started with it, canning of foods was the major way of preserving them, but the trend to use of home freezers was underway. Now the freezer is the prime way of preserving foods.

In her first nine years with Extension, she was an associate agent in general home demonstration work, consulting on such matters as gardening, nutrition, clothing, and food preservation. She started off just in city work, but after that because the other agent was working with Home Demonstration Clubs, it continued to follow that pattern, she said.

To keep more in trend with the needs of the homemakers, she was shifted to home demonstration agent assignment in marketing information for consumers. That was seven years ago.

She is a graduate of Louisiana Tech at Ruston, the town where she was born. She later did graduate work at the University of Arkansas and at Louisiana State University.

INDICATION

An indication of the mark she has made on the community is shown in the fact that she is listed along with other leaders in the 1958-59 and 1960-61 editions of "Who's Who in American Women."

She gained her background in teaching in schools in north and central Louisiana, where she taught home economics. She also taught two years at Ouachita Parish High School around 1943-45. It was during her service as district supervisor with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in farmers home loan work, an assignment which lasted six years, that she did her first radio broadcasts.

"That was in the days when you had to show up at the station and make the broadcasts live," she said. "You couldn't tape it or record it like you can now."

She stressed punctuality in her work. And her career demonstrates it. She had a daily radio broadcast at 6:30 a.m. It was made at the transmitter-studio site located in the south end of town, two or three blocks away from improved roads.

One gloomy morning when roads were boggy with snow sludge and rain, she drove to within about two blocks of the station and her car became bogged. Mrs. Swift, her feet girded with galoshes, trudged toward the station. A few yards short of the sanctuary of the building, however, her galoshes became stuck in the mud. She continued the rest of the way with only stockings to shield her feet from the elements.

"By the time I got to the door," said Mrs. Swift, "I had a large ball of mud on each foot. The announcer looked at me like I was crazy, and said he didn't expect me to show up on a day like that. But I told him I had a program to do and I was there to do it."

EXACTING

The early days of radio were exacting on the homemaking specialist in other ways. Since programs could not be recorded in advance, she said she couldn't leave town during her vacation from Extension work. She had to be able to show up for the mid-day broadcast.

"Extension communications were in the pioneer stage when I started with the U. S. Department of Agriculture," said Mrs. Swift. "The radio announcer sat on a box in the booth. After introducing me, he would move and I would sit on the box to do my broadcast."

In that early broadcast era she gave advice on farm home loans and general homemaking hints.

"Back in those days I have driven down to the river, gone across in a boat and then walked a mile or more to work out a loan or give a demonstration in use of a sealer and cooker," she said.

BIG RAIN

"On another occasion, a young man in the department drove up to Wall Lake with me. A big rain came and the car bogged down in the swamp. An old snake crawled up on the hood of the car and every time I'd move he'd lick out his tongue at me. He stayed there for more than an hour."

Because of the deluge of water the two had to stay in the car until after nightfall, about three or four hours, before help came.

Mrs. Swift said, "When my husband came home he called the secretary at the office to find out where I was. She told him where I had gone, and he came to look for me. He had to get someone on the highway to bring some mules to pull the car out."

Of her work during that period she said, "We could get loans to small farmers who couldn't get bank loans and wanted more than feed and seed loans. These were family loans. I would go out and show the women how to use the cooker and sealer they got with some of the loan. Those were hard times of the depression days of 1936 to 1940, and we were trying to help the farmers get on their feet."

BOOST

Canning was the important means of food preservation at that time, and helping promote that was a boost to home economy.

Referring to the freezer preservation methods, Mrs. Swift said, "If you had a freezer then you were on gold row. A locker plant had just started."

From those times the emphasis on farm and home economy changed. Production was up and surpluses were a growing problem. She explained:

"The Agriculture Department told us, 'The farmer has been taught to grow two blades of grass where one was grown before. Now we need to help him use it and sell it.'

"The marketing program of Extension was intended to help move foods when they were in heavy supply. It has helped the producer and the consumer. The food store operators often said that after I had used a particular food suggestion on my program they knew about it because of the consumer response.

"Extension has always tried to keep in trend with the times. It keeps you working and you can't ever stop. Our specialists at Louisiana State University help us keep you informed. One day you think you know everything about homemaking, and tomorrow there is somethnig else to know."

Mr. and Mrs. Swift, who reside at 115 Pecan Grove, are grandparents. Their daughter and two grandchildren live in Baton Rouge.

What will retirement from Extension Service bring for Mrs. Swift? She will continue her daily television programs on homemaking, and hopes to have a little more time to spend around the house and on visits with her daughter and grandchildren. But there are no plans for idleness in the foreseeable future.

Monroyan Remembers

Years Of High Flying

By JIM COTTON
Staff Writer

The thrill of the circus can never be forgotten.

Under the canvas of the "big top" is like another world, one of adventure and excitement. To the spectator a thing of beauty. To the amateur performer it is a challenge.

To Harold J. Cassanova, once a professional aerialist and now a restaurant owner in Monroe, it is a vacation, a holiday in the world of wonder where daring, hard work and precision timing is all part of the game.

For Cassanova it is always "Circus Day" for he relives the circus each day in his mind and heart.

SPECTACULAR

Cassanova worked for 12 consecutive years in the most spectacular field of the entertainment business. The field of aerial acrobatics on the flying trapeze. He spent his summers with circuses and in vaudeville in the winters.

The aerialist is considered an aristocrat of the circus. Because of his audacious and daredevil stunts he is the drawing card of the show. This gives the acrobat the feature spot of the circus which is the center ring and the honor of performing alone.

In the years Cassanova traveled with different circuses, he journeyed through the United States, Canada, Cuba, Australia, and South America.

When asked about some of his adventures with the circus his grin confirmed the fact that they were numerous.

FOR ROYALTY

He related the time his troupe performed for the Prince of Wales in Ontario, Canada, on the Prince's birthday. But, he then quickly put it aside by saying, "When you play before a crowd of thousands, you never know who is in the stands."

He told of performing at Key West, Florida on the very tip of the coast. This he explained was the farthest south any circus had set up in the United States. "At night when the tide came in the waves would wash up even with the bottom of our tent," he said.

He added that when the troupe went to Mitchell, South Dakota, the Corn Palace, in which the circus was scheduled to perform, was not tall enough to allow the 40 foot trapeze rig to be erected, Therefore the rig had to be set up next to the building in the street and no admission could be charged to see the performance.

As he tells of the circus life and the people who make up this adventurous world it seems like a fairy tale come to life. Although daily work is required to master an act, he describes the life as one filled with fun and happiness.

AMBITION

Many young boys yearn to join the circus, but few of them have their wishes fulfilled. For Cassanova it was almost natural to join the circus, for he practically grew up in athletics.

He joined the Young Men's Gymnastic Club, now the New Orleans Athletic Association, when he was around 12 years old and for the next five years participated in swimming, boxing, wrestling, track and tumbling.

It was with this club and under the direction of Claude "Monk" Simon Sr., instructor of the club, that he received the basic foundation for his career in the circus. After becoming experienced in the art of tumbling he joined with other boys in performing at the Spanish Fort, now Lake Ponchartrain Beach, under the name of the Sons of the Sawdust Circle Circus. It rapidly grew to be known as America's foremost amateur circus.

Also, during this five year period he became the assistant instructor at the Young Men's Gymnastic Club and was noted as one of the south's greatest tumblers. This was soon a proven fact when he won the senior tumbling event in the Southern Amateur Athletic Union. Only an opportunity was needed for him to join the ranks of the professionals.

GOT BREAK

He soon got the break that was needed when he was approached by Harry La Van, owner, manager and member of the Six Flying La Vans.

The La Van troupe produced one of the best shows of any trapeze group in the business. They worked the best circuses in the country and were given top billing. When they played in a circus they merited the privilege of working alone in the center ring. The only trouble was that when they arrived in New Orleans to perform at the Spanish Fort the troupe was one man short. Cassanova was to be that man.

Cassanova relates the story of La Van, who had a huge handlebar mustache, watching him workout and then asking him to play the scheduled two week show with the La Van troupe. He was offered $50 a week which was big money to a 17-year-old boy still in school in the year of 1920. He went out and practiced two days, worked the full two weeks and as he put it, "When the troupe packed and left town I left with them."

MANY ASSIGNMENTS

The La Van troupe with which he started as a professional was only one of the many which he was a member of in his dozen years in the business, but it was probably the best known. The troupe was composed of five men and one woman, the wife of Harry La Van. These six performers combined to make what was said to be one of the most daring and highest trapeze acts in the world. The troupe was referred to as the "World's Most Marvelous Aerialists." Cassanova quickly became known as one of the most daring members.

After leaving the Flying La Vans he joined the Flying Wards who were producers of the largest flying act ever to be in the air all at once, Cassonova said. The act consisted of 12 leapers and six catchers while the custom of the time was to have only three to five. Cassanova served as both.

He said the audience was under the impression that the leaper was the whole show and explained that the catcher was hardly given the credit he deserved. "Once an aerialist leaves the trapeze and starts his leap," he said, "Everything is in the hands of the catcher."

Cassanova played with many different groups, but finally joined with two friends to form their own troupe and be their own boss. They traveled around the country changing their troupe's name when they arrived in different towns, but the one that stuck was the Flying Franklins.

FASTEST

This group, while traveling with the Bob Morton Circus had the fastest flying act ever performed, Cassanova said. Their act, which was the featured performance, was made up of 15 tricks which they executed in nine minutes. During the last act, the featured act, the crowds would hurry toward the gate trying to be the first out and beat the rush. Therefore a fast performance would keep them so entranced that they were bound to their seats. This was important because if anyone jostled against the trapeze props the supports could snap and cause a serious injury for the flyer, Cassanova explained.

In all his years of work on the trapeze he suffered only one injury and it consisted of only a few stitches in the forehead. The incident occurred in the Chicago Coliseum when he missed his catch and landed in the stands. In telling of the mishap he said he went past the net, over the first balcony and into the second balcony. Here he grinned and quipped, "The people were very nice, they all moved and let me have their seats."

IN BUSINESS

In 1932 his father offered to set him up in business if he would quit the circus and return home to New Orleans. At the time he could hardly refuse since he had a baby daughter.

Then a few years after retirement from the circus he came to Monroe to visit relatives and stayed.

Even as he approaches his 60th birthday he still finds time for sports. For the last few years he has been traveling with the Neville High School football team and shooting movies of all the games. One would hardly guess that he had once been a performer on the flying trapeze. Only if he was seen diving at the swimming pool or swimming the length under water would his athletic abilities be betrayed.

When asked what advantages the circus provides he told of working in a circus for over a year with people from Europe that spoke a different language and he could communicate with them only by tipping a hat or waving a hand, but that was all that was needed. There was an understanding that went deeper than speech. "If I had a son," he said, "I would like for him to spend a year or two with the circus." He explained that it provides a storehouse of knowledge through travel and from the meeting of so many different people.

"To me," he said, "the circus was a 12-year vacation."

Freedom Forums Set

The Monroe Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated for its sincere and energetic activities in behalf of fundamental Americanism.

After conducting 84 freedom forums for adult audiences, the chamber will kick off a televised series December 4, entitled "The American Adventure series," in conjunction with the teachers and students of the parish, city and parochial schools of Ouachita parish.

The chamber's 13-week series will incorporate films which won the coveted "Freedom Foundation award" on themes of Americanism. The programs will also include discussion panels in which prominent Twin City civic leaders will discuss program topics. The series will appear on Monday evenings over KNOE-TV.

Already the project has attracted nation-wide attention and currently is receiving considerable space in "TV Guide" magazine, where the full program series is described.

It is noteworthy to recognize the teamwork between Monroe civic leaders and educators on a theme of Americanism. At a time when the world atmosphere is clouded with propaganda, deceit and atomic fallout our youngsters need a healthy approach to the fundamentals that have made America great!

The purpose of the American Adventure series is to afford students and their families an opportunity to view this entire series in the atmosphere of their homes and to discuss the themes of the programs.

In turn, on the following day at school teachers will discuss the subject matter with students in special class room periods, which will afford an extension of thought and deliberation on the subject matter covered in the programs each week.

The American Adventure series aims at creating a better understanding of the American Way of Life. Beginning at Plymouth Colony it portrays how a "communal" type of government (where everything was shared) originated in America long before Karl Marx conceived Communism. Significantly, the failure of the earliest "share-the-wealth" plan is so vividly portrayed that even a youngster in the first grade will be able to accurately describe the turn of events.

Teachers in all of the schools will receive an advance instructor's guide sheet each week prior to the chamber's television program, in order that 13 separate discussion periods can be held on the pertinent themes of the American Adventure Series.

New insights into private enterprise, socialism, profits, the distribution of wealth and communism are offered in the programs; and the simplicity with which these subjects are handled makes it both educational and enjoyable for all age groups.

The Monroe Chamber is to be commended for its vigorous energy in coordinating such a far-reaching program, calculated to make our younger generations of citizens more appreciative of their rich American heritage.

Phone Change Protested

Monroe, La.

To the Editor:

It has come to our attention that the Southern Bell Telephone Company is trying to put over a "plan" to put Bastrop on this exchange and then jack up the rates on all business phones in Monroe and West Monroe $1.50 plus 10 per cent tax on each phone in every business establishment and 40 cents plus tax on resident phones. All of this so that a very few business houses will be able to call Bastrop for free.

An example of this. If a store has four phones it will be stuck with an increase of $6.00 plus 60 cents tax per month. We feel that our rates are already too high.

Our Louisiana Public Service Commission has the duty to protect the public from unjust rates and we feel that our very efficient Commissioner, Mr. J. J. McKeithen, should be asked by local people to take a firm official stand in this matter and use the power of his official position to head off this unjust raise in rates.

It is our understanding that there are 41,000 telephones on this exchange and that many people are asked to have their rates jacked up so that a very few business firms can call Bastrop for free. We contend that this is very unfair.

Those who wish to call Bastrop should pay for their own calls.

Taxes Called Unequal

In your recent news coverage of the Louisiana Teachers' convention, you called attention to the fact that teachers were split in their thinking concerning proposed retirement legislation. I would not say your reporting was inaccurate — simply that it was incomplete. The thing you failed to note was how we were split —which was to a large degree men versus women. If you will allow me the space to explain this, I shall be very grateful.

Teachers, as you know, are not covered by Social Security. Naturally, this causes anxiety among the men concerning the welfare of their families in case of death of the father. A proposal has been made to tax all teachers enough to provide survivor benefits. According to the proposal, widows, but only dependent widowers, are eligible for survivor benefits. Few if any women teachers have dependent husbands.

Of course, unmarried teachers have no survivors, but they, too, must pay. Many women passed up marriage during the depression years because it was an economic gamble. Many parishes discharged married women teachers to give employment to heads of families. It it ironic that they should be taxed now to provide security for others.

Divorced or widowed teachers who are supporting minor children would likewise have to share this expense without receiving comparable benefits.

It boils down to the fact that men would acquire great benefits for the money they pay in whereas women acquire next to nothing for the same money they pay in.

We believe wives of deceased men teachers who are qualified should, if need be, work as we are doing. True, there will be those who for various reasons could not possibly go to work. This, then, should become the responsibility of our whole society and not of the female teacher.

Another matter that caused concern is the proposal to raise retirement benefits for those members who earn in excess of $7,500. Since classroom teachers earn less than this amount and since such salaries are not in the foreseeable future, we do not feel justified to vote a tax upon ourselves to pay for these benefits which we have no hope of sharing. Those members who could qualify for a larger retirement pay plus survivor benefits for the widow would be getting a "double dip" at the expense of those who are least able to pay.

We are grateful for Mr. Perry and other men of his caliber who recognize our need and our right to be heard.

Your kind attention is greatly appreciated.

Kennedy And Khrushchev

Mer Rouge, La.

To the Editor:

It is said Mr. Kennedy is wanting an invitation to visit Moscow. In Heavens name! Whaffor" It is hard to understand a man wanting to be invited into the home of an avowed enemy. But Mr. Kennedy is something of an enigma in other ways and manner. In his talk in Los Angeles, he advised his listeners to shun "discordant voices of extremism from those who think the greatest danger is from within."

Just what was his meaning in that cloudy advice? He called for stronger defense against "foreign-based communism." Seemingly, as we judge from his "call," there is nothing to fear from the home-based communism. If memory is still around the old homestead, it is the home-based communism that has engendered all of our trouble. They will continue to eat away the foundation of our National security.

In that Los Angeles speech he told the audience of "heightened peril...dicordant voices of extremism are heard once again in the land." That speech has the complexion of the Populist candidate for President in 1896. Just a lot of talk in saying less than would have been expressed by total silence.

He used the phrase; "Men who are willing to face up to the danger from within." In "face" of his broadside in re "the foreign based communism" that is freighted with a overload of ambiguity, to put it mildly. He went on to say; "They equate the Democratic party with the welfare state, the welfare state with socialism and socialism with communism." Just like that!! If our mental machinery has not deteriorated beyond recall, it was the Democratic party that installed the welfare state and has kept it green for 30 years.

To be sure, if you are not able to equate the things that Mr. Kennedy has in mind, then you will never succeed in equating six and half of a dozen, I and me, we and us.

In so far as the writer can understand his speech, there are faults in everything except little brother, "Bob."

Some one has said language was given to man that he might conceal his real thoughts. In the case of Mr. Kennedy that gift of concealment has been exceptionally successful. Otherwise lie is a paradox that is impossible to see around or through.

What is to be done about it? Go home and kick the cat?

People Digging Holes

Grayson, La.

To the Editor:

There is no need for the people to worry, as Kennedy has promised to take care of us from the cradle to the grave and Khrushchev has promised to bury us.

It won't be hard for Krushchev to bury us, as he has everybody digging his own hole to crawl in and all he has to do is to continue sending up bombs.

What's wrong with us, to allow an atheist to upset the whole world?

I want to thank you for buying my calf and how it helps us for our business friends of Louisiana to take an interest in this 4-H program of work. That was the most money I ever got for a calf and I know it was because a man from my part of the State bought it and was interested in the boys of his vicinity. With men such as you behind our work, I will try to do a better job this coming year.

I like your paper because it carries lots of news of our town, and towns close to us, and people we know.

Thank you again for buying my calf and a Merry, Merry Christmas to you and all your staff.

Lauds Monroe Progress

McComb, Miss.

To the Editor:

Business has carried me to many places, large and small, but there is no place to equal Monroe for the constant progress that is going on. It is the small business minded man who makes a city great by creating new services to satisfy all needs of all customers.

Your new shopping centers brought new business, you have a new auction barn to help many people, a new child's party service, and Monroe Service with its facilities to furnish live music for all occasions will certainly help put another light on Monroe's Street of Progress.

May I use this method to congratulate Monroe on its outstanding desire to progress, serve and expand.

'Berlin Battle Lost'

"We are at war, We are infiltrated. We are losing that war every day. We need a substitute for defeat."

Those words, among others, were spoken by Major General Edwin A. Walker when he resigned from the army and gave up his chances of retirement benefits, amounting to more than $12,000 a year. He left the army he had served so loyally and so long because the national administration denied him the right to speak out against the communist threat to this country. On leaving, he declared he would find other means of serving in the republic "in order to pursue the dedication of a lifetime.

"One of the great conflicts of history, General Walker said, "is that between man and the state. An example of how far we have submitted to the new orientation is that, only a short time ago, a liberal was one who believed in protecting individual liberties from usurpation by the state."

With the "better red than dead" forces gathering strength, with the Fulbrights seeking to muzzle anti-communist military leaders, with apologists from leftism in posts of importance in this country, the people of America are in desperate need of patriotic, conservative voices such as that of General Walker.

While he came into public notice as a result of the Kennedy adminsitration's campaign to silence outspoken anti-communists, General Walker clearly understands the broader issues facing the nation. His statement, issued this month on the invitation of the senate armed services committee, makes clear that he sees the total nature of the threat to our republican institutions of government.

The general spoke the truth. Leftism is not creeping in this country but is traveling at a dangerous rate. We do not face gradual restriction of the American free capitalistic system. We face the danger of its total abolition within a short period of time, unless the people are alerted and act promptly.

Two statements made within the last few days by high - ranking United States senators point up dramatically the dangers from communism which General Walker was warning against.

Senator J. Strom Thurmond, D., S.C., said American military leaders, including general Walker, were muzzled on orders "direct from Moscow."

Senator Barry Goldwater, outstanding Arizona conservative, said the battle of Berlin has already been lost and any further negotiations will mean further concessions to Russia.

A virtual blitzkreig against our bastion of freedom is being attempted by the leftists. They hope to regiment and socialize the American people at home as they weaken United States strength overseas. Clever apologists of defeatism are at work in Washington. The New Frontier is riddled with them and at times we hold our breath consternation when it appears that the highest officials themselves are aiding the campaign.

We need to pay heed to what General Walker brought to light when he said:

"We are in a death struggle now —on the high seas, in the air, on the land, in outer space, and in every local community where the agents of those who hope to conquer the world seek to undermine us."

One has only to think back a few decades to see how this country has changes, how it has gradually ceased to be a free republic and has become a semi-socialist state verging on a leftist - style democracy.

There is no mistaking where the so-called liberals are guiding this country. It is not, as they claim, toward a greater economic or social freedom but is in the direction of a Sovietized "people's republic" in which sovereign states will be abolished, private enterprise will not be tolerated and individual rights will be totally usurped by the master state.

The notch-like southwestern corner of the Arkansas boundary was the subject of disputes inherited from the French rulers of Louisiana and finally settled in 1841.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Rocky's Divorce

Split With Wife May Hurt Governor's Political Fortune

The United States has an astonishing divorce rate but when we find our public men doing as we do, we tear their eyes out. Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York was, up to this week, the leading aspirant for the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1964. Then his wife started action for divorce and the puritanical attitude of our people asserted itself.

Up to the moment of the announced divorce, Rockefeller was regarded as an extraordinarily devout Baptist, the son and grandson of extraordinarily devout Baptists, although actually we know nothing about the private lives of any of these persons or of their families or extremely intimate friends.

It used to be customary in this country for the husband to drive his wife into the biting cold and snow when she sinned. The husband was expected to sin and if he misbehaved too overtly, his wife sued for divorce; it was unmannerly for a man to denounce the morals of his wife. Now, either one asserts moral superiority and turns to the courts to demand righteous treatment. Usually, both are to blame.

The public generally assumes that there are two causes for divorce: adultery and miserliness. Actually, all sorts of abuses occur in a family which lead to its collapse. The word, incompatibility, is often used to cover a multitude of errors.

It is a little hard to understand why a man and woman who have been married 31 years, should want to be divorced. It seems a waste of time. If incompatability is the reason, the intervening period has been too long for any novel misunderstanding. If it is adultery, the likelihood is that no sudden discovery is the motive. In the case of the Rockefellers, it cannot be miserliness or excessive expenditures. There is no advantage in speculation and the conclusion must be reached that there is some miserable pride in all this.

But the public is likely to search for hidden motives and this search, rather than the unavailable truth, will damage Nelson Rockefeller's political career. The divorce comes at a moment when he is to run for his second term for governor and upon this election depends his prospects for the presidency. No divorced man has been elected President of the United States, although there is no law against it. Grover Cleveland was chosen for the presidency despite a generally accepted illicit parenthood on his part.

Woodrow Wilson suffered a mass of rumors of an improper relationship with the wife of a colleague at Princeton. Actually a congressional committee indirectly investigated this matter when Justice Brandeis' confirmation came before the Senate. I have learned who helped Wilson over this tough spot but am pledged to silence which I shall keep, as the matter is of no personal or historic importance.

There were always tales about Franklin D. Roosevelt, most of which sounded impossible and ridiculous. Adlai Stevenson was divorced when he was governor of Illinois and this led to a series of rumors, most of them too vile to repeat. The public jumps at every possibility of moral turpitude, since as a matter of fact, these personal tragedies are not anything that the public knows and they leave a sad memory that lasts through life. Anthony Eden's career was nearly wrecked by a divorce; the Duke of Windsor was forced to give up his crown because he married a divorced woman.

There is considerable unfairness in all this because it is not known which is the guilty party. For instance, Princess Margaret was not permitted to marry Peter Townsend because he was a divorced man, although admittedly innocent.

I have no inside dope on the Rockefeller situation. Cholly Knickerbocker, the society columnist, who is more reliable than most in his trade, has written about it, but he apparently knows no more than any of the rest of us, which is unusual because he has a penchant for uncovering the foibles of others.

The conclusion must be reached from the available information that here are two adults who should kiss and make up. No political adversary of Nelson Rockefeller wants any kind of gain out of this sort of tragedy. Surely Barry Goldwater and Richard Nixon would rather defeat him in the convention than in the bedchamber.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

China And Israel

Both Count Heavily On United Nations For Independence

The Republics of China and Israel, the two Free World nations most dependent upon the UN for their independence are simultaneously under two kinds of Soviet pressure little known to the public.

Nationalist China was gravely injured by the UN admission of Outer Mongolia with the compliance of the USA. The Chinese Ambassador to Washington, George Yeh, has already resigned his post because of a diplomatic disease given in the press as "high blood pressure." Other resignations of Nationalist Chinese ambassadors and cabinet members are reportedly submitted, though not yet announced.

But an unreported pressure — call it the pressure of incredibility — has been brought to bear on the Taipei government. It is similar to a don't - believe - it line which has been most useful to the Communists in discrediting the Chiang Kai - shek regime. This is the assertion that Nationalist China never intends to, and never can, invade Mainland China, but merely keeps talking about it to stay in power. The new pressure of incredibility relates to travelers and refugees from Outer Mongolia.

It was thought that persons fleeing this country would bring evidence of nationalism already being crushed by the usual Communist methods. In fact, it was thought, since Outer Mongolia borders only upon Russia and Red China, that a check - up on disgruntled refugees might become an important news outlet about the rivalry of the two Communist behemoths.

But both borders have been sealed, as this reporter learns from a private letter. Outer Mongolian nationalists are not only being kept home, but those outside the country are being prevented from returning. All this makes it difficult for Nationalist China to continue to make a plausible case against the admission of Outer Mongolia to the UN. It brings the day closer for admission of Red China.

In the Middle East, lost to world attention because of the spotlight on Berlin, Israel is under the Communist thumb screws. Close to 70 MIG 19's have arrived from Russia between January and mid - summer. The Egyptian military magazine "Al Quwat Al Musalaha" ("The Armed Forces"), has recently reported that these fighter aircraft are equipped with air - to - air missiles.

The Israeli embassy tells me that its most advanced fighter is the French Mystrere, equivalent to the MIG 17, and no match for the MIG 19. Israel has ground-to - air missiles, which amount to anti - aircraft artillery. The Israeli forces are without anything so advanced as air - to - air weapons.

The significance here is of a mixed sort. The Isreali military philosophy is that their troops, highly skilled and mobilized, can afford to give a 3 to 1 advantage in numbers to indigenous enemies, as long as the qualitative edge is preserved. But this balance becomes altered when the Russians send more modern weapons to the Middle East area. Israel, a small nation which pays cash for armament, may be forced to dip into internal improvement funds.

This pressure comes at a time when the Arab vs. Israel refugee problem is coming again before the UN, where the new African nations apparently hold a balance of power. The Africans have not been notably friendly to the West, and are not expected to be friendly to the West's one solid supporter in the Middle East.

While it is right and inevitable for Western attention to be focused on Berlin, the danger of inattention to other areas is plain. The Red pressures on the far apart nations of Nationalist China and Israel shows that the Cold War is a total war for which we do not yet have a total strategy.

SHORTS

LEADERSHIP RACE — Present inclination of most Democratic members of Congress is to concede Speakership to Majority Leader John W. McCormack when time comes to choose a successor to Speaker Rayburn. Big battle thus could be over Majority Leader. Kennedy Administration is said to favor Representative Richard Bolling of Missouri, a far out left liberal, but majority of House members seem cool to him. Representative Carl Albert, Oklahoma, may be in best position to advance from Party Whip to Majority Leader, with Representative Hale Boggs, Louisiana, likely choice for Whip. Some members consider Representative Wilbur Mills, Arkansas, best choice for Majority Leader, but think he is handicapped by Southern residence, as are Representatives Carl Elliott and Albert Rains, both of Alabama. Next House Democratic top leadership will be more liberal than under Rayburn whose record has been on the liberal side.

Washington Brights

HARRY AT THE HELM —That retired Missouri farmer — Harry S. Truman — was back in Washington the other day, dropping Trumanisms left and right. He revealed for the first time an anecdote about the successful testing of the A-bomb. Truman called in the late Admiral Leahy, his military adviser, and told him about the bomb. Said Leahy, 'I'm an explosive expert. The damn thing won't go off." Truman was asked about the ex - Presidents club. "Well, Herbert Hoover is the President, I'm the secretary, and the other fellow hasn't been taken in yet," explained Truman. The peppery ex-president had an answer for every question. What would he do to better the Cuban situation? "As a private citizen and a retired Missouri farmer there's not a damn thing I can do." Should military officers be permitted to be outspoken "Generals ought to keep their mouths shut." How about the Russians? "I think we ought to tell the Rusiians where to go — a very hot place — and we ought to be ready to take them there if they don't want to go."

OVERLOOKING NOTHING — According to a prominent Washington psychiatrist, Dr. Drank Caprio, one important problem is being overlooked in all the hubbub over fallout shelters — sex. An expert on human behavior, Dr. Caprio feels shelter builders should consider the increased mating urge that people experience in time of danger, such as would exist when shelters are needed. He says the heightened sexual urge that occurs during times of stress is an expression of the self - preservation instinct. His solution: partitioned shelters. Dr. Caprio also feels it would be a good idea if shelters were used in peacetime as a place where families went to think very quietly about themselves, their country and the common danger of war.

WONDERS OF SPACE — A visitor to one of our space labs can quickly see that nothing is left to chance in the massive effort to fly man into outer space and returned safely to earth. There is a gadget for everything. In the Minneapolis - Honeywell aerospace lab, for instance, there is a spacecraft simulator weighing two tons, yet so delicately balanced it moves visibly under the weight of a fly. It is designed to simulate conditions as close to actual weightless space flight as can be created on earth. Space scientists at Minneapolis - Honeywell also have what they believe is the cleanest room in the world. It is used for final assembly of highly - precise gyroscopes and other sensitive instruments. Before entering the room workers take an air shower to blow off any dust on their clothing. Pencils are not permitted because graphite might get into the air.

MISSING STATUS SYMBOL — Because G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams, assistant secretary of state in charge of African affairs, likes to drive his own small car, he almost failed to gain admittance to a party in his honor last week. Arriving late, he found only long, sleek, chauffeur - driven limousines lined up at the curb in the space reserved for the reception. A scowling policeman told Williams to move on but quickly changed his tune when "Soapy" pleaded, "But I'm the guest of honor, officer." The incident recalled one involving the late Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio. Leaving a diplomatic reception with Mrs. Taft, Taft proceeded to walk toward his car when the doorman barked down a long line of limousines, "Sen. Taft's car." "She's a good old car, but she won't come when she's called," Taft remarked as he escorted Mrs. Taft down the street where his modest sedan was parked.

ON THE JOB — Rep. Barratt O'Hara of Illinois has an enviable record of attendance in the house of Representatives. O'Hara, who is 79, missed only one roll call out of 1,578 during the last nine sessions of Congress. The one miss was in 1958 when O'Hara attended the funeral of a close friend. An equally fine record is that of Rep. Charles Bennett of Florida who has gone for more than 10 years without missing a single roll call. On the Senate side, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine is undisputed champion. She has a perfect attendance at more than 1,000 consecutive roll calls.

New GOP Faces

Many a drama, large and small, has been enacted on the political stage, but the Republicans, either through choice or circumstance have been untouched by the muse in many years. Not since the bull like rush of Wendell Willkie into the arena in 1940 has the GOP seen anything to electrify its partisans. Now they hear rustlings off stage.

The domestic tragedy of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York may quite likely cause his chances for further advancement in governmenal office to fade, slowly but surely. In fact, some Republican commentators are already attempting to breathe life into the idea that Richard M. Nixon will be drafted by the Republican party in 1964, provided that he is elected governor of California next year.

In that eventuality, with Rockefeller's possibility dimmed by his forthcoming divorce, Nixon unquestionably would experience a sort of resurgence. But some shrewd Republicans think perhaps this is the time for drama to begin. They add that if President Kennedy keeps his hold on the American public, their party is going to need some drama to move forward in '64.

There was grumbling talk on the Republican side after the 1960 election that maybe the party would be better off if both Rockefeller and Nixon dropped out of the picture before the next election. This thought was cherished most sincerely by those who saw a new rising star in Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the favorite of the conservatives, with a striking and likeable personality, whom some saw a logical opponent for Kennedy.

Such a consensus of opinion as can now be gathered, however — editorial, party workers and veteran observers — offers scant hope that Goldwater, coming from a small state and conservative in all respects, would attract any general enthusiasm in convention or defeat Kennedy in the election.

That would leave the field wide open. Republicans like to pick their candidate well in advance and their record indicates that he is more likely to be chosen by a small circle than by any large segment of the party.

The Democrats, too, operate though inner organizations, but they differ from the Republicans in at least one respect they trot out more candidates for national inspection and prepare them for battle, as in 1960. Such was the case in 1932 when the Democratic field of candidates started as one of the largest in U. S. political history, with Franklin D. Roosevelt finally wearing them down.

So the Republicans are expected to be looking around for fresh faces, regardless of whether their wearers are labeled liberal, conservative or middle of the road. what many of their more discerning spokesmen hope for is a man "with Willkie's drama, only more so." They realize that Dwight D. Eisenhower, while still an object of political admiration, has little influence with the mass of voters and so will not be in a position to put forward any favorite candidate, which he wouldn't be inclined to do in any case.

And that reasoning seems to leave the field pretty wide open, ready for somebody to make a dramatic entrance. Perhaps the Republicans will suffer, for a while at least, from that past practice, as one of them described it, "of cutting down any likely possibility who dares to cherish any presidential aspirations until he's past 50."

With only 16 Republican governors — one of those in Hawaii and only two from big states, New York and Massachusetts — it's hard for Republican speculators hard for a start on possibilities. If Rockefeller is out of the picture, eastern Republicans will possibly work up interest in Senator Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, a highly intelligent 57 year old, who has been too independent for most party leaders. A considerable part of the west and most of the southwest may stick with Senator Goldwater, but still without much hope he could be nominated.

At a critical time in world history, this is admittedly a sorry predicament for one of the major political parties to find itself in. Again, it revives throughtful discussion of our methous of bringing forward and selecting our candidates for president. But right now, that's chiefly a Republican worry. Democrats are waiting for the GOP to start the new show.

All Brows Do Love Limericks

LOTS OF LIMERICKS. Edited by Louis Untermeyer. Doubleday. $2.75.

Limbericks ("There was a young lady from . . . .") are a palatable vice of highbrows and lowbrows alike, with a mischievous appeal to the adolscent in all of us. Even the unprintable ones often seem clever.

Untermeyer has taken a scholarly approach to these five-line catchy jingles and has assembled in this slim volume some representative examples of the early, the ribald and the rollicking. R. Taylor's illustrations set them off.

Often these limericks are typical
Of nonsense that is but topical
And a few are quite hintable
Of subjects unprintable
Especially the ones that are whoppical.

Courtroom Fights Told Dramatically

MY LIFE IN COURT. By Louis Nizer. Doubleday. $6.95.

To the layman, the appeal of this book lies in its complete revelation of how an extremely capable trial lawyer operates.

This isn't child's play. But if you are one of the many who enjoy courtroom drama, graphically and painstakingly presented, you'll enjoy this book.

All the techniques are described here—the searching analyses of the laws involved; the careful hunt for helpful witnesses; the nuances of jury selection; the handling of testimony and the delicately balanced give and take of cross-examination; the dramatic entrapment of a hostile witness, the psychological warfare of plaintiff and defense.

Nizer, possessing a legal mind as sharp as any you'll find, writes his narrative in a lucid manner, as he would present a case in court. He has a high sense of the theater, the telling thrust and the clinching argument. And he has a devotion for facts.

His book begins with the libel case of Quentin Reynolds vs. Westbrook Pegler, won by Reynolds, and it ends with the terribly complicated stock fight over control of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. In between there are famous cases on musical plagiarism, divorce, Nazi propaganda in America, medical malpractice and the worth of a man's estate.

The author makes you realize that a courtroom battle often is based on long hours of tedious preparation, capped by something even more important, the intense concentration of a probing, analytical mind. It is to Nizer's credit that he has thrown himself into many of these legal forays because he has believed strongly in the principles involved.

RUNNING THE SCALES

Word And Gesture Dominate Scene

By JOHN CALE

The emphasis on the spoken word and gesture as the top art form in the South was mentioned as we ran the scales several weeks ago. Judging by what is taking place on Louisiana stages at this time, the play is still very much the thing.

"Five Finger Exercise" opened Friday at Little Theatre's Strauss Playhouse here. Shreveport's little theatre opened with "Majority of One," and Baton Rouge's dramatics organization began a run of "Dark at the Top of the Stairs."

Northwestern State College dug back into the historical files for the old morality play, "Everyman," which played for two nights on the Natchitoches campus last week. In addition, a touring company will present a single performance of "Critic's Choice" at the Shreveport's municipal auditorium at 3 p.m. today.

This rush of events does not include the city of New Orleans, which keeps several live theatres going throughout the season.

WATCH 'BIRDIE'

In case you missed it, look again. Elsewhere in this newspaper is the full story on Monroe's scoring a 'first' — the first presentation of "Bye Bye Birdie" by a non-professional cast. It's coming up in February via Northeast State and Little Theatre of Monroe.

Music will hit the scene full force early next week on two consecutive dates. The Twin City Symphony with James T. Poulos at the helm will perform Tuesday, December 12. On the following night, the first musical billing on the Northeast Concerts series, pianist Philippe Entremont, is scheduled.

That same night, December 13, the La. Tech series has scheduled the Bayanihan Philippine Dance Company. So far as is known, this is the only conflict of the season in the two rather crowded series.

SWEET LIFE

Billed as a "most-talked-about-mature-adult" movie, the Italian film, "La Dolce Vita," showed a concern for young Italian city dwellers bound and determined to waste their lives.

The story was carried to extremes, perhaps, especially in the three-hour length. But in following an Italian sensation - writer through about 10 situations, a logical conclusion is reached. The skillfully directed camera focuses finally on a group of adult delinquents viewing a large, primitive sea animal. The obvious question asked by either fish or man: "Whose blubber is really better?"

Each of the scenes is rich in symoblism — if the viewer cares to take it in — and the apparent lack of connection between episodes is made up for by the character "development" of the young writer.

The film is highly moral without the usual type of moralizing. There is a strong religious overtone. There is also a strip tease.

The principal weakness of "La Dolce Vita" is the attempt to combine entertainment with serious drama and philosophy. While the entertainment was worked into the reporter's "glamor" beat, these scenes too often appeared rather clumsy attempts to imitate a U. S. television spectacular.

A History Without Inhibitions

THEY ALL DISCOVERED AMERICA. By Charles Michael Boland. Doubleday $4.95.

If Christopher Columbus had known half as much about the discovery of America as Boland knows, or suspects, he never would have taken the trouble.

It wasn't only Leif Ericson who got ahead of Columbus, says Boland, but droves of other people — not counting the ancestors of the Indians themselves.

There were Phoenicians (they built stone houses in New Hampshire); Romans (whose artifacts have been found in Pennsylvania and elsewhere); Icelanders in addition to the Vikings of the familiar sagas; Irish monks who staked out sanctuaries from Massachusetts to Florida; Chinese, and others.

Boland seems to have used his intuition most freely in asserting, with little visible evidence, that one group of Irish pulled up stakes in the Massachusetts Bay area following the reappearance of their old blood enemies the Vikings, built ships for themselves, and coasted all the way to Mexico, where the head man was hailed as the culture hero, Quetzalcoatl.

Not a professional archaeologist or historian, but an artist and advertising man, Boland has great scorn for the pros in this field and accuses them of built-in inhibitions against recognizing pre-Columbian evidence of white man.

It can be said without reservation that Boland, after some years studying the many possibilities, has few inhibitions about expressing his own forthright opinions, mostly favorable to little-known wanderers.

Not shying from the familiar any more than from the little known, he does not shrink from putting forward his own solution to that knotty conandrum — the location of Leif Ericson's shelters in Vineland. Quite obviously, he says, they were only a short distance from Plymouth Rock.

Convention Held By Witnesses Of Two States

A convention of Jehovan's Witnesses which drew attendance from Louisiana and areas of Arkansas, was held at Camden, Ark., last weekend.

The sessions extended over a three - day period, following the theme, "Assist One Another to do God's Will."

Among highlights of the program was a dedication and baptism discourse by J. A. Thompson Jr., representative of Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

Many New Books Now In Library

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

New books of various types have been added to the book collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. This week we are particularly fortunate to have a number of new books of fiction. "The Way to the Lantern" is the title of a new historical novel by Audrey Erskine Lindop, with a setting in the period of the French Revolution. Miss Lindop has told a rich story which is exciting in detail and exciting in action. With researched facts and a vivid imagination, she has made the French Revolution come to life in all its confusion, fear, intrigue and violence. "Twilight of Honor" is a probing novel about a murder trial in a small town caught up in a frenzy of revenge and one man's lonely battle for justice. Al Dewlen is the author of this penetrating and realistic novel with a setting in the Texas Panhandle. It is not a book which will appeal to every reader, but is one which you will not soon forget.

Several years ago William Brinkly wrote a hillarious novel called "Don't go near the water." He has a new one just published called "The Fun House". This is the story about the people who publish a picture magazine called "Vital". It is extremely funny and will provide good lightheartedentertainment. Herbert D. Kastle is the author of a new novel called "The World They Wanted". This is the story of the modern world of suburbia and the people who inhabit it. It is a well - written, thoughtful book and is certain to have an impact upon the reader.

Joy Packer has written several very fine books with a setting in South Africa, but she has not done anything any better than her latest one "The Glass Barrier". This is the story of two young women, cousins, who love the same man. Matters are complicated by South Africa's racial tensions. This is a book which the thoughtful reader will enjoy. "Venus Unarmed" is the title of a new mystery story by Lawrence Treat. The setting of this story is in France and it leads us a merry chase through the world of art in a search for the solution of a murder.

Factual books added to the library during the past week have added to the overall quality of Library Book Collection. "Slums and Suburbs" is the title of a new book by James Bryant Conant. It is a commentary on schools in Metropolitan areas and has been requested by a number of readers. Al - anon is a group made up of the families of alcoholics. They have recently published and have given to the Library a copy of a most useful publication "Living With an Alcoholic". One of the most valuable books published by the U. S. government, Mr. Passman, who has recently given the Library four copies of the latest volume of this series. This is the yearbook for 1961 and deals with Seeds.

Life magazine is now engaged in published some very beautiful books. Three new ones from their presses were added during the past week. "The Forest" is a lovely book dealing with Forests and forestry in our country. "The Epic of Man" is a large beautiful book in the field of antropology and "France" is a beautiful book of description and history about that country.

A book which should interest city planners is "The Death and Life of great American Cities" by Jane Jacobs. It is a book to make one stop and think. Hugh Mercer Blain has made a collection of "Favorite Huey Long Stories" which will interest many readers.

Another valuable book in the Louisiana collection is "The Government of Louisiana" written by William C. Havard and published by the LSU press in 1960. This book will be especially useful to students. For months patrons have been asking us for "The Naked Communist" by W. Cleon Skousen. Knowing that it was a book which every American should read, we have made a definite effort to get it. Finally we have succeeded. The Library now has 6 copies of this book. There are two copies in the Main Library and one in each of the other branches. In this book the whole incredible story of the Communist conspiracy to enslave the world is told. People need to read this book and know what is going on right in our own country. Many people do not know what the Communists stand for. This book tells it frankly and clearly.

New books written especially for young adults offer a variety of reading. "Salvage diver" by Zachary Ball is an interesting account of salvage operations on the high seas, written for boys. Another book of interest to boys is "Sacremento Gold" by Gene Olson, an exciting story of the California Gold rush. There are also two new books for girls "Dinny Godron, Sophomore" by Anne Emery and "Secret of the Tiger's Eye" by Phillis Whitney. Another new book in this group is a biography of Theodore Roosevelt, called "Theodore Roosevelt; Rally a Free People" The author is Fred J. Cook.

There's Still Time To Plant

By AUDREY H. DAWSON

If you, Mrs. Gardener, have not planted your bulbs, there's still time, but you should get them in the ground real soon. A trowel is the handiest tool to use.

Bulbs should be set, pointed end up, five to six inches deep for daffodils, tulips and hyacinths; two to three inches deep for crocus and other small bulbs. Variation in depths depends on the type of soil, the lighter the soil, the deeper the planting. Be sure that the bulb rests firmly on the bottom of the hole.

Those leaves that you, Mrs. Homemaker, are piling up and burning could add back to the landscape rich dividends. Where leaves and grass clippings are removed year after year and where no fertilizer is added the soil around the house becomes extremely compact.

Those leaves could be used in a compost pile. There are ever so many ways to make a compost and all are good, but the important thing is to save those leaves, and if you do not want to make a complete compost pile the leaves in a corner that is well drained and sprinkle a small amount of complete fertilizer, add more leaves, layer of fertilize then add more leaves. If this winter is dry, add a little water in order to hasten decomposition.

ENERGETIC

If you, Mrs. Gardener, are energetic and want to build a good compost pile, here is a recipe from our LSU Agricultural Extension Horticulture Department. Select a well drained site for the pile. It may be a pit in the ground or a pen made of boards, slats or wire.

The basic or first layer of material should be four to six inches of grass sod, chopped corn stalks or other coarse material. On this layer spread three to four inches of barnyard manure. The third layer may be lawn or grass clippings, weeds or vegetable residue that is not infected with disease. Do not use grass or weeds that have gone to seed.

As the pile is built up, pour a few buckets of water over the material to aid decomposition. The fourth layer ought to be leaves. To increase the plant food value and hasten decomposition, sprinkle with a few handfuls of a balanced fertilizer.

As the pile is accumulating, the top should be kept concave so as to catch the rainfall rather than shed it.

Turn the pile every two to three months for uniform decomposition. After six or eight months, this material may be added to, worked into the soil or can be used as a mulch.

10-25-YEAR CLUB

The Ten and Twenty - five Year Home Demonstration Club members will have their annual Christmas dinner meeting Thursday, December 7 at 7:30. If you plan to attend be sure to call Mrs. A. K. Lowery at FA 3-2980 or Mrs. J. G. Haynes at FA 2-2773.

ANNUAL MEETING

Yours truly, in fact all of the agents in our Agricultural Extension office, will join the other agents in Louisiana for the annual meeting on the LSU campus this week. I will be back in the office Saturday. The secretaries will be on hand to give you a bulletin if you call while we are away.

MEN'S WEAR

Blues are back in men's suits this fall. Blues, black blues, and black and blues are the newest trend in fall suit colors. Browns, also, have made a comeback. This color has been neglected on the fashion scene for several years. Black is especially good in suits of lustrous mohair and mohair blends.

The presidential model suit, a conservative 2 - button coat model made popular by our young president is a popular style this year.

The crease that will never cease is claimed (guaranteed) in some men's suits on the market this fall. Trousers with this guarantee were sold during the summer.

CLOTHES

Burlap can be found in piece goods and "ready - mades" from coats to dresses, hats, shoes and bags. It is made of jute which has a pungent odor that is not easily removed. It wrinkles easily and sheds lint. Color fastness varies with the color. If it stretches out of shape, it won't snap back.

Test the laminated fabrics and ready mades before buying. If the foam can be pulled loose from the fabric without tearing up, leave it on the shelf. It should adhere to the fabric.

A THOUGHT:

People are born with two eyes and one tongue in order that they may see twice as much as they say.

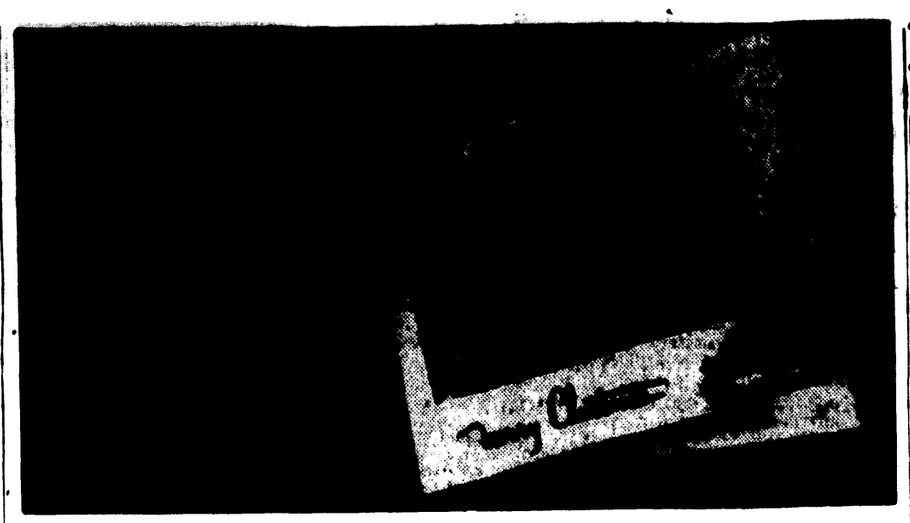
Special Service Set By Church

Special services will be held today at 7 p.m. at the Southside Baptist Church, with the pastor, the Rev. Turner Davis delivering the sermon.

His subject will be "The Race Question in the Light of Bible Prophecy."

Number Change

In an announcement last Sunday concerning the opening of the Seventh - day Adventist Church's Harvest Ingathering Campaign in Monroe, the listing given for the minister's telephone number should have been FA 3-3958, officials said.



IN HAND, IN SEASON, IN TIME. Personal photographic greeting cards combine a favorite snapshot in color or black-and-white with an appropriate folder, mask or hand-drawn message. They give camera fans a chance to add an individual touch to their cards.

Camera Notes

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Here's the annual warning that Christmas is closer than a contact print! To some it means last minute preparations on a personal photographic greeting card. To others it's a reminder to get going on holiday shopping so that some photo fan will be delightfully surprised on Christmas Day.

In an effort to correct one of the amateur movie maker's worst faults — shaky panning — the DeJur "Power Pan" unit has been built into the base of their new cameras. By pressing a button, it will automatically turn the camera steadily, evenly and at a correct speed through a 120-degree sweep. Since a flat, steady surface is necessary for the device to work, a unipod will be included with every power-pan camera. It also will work with any tripod, on a table or on any firm surface. The camera also features an f-1.8 ten - element zoom lens with two - button control and automatic electric eye settings.

A magnetic slide projector which "floats" slides into viewing position.

About half the mechanical action of conventional slide changing is eliminated by introducing their internal magnetic system, say the makers of the Honeywell Model 650 projector. It accepts all slide sizes which fit either 2 x 2 or 2¼ x 2¼ mounts. To be ready for automatic showing, steel clips must be attached to one edge of each slide before it is placed in the tray. They can be affixed to any cardboard, glass, plastic or non - magnetic metal slide in all popular sizes. Any slides without the metal clip will be rejected during a slide showing.

The projector's pushbutton remote control unit can focus, advance or reverse slides and throw a light on the screen to point out anything. It also features a unique optical system shift designed to provide equal illumination efficiency for the various sizes of slides it accommodates.

A replaceable, rechargeable battery pack for a compact electronic flash unit.

Reserve flash power is assured in the new 17 - ounce Heliotron MM electronic flash with the introduction of a three - and a - half - ounce rechargeable nickel cadmium battery pack. An exhausted battery pack can be exchanged for an extra one in seconds and recharged from an electric outlet to regain its full quota of 60 flashes for portable operation. The electronic flash unit may also be operated directly from an electric outlet, has a bounce flash braket adapter, a hand release button for open flashes and an extension cord for off - the - camera shooting. The light flashes at 1-1000th second duration and is rated at a guide number of 45 for Kodachrome II (ASA 25).

Penlight power for inexpensive electronic flash unit.

Eight penlight batteries provide the power for the Yashica Quick-Lite Pro - 40, a one - piece transistorized electronic flash unit. A set of batteries delivers 125 flashes, each at 1-600th second duration. The unit weighs 21 ounces, has a recycling time from two to eight seconds depending on battery use.

Church Units Prepare For Big Meeting

JONESVILLE (Special) — The 28 churches of the Ouachita Baptist Association will observe annual "M" night 7 p.m. Monday, at the First Baptist Church here according to the Rev. Gayle Dean Jr., director of the associational training union.

"It's time to mobilize for Kingdom services," he said in making the announcement.

SPEAKER

The Rev. M. H. Fields, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ferriday, will be the principal speaker.

The attendance goal of the "M" night meeting of the Ouachita Baptist Association at Jonesville has been set at 350, Rev. Dean said.

"This is the biggest meeting of its kind in the Southern Baptist Convention with a total goal in the south of 600,000 persons for the simultaneous meetings of the various associations," he added.

GOALS

All churches in the local association have been assigned attendance goals for this meeting. Special recognition of the churches reaching their goal will be given.

"There will also be a place of honor provided for the training union directors of the various churches within the association at the meeting, and all BTU directors are urged to attend," Rev. Dean stated.

Hungry Cow Of The Sea May Be Aid

By JAMES M. LONG

ROME (AP)—Science is taking a careful new look at the manatee, that large-bosomed sea cow that ancient mariners mistook for a mermaid.

The scientists are not interested in her siren-like shape, but in her insatiable appetite.

They want to know whether she might be used to chew her hungry way through the aquatic weeds that cause vast damage by choking the world's lakes, irrigation canals and waterways.

STUDY

A preliminary study by William A. Dill, chief of the inland resources section of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization's Department of Fisheries, indicates that enough manatees probably could do the job.

But Dill wonders whether there are enough of the odd-looking mammals still surviving, or whether they could be bred, transported, and protected from equally hungry fishermen.

The weed-clogging of waterways has presented a mounting problem in recent years. Thousands of dollars are spent annually in a losing battle against the weeds.

Underwater reapers are used in Louisiana canals so that mail boats can get through. Fishermen in some Syrian lakes have to stop their boats every few minutes to clear the weed from their propellor blades.

The upper Nile is clogged so badly by the lavendar water hyacinth that natives can walk across the river on the surface.

FAO said first studies indicated two manatees 7½ feet long could clear a canal 22 feet wide and 1,600 yards long in 17 weeks.

But there are difficulties.

An FAO summary described the manatee as "a large, bosomy mammal with paddle-like forefeet, no hind feet and a broad, rounded bottom." They inhabit lagoons and large, warm rivers of the North and Central American coasts around the Caribbean, the coast of South America, and parts of Africa.

ALMOST EXTINCT

But they are extinct or nearly extinct in most places.

Once captured, FAO says, the manatee is difficult to transport. Despite its tough-looking skin, it bruises easily. Kept under water too long it will drown. It must not be turned on its back or it will suffocate from the weight of a stomach full of weeds on its dorsally located lungs.

Man himself provides one of the final difficulties. The manatee has few natural enemies, except man. The manatee is defenseless, easy to spear or harpoon—and delicious to eat.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Dahlia Drying Art Is Demonstrated

By MRS. JOHN TOLAR

Mrs. M. L. Johnson, president of Twin City Garden Club Council and the College Heights Garden Club, presented the TV and Fifth District Garden Center show last week.

Her theme was "Preserving and Drying Flowers and Foliage for Arranging." She demonstrated the art of drying dahlias by using the borax and corn meal method. This was very instructive as well as interesting. Mrs. Johnson showed the actual procedure of this by placing the prepared dahlia in the box (shallow wooden tray) of meal and borax The stem had been removed from the dahlia and replaced with a wire stem. She carefully covered thoroughly the flower throughout the petals with the mixture.

TIME LAPSE

This flower should be left in this box at least 10 days, then removed promptly at this time, Mrs. Johnson said. She had some of the blossoms in the borax mixture that she removed at this time to show. They were beautifully preserved and the color, a pink-orange was almost perfect. She explained that not all flowers turn out so successfully. You just have to experiment to find out which ones do best. She has had exceptionally good luck with this Mexican dahlia, also, the large marigolds, batchelor buttons, camellias, and many others.

The upside down method is good for flowers such as hydrangea, yarrow, garlic blossom, celosia, straw flowers and so many others.

I have mentioned these in particular because Mrs. Johnson displayed them on her show and told about her method for each She also used all of these materials in the beautiful arrangements that she showed—all of them made from her own materials. Most of her materials came from her yard and garden.

The leaves that were glycerinized were demonstrated by Mrs. Johnson. She showed the lovely tea olive foliage. She splits back the bark about three inches before placing the stems in a jar of glycerin and water mixture (half and half). This keeps the stem firm and yet gives more opening for absorption. Now, as I said, Mrs. Johnson displayed a beautiful array of flowers and foliage that she had preserved, also, ten beautiful arrangements containing all the lovely materials that she had preserved in her own work shop.

I will attempt to describe only a few of these arrangements. I only hope that you saw them on TV and then came by the Garden Center to see them because it is almost impossible to describe their real beauty and convince you in writing of their perfect preservation.

DRIED DOCK

First, using the dried golden dock for a line, Mrs. Johnson created a line-mass arrangement (traingle) in a low container made of pop sickle sticks sprayed with gold paint. Within the line she placed the beautiful dried Mexican dahlia, perfect blend of colors. As a filler she used some of the small glycerinized magnolia leaves around the focal area dahlias.

Marigolds were featured in a tan compote container. A perfect symmetrical triangle design was created by sprays of dried batchelor buttons and for the central line she placed a tiered grouping of sansevieria. Against this she staggered a line of small dried black-eyed Susans. For interest a cluster of dried wisteria seed pods hung from the right of the design. The perfectly preserved marigolds were placed within the entire line of the design with the larger ones forming the focal area. Just beautiful and needless to say long-lasting for that spot in the home that needs brightening.

A most unusual arrangement of exquisite white Empress camellias were used in a low tan shell type ceramic container. A triangle line was made by placing glycerinized aspidestra leaves in the container first. The white empress camellia had been dried by the borax method. It came out a very unusual variegated cream and tan combination. Just perfect in color harmony with the gold tones of the aspidestra leaves. This was most distinctive. Would be so lovely for the large den table or hall console.

Mrs. Johnson used millet that she had glycerinized and colored at the same time. She used several colors in her mixture and found this to be quite successful. Just common food color was used. The arrangement that I will pick to describe contained the golden colored millet. Three spikes of the millett were used for the tallest placement in a triangle design.

These were placed on a large oak log round — very rustic looking. Next, to form the balance of the triangle she placed within the line a continuous line of the wild Yucca seed pods. A grouping of dried corn blossom was placed to strengthen the line on the right. The focal area contained a cluster of pine cone roses varying in sizes. Dried yellow celosia was placed around these roses as a filler to accent them. Glycerinized magnolia leaves were placed to strengthen the line and form background. This design contained a number of interesting materials made up for its lack of varying color. This so often is the best way to make our dried arrangements more pleasing to look at . . just use interesting shapes and textures in designs.

EYE CATCHER

A small design—an eye catcher—simple yet effective, was one that contained dried red celosia and lovely glycerinized photenia leaves. The leaves were tiered into a slight curving line, a vertical placement in a small Japanese vase. The vase was green edged in gold. The celosia was placed to follow the line of the leaves. To the right of the celosia Mrs. Johnson placed a row of dried clematis seed pods. These are a soft tan. The photenia leaves were placed within this line to form a background for these pods. This created a striking arrangement suitable for the Christmas holidays ahead.

I wish I could tell you about the others. I still say I don't believe I could convince you of their loveliness and perfect preservatoin even in words. I just hope you saw them for yourselves. We all thank Mrs. Johnson for giving us this wonderful show and sharing her secrets as well as her talent with us.

Ex-Professor Leader For Church Meet

A former professor of church history at Southern Methodist University's School of Theology, will appear at McGuire Methodist Church, Arkansas and North 12th in West Monroe.

Dr. Robert W. Goodloe will be the discussion leader in a school of christian doctrine and practice there Monday through Wednesday. The sessions will be held daily at 7 p.m.

DIRECTION

The school is under the direction of the Commission of Education of the McGuire Church, of which C. B. Griggs is chairman. A church announcement said the meetings are open to "All persons interested in deepening their understanding of christian faith, and specific teachings of Methodist christians."

Dr. Goodloe was born at Burleson, Texas, and was educated at Polytechnic College, Ft. Worth, The University of Texas, Yale Divinity School, and the University of Chicago. He was a chaplain in France during World War I, and served two years as a pastor prior to his teaching experience at S.M.U.

In 1939 he was a member of the Ritual Committee of the Uniting Conference of The Methodist Church. He held a teaching post with Southern Methodist University for 34 years.

Upon his retirement from S.M.U. in 1956, Dr. Goodloe was invited by The Board of Missions to teach for three years in Union Theological Seminary at Manila.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

This week's Tailor Trix winner is Mrs. Rosemary Sciales, St. Louis, Missouri.

"Dear Eunice,

"This suggestion sounds too "crazy" to be true, but it works wonders for me and I would like to share it with all your readers. Most of us consider dark dresses and suits a "must" in our wardrobe, but practically wear them out by continuously brushing off the lint that sticks like glue. Now your problems are over.

"Take a regular size Turkish Towel and sprinkle it with a little water, just about the same amount you would use if you were dampening something for ironing. Now place this slightly dampened towel and your dark dress, suit or coat in the clothes dryer. Turn your dryer on for no longer than 5 minutes, remove your garment immediately and it will look pressed and have absolutely no lint on it. We've tried it and it works, hope you'll try it, too."

BUTTON MAKING

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"I have noticed these corded buttons that are made of self fabric on some of the oriental type blouses as well as many very dressy suits. Can I learn to make these myself or must one have them professionally made?"

Mrs. M. E. G.

Dear Mrs. M. E. G.:

These buttons are called "Chinese Ball Buttons" and aren't too difficult to make. The size of the finished button depends on the thickness of the cording you cover with your bias strip of fabric. They can be made into a ball or shaped flatter depending on the effect you desire. The instructions for making them are included in my leaflet No. 4 which also includes instructions for Spaghetti Straps and Rope Belts. This leaflet may be obtained by sending a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to Eunice Farmer, in care of this newspaper.

JACKET LINING

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,

"What is jacket stiffening and when should it be used? My pattern mentions this jacket stiffening and also says "optional." If I use this stiffening do I also use a separate interfacing. Your columns are very useful and enjoyable to all the women who like to sew."

Mrs. H. W. B.

Dear Mrs. H. W. B.:

The jacket stiffening the pattern refers to is the same as under-lining. In other words, the garment fabric and your under-lining are treated as one piece. Different weights of under-lining are used, depending on the effect you wish to achieve. A boxy coat or jacket of loosely woven fabric, would require a heavier type than a soft light weight fabric. Often silk organza is used for suits, or you may use various weights of WOVEN type interfacing fabric. If you use anything but organza, it would also be necessary to use a heavier type interfacing fabric for the collars and facings of your garment.

The trick of using under-lining is getting both of the layers of fabric exactly the same size, otherwise you will have a puffy look to your garment. If you will follow these instructions in the order I have given them, you won't have any trouble.

1. Cut your under-lining the same as your garment, you will not need to under-line the facings.

2. Lay your under-lining on a flat surface and then lay your garment RIGHT SIDE UP over the under-lining.

(a) Hand baste the two layers of fabric together by basting diagonally. This will keep them even.

(b) Baste through the center of all darts. In this way, you will not take more fabric out of the under-lining than you will out of your garment fabric when stitching darts.

(c) Last, baste around all the outer edges of each piece. Hand basting will keep the two layers from pulling out of shape.

From this point on, you will proceed as if you only had one layer of fabric.

FASHION TIP Everyone has a simple sheath dress they would like to give a "lift" to for the Holiday season. How about making a short jacket out of brocade, satin, velvet, or a "glitter" fabric? This is an easy way to have that "New" look.

If you missed saving some of Mrs. Farmer's previous columns and would like the answers to the 20 most frequently asked questions, send 25 cents and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them to Eunice Farmer, in care of Monroe Morning World.

SOUTHERN GARDENER

Arboretum, Botanical

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

With the establishment of more and more arboretums and botanical gardens in the United States, people often want to know what these two words mean.

Essentially an arboretum is a collection of trees. Since trees take up more space than perennials, bulbs and the smaller ornamental plants, an arboretum has to be a place of some comsiderable extent. Botanicial gardens of any extent usually contain an area for the trees and other woody plants and call it their arboretum. Some botanical gardens, however, are developed with all sorts of plants and many different styles of landscaping blended in with their trees. The famous Royal Botanical Garden at Kew in London is an example of this.

TREES, SHRUBS

In this country, the great Arnold Arboretum at Boston is essentially an arboretum alone, as it deals only with trees and shrubs. There, you will find all the trees and shrubs of the world that the staff and their world travellers have been able to collect and grow in the climate of New England. The arboretum is divided into two sections: one at Jamaica Plain and one at Weston. Together, they compromise 410 acres.

FASCINATING

Botanical gardens and arboretums are fascinating places of great beauty. They are open to the public as places of rest, recreation and plant study. The city of Boston protects and polices the walks and roads of The Arnold Arboretum, while Harvard University carries on its scientific work, a splendid piece of cooperation.

Man's very first gardens were for fruits and medicinal plants, and his botanical gardens and arboreta are no different today except that he now has the leisure to add flowers for their beauty alone.

REMOVED

It is true that we have taken the cultivated fruits out of these institutions and set them up as experimental orchards at colleges of agriculture, but any new trees or shrubs that look promising as fruit producers are brought home from the four corners of the earth to be tried out in the arboretums.

In the vast area covered by the United States, we have many climates and soils. This makes it necessary for us to establish botanical gardens and arboreta in each part of the country. Here in the south, we are poor in such institutions, but we are beginning to realize the necessity for them

CHURCH STATISTICS

NEW YORK (AP) — Last year 63.6 per cent of the American people belonged to a church or synagogue, according to the National Council of Churches' newly published 1962 Yearbook of American Churches.

Shock Due Elvis' Fans In New Film

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN

Usually Elvis is all prettied up for his lady fans but in "Kid Galahad," the remake of an old boxing picture, Presley gets slammed around in several prize fights.

Elvis even has a coach to show him the finer points involved in slugging another guy on the nose.

Presley's boxing mentor is Mushy Callahan, a one time professional fighter who has spent the last 25 years teaching actors how to hold up their hands in a ring, in addition to refereeing professional bouts.

"Elvis is pretty good," said Mushy, who added that Presley is "not about to get hit" in the noggin without good reason.

The 56-year-old Callahan, who was world's junior welterweight champion from 1926 to 1930, keeps Elvis on a training schedule so the singer won't appear like a clumsy ox on screen.

"I try to break a script down and train him according to what the story calls for," said Mushy. "We work out routines that Elvis has to do in the ring and he catches on pretty good."

Even though Elvis doesn't really get socked in the make believe fights, his studio bosses do their best to make it appear that he does.

"He's not afraid to get hit," Mushy claimed. "Of course, he doesn't want to get his teeth knocked out."

One thing about Elvis in "Galahad" is that he's not running around fighting for the world's championship, which is usually the case in Hollywood's boxing films. All Presley wants in the picture is enough dough to set himself up in the garage business.

But while Elvis is knocking opponents around, he gets his share of make believe knocks.

Bible Reworded In Congo Area

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP)—Somewhere in the northern Congo a native student of the local white missionary reads from his new Bible the 22nd verse of the 16th chapter of St. John:

"So you have sorrow now," the Lord is saying "but I will see you again and your livers will rejoice."

And in Matthew 12:34, "These people honor me with their mouths, but their livers are far from me." Again, in John 14:1, "Let not your liver be troubled."

Substituting liver for heart in Holy Writ may seem odd, or even sacrilegious, but to the Rev. Dr. Eugene A. Nida, secretary for translations of the American Bible Society, it's merely another technique of producing the scriptures in the only language a man may understand.

"English-speaking people talk about the emotional focus of the personality as the heart," Dr. Nida explained, "but this is by no means a universal situation.

"In fact, the Chujs of Guatemala speak of it as the abdomen, the Marshallese speak of it as the throat, and in some contexts the Totonacs of Mexico may speak of it as the spleen. In several of the Sudanic languages of the Congo, it's the liver."

Dr. Nida is in the United States briefly before continuing his linguistic trouble shooting in remote parts of Mexico, the Philippines, Ecuador and West Africa, to name only a few countries he has scheduled on next year's itinerary.

Since joining the Bible Society in 1943, after receiving his doctorate in linguistics from the University of Michigan, he has visited at least 60 countries, helped with various Bible translation problems in more than 130 languages ("But that doesn't mean I speak them all") for missionaries of about 100 Protestant denominations and organizations.

His job is to help translators over such hurdles as the liver and heart problem of the Congolese, and his vast experience is of as much value as his formal linguistic training.

Each problem he tackles, he notes the solution on a slip of paper. So far he has about 25,000 slips of paper, which have resulted in a number of books. The latest is a commentary on St. Matthews' Gospel which he prepared with the help of a specialist in the Biblical languages.

Verse by verse, the Bible scholar outlined the meaning of each word in its original version. Dr. Nida follows with a text of how it has been translated in various languages.

Partly through the work of Dr. Nida and his colleagues, the Bible Society has translated whole Bibles into 221 languages, the New Testament into an additional 277, and portions of Scripture into another 667 languages and dialects. According to Dr. Nida, over 95 per cent of the world's population has part or all of the Bible in the language they can read.

Stamp News

The Israel Philharmonic Orchestra, often called that country's "most cherished cultural possession," is honored on its 25th anniversary by the issuance of a new postage stamp. The 50 agorot multi - colored adhesive features a montage of four instruments — violin, harp, tympany and horn — reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

The Philharmonic Orchestra was founded by the eminent violinist Bronislaw Huberman in Dec. 1936 with the main aim of salvaging musicians who had been forced through Nazi oppression to flee their posts. The inaugural

Also issued by Israel are two new stamps highlighting the work of afforestation. The multicolored stamps depict symbolic designs based on forestry projects.

British Guiana commemorates its fourth annual History and Culture Week by issuing three new stamps. The design, common to all three values, includes a portrait of Queen Elizabeth II and features the hands of six different races clasped together symbolizing the people's desire to weld themselves into one nation. The 5 cents is brown and red, 6 cents brown and green, 30 cents brown and orange. Beneath the illustration on each stamp are the words "One People-One Nation-One Destiny."

An unused set of Canada's 1897 jubilee stamps in blocks of four sold recently for $2,440 (catalog $1,603.80) in New York City. In the same sale a record price of $1,000 was obtained for Newfoundland's rare 1p reddish brown of 1862. Catalog price on this was $1,250.

Curtain Call

With customary smoothness, the second production of Little Theatre's thirtieth season opened on Friday night. "Five Finger Exercise," an absorbing drama which had the unqualified approval of the New York critics. They gave it their award as Best Foreign Play of the Year. More important to us, perhaps, is the fact that our audiences liked it very much. If you have not seen it yet, hurry to the phone right now to reserve your place for Sunday or Monday. We do not want you to miss it.

While grocery shopping a few days ago, two of our workers were wondering to each other where in the world they could find napkin rings needed for a scene in Five Finger Exercise. Mrs. Thomas Files just happened to hear them and just happened to own some napkin rings which were promptly offered and gladly accepted. See how helpful people are in this town? (With a little more time we ought to be able to commemorate the incident in a little poem beginning: Mrs. Files came down the aisles a-shopping at the Safeway . . .)

AT CASTING AGENCY

Lallage Feazel, home from New York, brings news that Ivan Uttal is working at a casting agency, but plans to go into the producing business in off-Broadway theater. "How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying," is a hit that Lallage enjoyed. Robert Morse and Rudy Valley are the stars.

Mixed with our good news is some bad. Margaret Fryant, who has appeared in so many of our shows and worked behind scenes in many others, is moving to New Orleans. Take notice, Le Petit Theatre.

Board member Larry Shipman's sister, Mrs. Louise Maximoff, spent Thanksgiving holidays here. Our capable hospitality chairman, Ethel Boardman, and Clark went to a family gathering in Fort Worth.

Monday night the Little Theatre Board and Trustees met in the Playhouse and enjoyed a social hour after the business was over. They announced plans for the 1962 spring session of our cinema series. This is an unusual program by which one may see eight outstanding films at a cost of only five dollars for a season ticket. For membership phone or write Mrs. R. C. White Jr., 2764 Point Drive, Monroe, FA 2-2137. Some of the choice films on the list are "The Lavender Hill Mob," with Alex Guinness, "The Red Shoes," with Moire Shearer dancing in that Hans Christian Anderson tale, "The Little World of Don Camille." We won't name the whole list.

PLAY REPORT

Marillyn Taylor, a true theater devotee, saw 15 plays during her recent trip to London and New York. How better could we tell you about them than by quoting her: "'Gideon' was one of the most magnificent evenings I have ever spent in a theatre. Federick March plays the angel and Douglas Campbell does a superb job in the title role. I enjoyed Noel Coward's 'Sail Away' but would hesitate to recommend it to anyone who does not care for Coward. Another new play this year is 'Shot in the Dark,' a comedy-mystery starring Julie Harris. This is one that Little Theatre members would enjoy seeing produced here. For those who enjoy the writings of Jean Kerr, as I do, there is 'Mary, Mary,' an hilarious comedy played to packed houses by Barbara Bel Geddes, Barry Nelson, Michael Wilding, and Betsy von Furstenberg. Two particular treats in London were seeing Dame Sybil Thorndike as 'Teresa of Avila' and Gladys Cooper and Diana Wynyard in 'Bird of Time.' Playing the part of Lawrence of Arabia in 'Ross' was Michael Bryant, who scored his first great success as the German tutor in 'Five Finger Exercise.' No lover of the theatre should fail to attend the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre in Stratford; nor did we. We were fortunate enough to be there for Hamlet. And for a complete change of pace, try 'The Irregular Verb to Love,' the type of comedy where one laughs so hard one misses some of the lines. Musicals we attended in New York in addition to 'Sail Away' included 'Do Re Mi,' vehicle for Phil Silvers; 'The Unsinkable Molly Brown,' as much fun as a picnic and 'Irma la Douce,' very French, very naughty, very delightful. To quote the advertisements, 'Carnival' is America's magical musical and 'Camelot' is magnificent. We agreed."

MY ANSWER

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: How can we witness to our non-Christian friends without seeming "preachy"? H.P.

ANSWER: When one 'witnesses' out of a sense of duty it often comes out 'preachy'. As I read the New Testament I find that the disciples of Christ were possessed of true excitement about Christ and what He had done with their lives. The main thing in 'sharing' our faith in Christ is to have something we can really share. We cannot share that which we do not have. We cannot witness to that which we are uncertain.

To me, Christ and His power are the most exciting things of my life. I find that if 'witnessing' is spontaneous and natural that people respond in kind. I never say when I am to be with a group: "Now, I must be a good witness." But in the course of conversation, Christ just seems to take precedence over other subjects. When we think of it, nothing on earth is so full of wonder and joy as the fact of His Presence. When we know Him in the power of His resurrection, it is sometimes what people feel, rather than what we say. Make sure that Christ is real to you then you will 'witness' in spite of yourself. And even you will be surprised at what you said, because the Holy Spirit will give you words you didn't plan to say.

The early disciples were witnesses of what they had "seen" and "heard." We must "experience" before we can share."

West Monroe To Host '62 Dixie World Series

Little Boys Tourney Bid Is Accepted

welcomed announcement had declared "any announcement, good or bad, will come from Mr. Jones

If anything goes wrong he gets the blame," he jokingly added.

He pointed out that the LBBL tournaments have been "better and better" each year and "I a sure that if we hold the tournament in West Monroe it will be the best one yet."

Last night's meeting was nearly two hours and a half old when Commissioner Jones delivered the words so anxiously awaited. During that preceding time the civic and business interests of West Monroe, joined by Monroe, had strongly presented their case in convincing the men whose word would mean success or failure.

Marvin L. Smith Jr., Louisiana state Little Boys president of West Monroe, started the ball rolling with formal presentation of West Monroe's bid.

"ANXOUS"

"We are extremely anxious to secure Little Boys Baseball's Dixie World Series," declared Smith. "We can offer facilities as good as you can find anywhere.

"West Monroe is a hot baseball town If West Monroe is awarded the tournament we promise to donate any tournament profits to the college scholarship fund of Little Boys Baseball."

He listed in detail advantages offered by West Monroe in press, radio and television facilities, the excellent facilities offered at Northeast Louisiana State College for housing and feeding players of the visiting teams, and such tournament side attractions as a big barbecue at Ki-Ro-Li woods Sunday evening, Aug. 19, the day preceding the opening on the week-long tournament; a parade on Monday, Aug. 20, including the Shriner band, the West Monroe Riding Club, and a one-day rodeo to be given by the riding club, plus cowboy hats for all the tournament players, free bowling and other sports, tours of industrial plants, Ouachita River cruises, and plans to make motion pictures of the series.

Paul Goldman, vice president of KNOE-TV, pinch-hitting for Harry Arthur as master of ceremonies or "umpire in chief" as the program stated, announced other speakers with such program titles as "Lead Off Man," Mayor Allan Norris of West Monroe; "Home Team Stalwart," Dr. G. T. Walker, president of Northeast State College; "Old Reliable," Eugene Smith, manager of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce; "Home Town Supporter," George Wylie, president of Highland Park Country Club; "Hit-and-Run Man," Sheriff Bailey Grant; "RBI Man," Jack Gates, executive editor of the News-Star — World; "Slugger," Glen Anderson, chairman of the grounds committee; "Colonel Clutch," Homer Gates, chairman of the entertainment and advertising committee; "The Thumper," C. W. Smith, chairman of special events committee; and "Bullet Bob," Robert P. Dougherty, manager of personnel and labor relations, Olin Matheison.

Mayor Norris welcomed the visiting baseball dignitaries to his city and promised if West Monroe was selected for the series "you can rest assured the boys will be better housed and better fed than anywhere in Amercia."

Dr. Walker said "It is with special pride in representing the college to extend to you our facilities. We welcome you and now promise you every accomodation desired."

Eugene Smith, giving assurance "every civic club in West Monroe stands behind you in the effort" to get the tournament, promised chaperones for the teams and assistance in helping the visitors find appropriate entertainment while in West Monroe.

Wylie extended facilities of Highland Park Country Club which will open its doors to the baseball visitors, its swimming pool, dining rooms and buffet for five days of the week. "We're in dead earnest when we bid for this tournament," said Wylie in promising "Southern hospitality as we see it."

Sheiff Grant, after a bit of humor, acknowledged the pride of West Monroe in its young people, its churches, its schools. He called for the tournament as "a reward for our boys. They have worked for it. They have fought for it. They deserve it."

He concluded with the remark that the motto for the tournament should be: "Today's proift is tomorrow's good will."

Jack Gates recounted national requirements for a city to successfully qualify for the tournament and recited West Monroe's tep-by-step meeting of these requirements. "The turnout tonight amply indicates how much we want the tournament," he said.

Anderson's report from the grounds committee promised a baseball field that will meet all requirements, including lights and rest rooms, and adequate parking. Dugouts will be remodeled before tournament time.

Homer Gates, promising Louisiana barbecue that "the best west of the Mississippi," outlined entertainment plans including free theater tickets, bowling, swimming, golfing, parade, the grand opening parade at the ball park, and an opening day breakfast for team officials when certain tournament regulations will be reviewed.

C. W. Smith said birthday cakes will be given any players having birthdays during the course of the tournament, free newspapers will be given the boys, and he listed special awards for champion, runner-up and third place teams, including "Oscars" for the 18 members of each of the champion and second place clubs, the Dixie championship flag, lapel buttons for coaches, a batting trophy, and displaying on the United States, and Confederate flags plus state flags of all teams participating.

Dougherty emphasises interest in the tournament by citing that 2,500 Olin employes in West Monroe are interested, and estimating four persons average per family, that his figure meant 10,000 people connected with Olin in the West Monroe area are backing the event. He said Olin laboratories would be available for visits from any "young scientists" with the baseball teams, and that Olin's qualified first aid personnel will be offered to work with the young athletes.

Special guests, including Little Boys league officers, sponsors of the 18 teams in the three West Monroe leagues, civic club leaders, the ladies who prepared the decorations for the banquet, and other supporters of the West Monroe bid were in attendance.

After all tournament appeals had been heard, Commissioner Jones spoke his welcomed words.

The Rev. Dr. Clifton R. Tennison, pastor of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, gave the invocation for the meeting. Entertainment included vocal and trumpet solos by V. O. Gray, accompanied by Ronny Brothers. His "Old Man River" vocal solo and his trumpet rendition of "Tenderly" were well received, but his comedy vocal of "Old Mother Hubbard" was classic.

A state director and representatives of Louisiana's 72 leagues will hold their annual election of officers this afternoon at 1 a'clock at a meeting at Bancroft's camp.

WEST MONROE civic, church and business leaders last night heard Danny Jones, front center, declare the city 1962 host for the Dixie World Series of Little Boys Baseball. Left to right are Mayor Allan Norris of West Monroe, the Rev. Dr. Clifton R. Tennison, pastor of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe; Jones of South Carolina; Sheriff Bailey Grant; and Matt Goyak, national president of Little Boys baseball, also of South Carolina. Tribe Wins 2nd Straight GSC Cross Country Title

LAFAYETTE (Special) — Englishman Malcolm Robinson of Southwestern won the individual championship but Northeast State easily swept to its second straight Gulf States Conference team cross county title in the league meet here Saturday afternoon.

Northeast's victory was not too surprising but the ease with which Coach Bob Groseclose's Indians triumphed was. Northeast had 49 points, 15 less than second place University of Southwestern Louisiana.

Louisiana Tech came in third with 68 points, Northwestern was fourth with 71 and Southeastern was fifth with 114. McNeese failed to finish the minimum number of runners, five, and thus had no score.

The team with the lowest number of points wins in crosscountry.

The team victory gave Northeast its third GSC cross country title, or share of a title, in the past four years. The Indians shared the 1959 championship with McNeese and won outright in 1960.

Robinson, a freshman from London, finished with the excellent time of 19:14.9 over the four-mile course. Eiland, a senior from Shreveport who won the individual crown in 1959 and finished second in 1958 and 1960, had a 19:28.5 clocking and Ray Hale of Northwestern came in third with a 20:06.01 time Times for the other runners were unavailable.

Southwestern got a fifth-place finish from Charles Fuselier but did not have any other runners finish higher than 15th.

Tech's top man was freshman Frank Bright, who came in sixth. Earl Wright of Tech was 9th, Bob Hayes 11th and Allen Laird was 13th but Coach Jim Mize's next runner was 29th.

McNeese's 40-year-old wonder from England, Fred Norris, did not participate in the meet, run in sunny, plus-70 degree weather. Norris was the defending individual champion. He has been troubled by an injured knee all fall and has not run in a meet.

The victory was Northeast's fourth of the season. The Indians topped Louisiana Tech and Southwestern in dual meets and won the championship of the New Orleans Athletic Club handicap race Thanksgiving Day.

The only team to defeat Northeast was Mississippi State, the Southeastren Conference cross country titlist.

Groseclose praised his Indian team after the meet.

"I have never had a group of boys that I have been more proud of," he said. "All six boys extended themselves to the limit of their ability to win the championship."

Team totals: 1. Northeast State 49 points. 2. Southwestern 64. 3. Louisiana Tech 68. 4. Northwestern 71. 5. Southeastern 114. (McNeese did not finish five runners and thus had no score).

Individual finish:

1. Malcolm Robinson, USL (19:14.9)
2. Don "Buddy" Eiland, Northeast (19:28.5).
3. Ray Hale, Northwestern (20.06.1).
4. Paul Simmons, Northwestern.
5. Charles Fuselier, USL.

Capps Holds 5-Stroke Lead In Tourney

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — Billy Capps continued his sub-par play Saturday to take a five-stroke lead after 36 holes of the 54-hole $2,000 Louisiana State Open tournament.

Capps fired a 67 over the par 72 St. Mary Golf and Country Club for a two-round score of 132. Luca Barbato of Lafayette and Sammy Love Jr., Shreveport amateur, stayed tied for second with 137 after each shot a 71.

Capps, a Franklin club pro, carded three birdies and eagle two on the 358-yard second hole.

Play started late Saturday as heavy fog blanketed the 6,400-yard course

Gay Brewer Still Leading In Golf Play

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gay Brewer Jr. of Crystal River, Fla., clung to his 5-stroke lead Saturday in the $20,000 West Palm Beach Open Golf Tournament as some of golfdom's sharpshooters began to close in for Sunday's final round.

Brewer carded a 2-under-par 70 Saturday for a total of 203 in the first three rounds. Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex., carded a 67 for a 208 total and second place; and Sam Snead of Boca Raton, Fla., also carded a 67 for a 209 total and third place.

The tournament is being shot on the par-72, 6,745-yard country club course that most pros describe as having some of the roughest roughs in the country.

Saturday's round was played under sunny skies with little wind, a situation that some of the golfers said made the course a little easier.

Friday's runnerup to Brewer, Don Massengale of Jacksboro, Tex., was 2-over-par for the first time, shooting a 74 to go into a three-way tie for fourth place at 21110.

He tied with Arnold Palmer of Miami, who shot a 70; and Bobby Nichols of Midland, Tex., who shot a 71.

Trammell scored one touchdown himself on a one-yard buck and passed 11 yards to end Dick Williamson for another. Halfback Billy Richardson ran 11 and six yards for a pair of touchdowns and specialist Tim Davis booted field goals of 34 and 35 yards and added four conversions.

Alabama's gang - tackling defense, best in the country, played a major role in swamping the Tigers, setting up the first touchdown with a fumble recovery and turning back Auburn in four tries from the two-yard line in the last period.

In the second period scoring spree, with Auburn but a touchdown behind, Trammell guided an 80-yard touchdown march in 12 plays capped by his one-yard dive, then completed passes of 12 and nine yards to Red Wilkins before throwing to Williamson for the score in a 44-yard drive.

OVER BULLDOGS

Yellow Jackets Roll, 22-7 As Bill Williamson Leads

By DAVID M. MOFFIT

ATLANTA (UPI)—Halfback Bill Williamson, alternating blinding speed with sheer power, led Georgia Tech's Gator Bowl-bound Yellow Jackets to a 22-7 victory here Saturday over the Georgia Bulldogs.

A record crowd of 47,098 saw Williamson turn on his speed for two touchdowns and furnish vital yardage in between to enable the Yellow Jackets to beat the Bulldogs for the first time since 1956.

The Jackets snapped that four-game losing streak with a vengeance. Except for one drive in the third period that gave them their only touchdown, the Bulldogs never had a chance against the hard-charging Tech line that stopped Georgia's rushing game cold and kept pressure on the passers all afternoon.

Williamson scored his first touchdown midway through the second period when he took a pitchout from quarterback Billy Lothridge and tight-roped 30 yards down the sideline stripe.

His second tally came late in the fourth period when he turned Georgia's right end and outran a host of would-be tacklers on a six-yard jaunt into the end zone.

Georgia Tech, which now has a record of 7-3 for its best showing since 1956, got its first touchdown midway through the first period when quarterback Stan Gann climaxed a 56-yard march by foxing a Georgia defender on an option play and going unimpeded from eight yards out to score.

A few minutes later Tech got a break it did not need when Georgia quarterback Jake Saye had to fall on a bobbled punt attempt on his own 21. Lothridge, who had converted after Gann's touchdown, kicked a 28-yard field goal and Tech went ahead 10-0.

Georgia Tech marched 81 yards early in the second period with the last 30 yards coming on Williamson's run and was down on the Georgia 11-yard line late in the half, but was deprived of another score when Georgia halfback Don Blackburn intercepted a Gann pass in his own end zone.

Georgia's lone moment came midway through the third period when Saye found halfback Billy Knowles wide open and connected for 3 30-yard touchdown pass. Durwood Pennington converted what was to be the Bulldogs' final point.

Georgia, which had only one first down and a total net of 36 yards in the entire first half, drove 66 yards for the touchdown.

With Williamson, who gained a total of 113 yards on 19 carries Saturday afternoon, ripping off key yardage, the Yellow Jackets drove 80 yards through the tired Bulldog line with Williamson climaxing the march with his second touchdown.

Georgia Tech was supposed to be a passing team here but after being unsuccessful on six attempts, two of which were intercepted by Blackburn, stuck entirely to its running attack.

13-7 THRILLER

Navy Clips Army On Mather's Toe

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Greg Mather, Navy's near-sighted kicking wizard, booted field goals of 32 and 36 yards Saturday and dealt Army its third straight defeat, 13-7, in the colorful service football game witnessed by President Kennedy and a crowd of 101,000.

The two errorless goals by Mather, a 212-pound Los Angeles end who can't see the playing field without contact lenses, provided the decisive margin in the fierce, defensive battle which saw the two teams trade touchdowns in the third period.

	ARMY	NAVY
First downs	11	15
Rushing yardage	97	113
Passing yardage	88	116
Passes	5-11	10-17
Passes intercepted by	2	1
Punts	5-34.8	6-22.8
Fumbles lost	1	0
Yards penalized	15	35

Both touchdowns were set up by long passes. Al Rushatz, piledriving fullback, scored from the 1-yard line for Army while sophomore Bill Ulrich raced 13 yards for the Navy's score.

The field goals—in the second and fourth periods—were the 10th and 11th for Mather, who set an all-time record for points scored through kicking by a college player.

Mather, who has 20-300 vision, kicked 11 field goals and 22 extra points in 23 attempts this year, giving him 55 points and beating the record of 54, set by Ed Dyas of Auburn last year.

This was the sixth game won by Navy on a field goal in the series, dating back to 1890, and it was the first to swing on a kick since 1934 when a field goal by Slade Cutter gave the Middies a 3-0 victory.

President Kennedy, a wartime PT-boat commander, sat on the Army side of the field with members of his official government family in the first half of the game and moved to the Navy side during the final half.

Hatless and without a topcoat, the Chief Executive came to his feet several times to applaud outstanding plays in the bitter battle.

The setback was particularly galling for Army which now has won only one game in the last six. The last Army victory was in 1958, when the Cadets won 22-6. Navy won 43-12 in 1959 and 17-12 last year.

Crusaders Romp To 38-26 Victory Over B. C. Eagles

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—The passing of quarterback Pat McCarthy and the all-around play of halfback Al Snyder Saturday led Holy Cross to an easy 38-26 victory over Boston College in the 58th renewal of the bitter area rivalry.

After Snyder got the Crusaders off to a 6-0 lead with a brilliant 42 yard punt in the first quarter, McCarthy took over with his aerial show.

And Snyder, who was awarded the O'Melia Trophy as the game's outstanding player, was the man who made the passing attack work. His improvised pass patterns, sharp faking and glue-fingered catches kept the Crusaders moving just when it appeared BC had the drives stopped.

Snyder also sparkled on defense, catching runners from behind, knocking down passes and covering would-be receivers like a glove.

Faircloth Gets Vols Victory Over Vandy

By ESCAR THOMPSON

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mallon Faircloth, Tennessee's talented sophomore tailback, ran for two touchdowns Saturday in leading the Volunteers to a 41-7 football victory over Vanderbilt.

The triumph gave Tennessee a 6-4 record and assured the Vols of at least a tie for fourth place in the Southeastern Conference. It was Vandy's eighth straight loss, setting a 71-year record.

Faircloth, closing out a brilliant first year, raced 65 yards for a touchdown the second time he handled the ball. Later he dashed 5 for another touchdown to cap a 44-yard drive.

Before the Cordele, Ga., youth trotted off the field in the third period to an ovation by the 29,130 fans, he had netted 150 yards—110 on 10 runs and 40 on two passes. This boosted his season offense total to 935 yards.

The Commodores' lone touchdown came midway in the final period when Hank Lesesne, a fine quarterback in defeat, connected on four successive passes to the Tennessee 1. Fullback Jack Yusk crashed over. Grady Wade converted. Until this thrust, Vanderbilt had been unable to generate any offense against a hard-charging Vol line.

Alert Oklahoma Wins 21-13 On OS's Mistakes

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Alert Oklahoma cashed in three Oklahoma Sate mistakes Saturday for a 21-13 football victory and their 16th win in a row over the Cowboys.

The victory, Oklahoma's fifth consecutive this season after five straight losses, climaxed the Sooner's late season drive and gave them a 5-5 record.

Oklahoma took a 7-2 lead in the first quarter after Oklahoma State failed to cover a free kick following a safety. The Cowboys picked up five points in the first half on the first quarter safety and a second period 22-yard field goal by Ted Davis. Oklahoma took advantage of two breaks in the third quarter and turned them into touchdowns.

SMU Gains Tie With TCU Frogs

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) Southern Methodist quarterback Jerry Rhome connected on a 16-yard scoring pass to Buddy Nichols with 38 seconds left and the Mustangs hit for a two-point conversion to tie Texas Christian 28-28 in a thrilling Southwest Conference football game Saturday.

The tying points came on another pass, quarterback Roger Brauch to John Richey, on a smoothly executed conversion, and the two teams wrapped up a SWC campaign in typical fashion.

TCU spotted the Mustangs a 20-point lead in the first half and then battled back in the second stanza to gain what appeared to be certain victory.

ON THE FIRST offensive play of yesterday's Ole-Miss-Mississippi State game, Maroon halfback Jimmy Jenkins (43) took a pass from Charlie Furlow for six yards. Riding Jenkins down was Art Doty (35). Mississippi State lost yardage on the next three plays however and the gain was lost. (AP Wirephoto)

MEET BRUINS

Gophers Selected For Rose Bowl

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Minnesota's Golden Gophers were selected as expected Saturday to meet UCLA's Bruins in the Rose Bowl, a move that may pave the way for renewal of the bowl pact between the Big Ten and Big Five Conference.

The announcement, although withheld until after the Navy-Army game, was not affected by the service struggle.

Minnesota, with a 7-2 record and second in the Big Ten, returns to the Pasadena classic for the second straight year and gunning for revenge after losing 17-7 to Washington Jan. 2.

UCLA posted a 7-3 season record, losing to both Ohio State and Michigan of the Big Ten in intersectionals before winning the conference title.

The Rose Bowl pact between the Big Ten and the Big Five—originally the larger Pacific Coast Conference—started with the 1947 game when Illinois beat UCLA 45-14 and ended after Washington whipped Wisconsin 44-8 in the 1960 game.

It expired because the Big Ten deadlocked 5-5 over the issue. Minnesota, which voted against renewal, then was selected as an at-large team for the game last January and subsequently approved, making the margin 6-4 in favor. The Big Five is expected to agree although no formal action has been taken.

In Philadelphia, Big Five executive officer Tom Hamilton said, "We are very happy that Minnesota's fine team will play in our game again. Our relations with its teams, fans and university representative were most pleasant last year, and we look forward to renewing friendships."

Also at Philadelphia, Athletic Director Wilbur Johns of UCLA said, "We at UCLA are happy to be meeting the fine Minnesota team in the Rose Bowl."

By telephone from Minneapolis, Ike Armstrong, athletic director of Minnesota, declared, "Myself and my staff are very happy and pleased."

OVER NEW YORK PROTEST

Davis Drafted By Buffalo In AFL

DALLAS, Tex., (AP)—Buffalo picked Ernie Davis of Syracuse, the Heisman Trophy winner, in the American Football League draft Saturday over the protest of New York.

New York General Manager Steve Sebo claimed halfback Davis was taken in the "secret" draft conducted by the owners a week ago and which was voided by Commissioner Joe Foss because of an agreement with the American Football Coaches Association.

Foss pointed out that the secret draft, which brought on a heated controversy with the colleges and the opening of a feud between Foss and owner Harry Wismer of New York, wasn't being considered in this, the official draft.

The proceedings were held up for 45 minutes while Sebo tried to check with Wismer. He couldn't do it and finally took Sandy Stephens, the quarterback for Minnesota.

The AFL clubs leaned toward big, bruising tackles with 17 of these linemen being selected in the first eight rounds. Halfbacks were second, with 15 of those being picked.

Ends were next in importance, with 11 being selected.

The draft, to run for 30 rounds, continued on through the day with San Diego, the only undefeated team in the league, getting the best of it by virtue of having gobbled up a flock of choices through trades prior to the draft.

All of those taken Saturday may also be drafted by the National Football League, which holds its draft Monday at Chicago. Then will come the battle of the check books on those players who wait for the NFL draft before signing contracts.

ROYAL WATCHES

Rebels Win, 37-7; Officially In CB

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi struck in every period Saturday to smash archrival Mississippi State 37-7 and accepted an invitation to play Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

The Rebels, No. 5 college team in the nation, showed all their offensive and defensive brilliance before a crowd of 34,300, including Texas coach Darrell Royal and his staff.

Fullback Billy Ray Adams and quarterback Doug Elmore showed almost equal brilliance as they spearheaded two early thrusts that broke State's backs and put the Rebels in permanent command.

Athletic director C. M. (Tad) Smith of Ole Miss announced in the press box as the game ended:

"It is with a great deal of pleasure that I accept the Cotton Bowl invitation on behalf of the university, the Committee on Athletics and the Ole Miss football team. We consider it a great honor and privilege."

Adams and Elmore spearheaded a 35-yard march for the first touchdown, gobbling small bites on every play. Adams smashed over from the one to begin the rout that preserved the Mississippi string of no defeats by State since 1946.

In the second quarter, Elmore capped a 73-yard march with a 12-yard touchdown pass to halfback Art Doty, and end Wes Sullivan kicked the first of four conversions.

A 36-yard pass from quarterback Glynn Griffing to fullback Buck Randall was the big play of the march.

State got its only touchdown midway in the second quarter on a 73-yard drive featuring the running and passing of quarterback Billy Hill. The touchdown came on a 9-yard sweep by Hill, and fullback Sammy Dantone added the conversion.

The Rebels set a new total offense record as they picked up 420 yards against State, slightly over their average of 418.6 yards per game. The new school record was significant because the Rebels have led the Southeastern Conference eight times in the last 12 years.

The victory was the ninth in 10 games for the Rebels, who stumbled only in losing 10-7 to Louisiana State. Mississippi State, playing its last game under coach Wade Walker, finished with a 5-5 mark, its best since 1957.

The Cotton Bowl trip will be the 10th post season expedition for the Rebels since 1936 and their fifth in a row. In their previous Cotton Bowl appearance against Texas Christian in 1956, Ole Miss came from behind to win 14-13.

Griffing accounted for more yards than any other Ole Miss player, as he completed eight of 11 passes for 199 yards. Elmore completed only one of six, the touchdown strike to Doty.

Mira-Miller Spark Miami In 15-6 Win

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Miami cranked up its Mira-Miller passing combination in the second half Saturday and struggled to a 15-6 victory over a Florida team that yielded grudgingly to the Liberty Bowl-bound Hurricanes.

George Mira completed only two passes in the first half—one of them to Miami's phenomenal end Bill Miller—but he took to the air in a hurry after intermission and set up a tie-breaking touchdown with a 40-yard pass to Miller.

Although Miami—the favorite by one touchdown — didn't need the victory to cement its trip to the Liberty Bowl against Syracuse Dec. 16, it did give the Hurricane a more respectable 7-3 record.

Owls Win 26-14 As Butch Blume Scores Twenty

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Butch Blume won the Southwest Conference scoring title Saturday by running and kicking for 20 points as his Rice University Owls moved into the Bluebonnet Bowl by defeating the Baylor Bears, 26-14.

Rice accepted an invitation to meet Kansas in the Dec. 16 post season classic in the 70,000-seat Rice Stadium immediately after concluding its regular season with a 7-3 record. Kansas, with a 6-3-1 record, accepted its bid earlier.

Baylor had earlier accepted a bid to the Dec. 9 Gotham Bowl in New York City and Utah State had scouts on hand as the Bears completed their 5-5 season.

Rice was in front all the way as Blume kicked field goals of 27 and 33 yards, scored touchdowns on runs of 50 and 4 yards and made good on two of three conversion attempts. Roland Jackson scored the final Rice touchdown from the 1 to end a 63-yard fourth period drive.

COACHES' ALL-DISTRICT

Bondurant, Fairbanks Are Most Valuable 3-B Stars

"Sonny" Bondurant, 185 pound Wisner High fullback, and Carey Fairbanks, 190-pound Sicily Island guard, were named "most valuable" players in district 3-B football this season, the honors being bestowed by the coaches of the district at their annual meeting to choose the coaches' official all-district team.

Bondurant was acclaimed most valuable back, and Fairbanks was lauded as most valuable lineman.

The Sicily Island Tigers, runners-up to the Vidalia Vikings for the district title, led the coaches' ballot with five first team choices against three for Vidalia. Wisner landed two No. 1 berths, and Waterproof claimed one in the eight-school district.

The coaches' team, chosen for the Louisiana Sports Writers Association is accorded official recognition from the writers and member newspapers. Coaches of five schools were represented at the meeting, one other was represented by proxy, and one submitted nominations by telephone. Only one school failed to participate.

In addition to Bondurant, the all-senior backfield includes Jim Stringer, the passing master of the Vidalia team that went unbeteated in ten regular season games, beat Sicily Island, with a matching 10-won mark for the season, in the district playoff before losing to Pine Prairie in bi-district. Stringer is a 165-pound senior standing six-foot-one. His regular season record shows 40 completed passes in 65 pitches for 743 yards and eight touchdowns. He also averaged 4.73 yards per carry in 60 runs with the ball.

Franklin was the district's leading scorer over the regular distance with 141 points. He carried the ball 83 times for a 7.1 average, and caught 22 passes for 337 yards and five touchdowns.

Pressing for first team backfield selection but settling for respectable places on the No. 2 team were Ray Ratcliff, classy quarterback with Davidson of St. Joseph, and Jesse Wilson, Vidalia, Allen Perritt, Newellton, and Fred Miller, Davidson.

Front line ballots went to ends Benton Blackman, Sicily Island, and W. H. Sanders, Wisner; tackles Kenneth Bird, Sicily Island, and Jerry Richardson, Vidalia; guards Vic Mahoney, Waterproof, in addition to Fairbanks of Sicily Island, and center Joe Raymond Peace, Sicily Island.

Blackman is the lightest of the all-stars at 135 pounds. Fairbanks is the heaviest at 190. All are seniors except juniors Sanders, Bird, and Peace.

The second team linemen were named as Calvin Rabb, Waterproof, and Danny Kifer, Newellton, ends; Joe Bondurant, Wisner, and Claude Clark, Davidson, tackles; and Byron Fournet, Davidson, center.

Meek Is Fired As SMU Coach

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Bill Meek, who had only one winning season in five years at Southern Methodist University, was removed as head football coach Saturday night.

The executive committee of the board of trustees announced here that it would not renew the option on his contract which has five years to run but that he would have another position at the university if he wanted it.

Ohio State Wins But Lucas Stopped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes, top-ranked in The Associated Press pre-season basketball poll, turned back Florida State 72-57 Saturday night, but the Seminoles double-teamed 6-foot-8 Jerry Lucas and held the All-America to 11 points.

Falgout Wins GSC Rushing Crown For 61

LAKE CHARLES, (Special) — Carlton Falgout, Southwestern halfback who closed out his season with able performances against McNeese and Henderson State, is the ball carrying champion of the Gulf States conference for 1961.

Willie Ragan, of Northeast, was in third place only inches behind the leaders. Ragan's average was 5.09 for 75 carries. Wilbur Derrick, another Southeastern ace, had an even five-yard average, among ball carriers with 60 or more attempts during the season.

Tech Cagers To Use Two Platoon Play

SPTS 1 TECH CAGERS KD

RUSTON (Special)—About all Louisiana Tech Coach Cecil Crowley has determined prior to the basketball opener against Mississippi State Wednesday is that he will send two platoons of youngsters against the Maroons.

Tech opens against State in Starkville Wednesday night and then shifts over to Oxford to meet Ole Miss Thursday night. The home opener is Dec. 15 against Southeast Oklahoma State.

Crowley will be trying to improve on a 7-16 record of last season with s squad composed of three seniors, one junior, seven sophomores, and seven freshmen.

One of his units is composed of sophomores, five youths who played on the Tech freshman team a year ago. These include Joe Abendroth of Shreveport and Tommy Gist of Natchez, Miss., at forward; Jesse Bridges of Pleasant Hill at center, and Butch Miller of Jackson, Miss., and Dave Hruska of Minden at guard.

Ray Penny, the 6-3 Coushatta frosh, has a good chance of moving onto one of the units, as does Bob Bretz, the Ruston frosh. Others who will see action include Jerry Hood, Ruston frosh, Joe Moreland, Minden junior, and Max Howard, Pineville frosh.

Mississippi State Five Stops SLC Behind Mitchell

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) —Center Leland Mitchell scored 25 points to lead Mississippi State to a 96-72 victory over Southeastern Louisiana Saturday night.

James Cress scored 22 points to lead Southeastern. Wallace Waddell was second for SLC with 17 points.

BERLIN CRISIS TALKS

Soviets Prefer Summit Session

GENEVA (UPI)—Russia is cool to four-power talks on Berlin and would prefer to settle the issue through direct Soviet-American talks—possibly a new Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting Russian sources said Saturday.

The Soviet sources said President Kennedy's interview with Izvestia Editor Alexei Adzhubei constituted an "opening move" toward a wider policy exchange between the White House and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

They gave strong indications Khrushchev himself might reply to the interview and that the Kremlin might put out feelers for new top level exchanges of views. The Communist diplomats said they felt chances of direct Moscow-Washington contacts were promising.

The Russian sources said above all the Kremlin did not want a four power foreign ministers conference to try to resolve the Berlin crisis but would prefer any direct U. S.-Soviet talks follows an "advance understanding" reached through diplomatic channels in Moscow or Washington.

Western firmness on Berlin and known differences among the Allies on whether and what to negotiate appear to have caused second thoughts in the Kremlin. Previously the Russians have wanted four-power negotiations.

One factor appeared to be the fact the United States and Britain appeared willing to negotiate but President Charles de Gaulle has stated repeatedly he would not negotiate under pressure. The Kremlin feeling now appeared to be that if the West fails to reconcile Allied policy differences, then the United States backed by Britain would agree to talk directly with Moscow before broader four-power talks are held.

Santa Arrives At Eastgate; Gets Welcome

The Christmas season got off to a full swing in the Twin Cities when Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus arrived by plane at the municipal airport Saturday. An estimated crowd of 1500 youngsters and parents were on hand to welcome "Saint Nick."

Representatives of the Eastgate division of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce were on hand to officially welcome the distinguished visitors, and to escort them to the Eastgate Shopping Center. Here Santa set up his headquarters in this area's most unusual display — the Eastgate "Santa House." Santa will be there each day from 4 to 8:30 p.m. to talk with youngsters throughout the Monroe-West Monroe area. Mrs. Claus will assist Santa with his duties and will take pictures of the kiddies sitting on Santa's lap, if the parents so desire.

Many local firms participated in the opening day ceremonies by giving free favors and refreshments to children present. Santa himself will give free candy, balloons and favors to all the good little girls and boys who visit him in the "Santa House" from now 'til Christmas.

The Eastgate merchants urge parents to bring their children to see the "Santa House" and to visit with Santa. For your convenience all Eastgate firms will be open every night until nine through Dec. 23.

Watson of West Monroe, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virginius Sutherland Beem of Atlanta, Georgia. The wedding will take place on January 27 in the Chapel of Peachtree Presbyterian church in Atlanta. The bride-elect is a senior at Newcomb College and Lieutenant Watson is a graduate of West Monroe high school and Tulane University.

Mrs. Vane E. Howard, prior to her marriage Saturday, December 2 in the First Presbyterian church at Houston, Texas was Miss Jean Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Smith, 1801 Trenton, West Monroe. Mr. Howard is the son of Vane R. Howard and the late Mrs. Howard of Hammond, Indiana. Following the 3 p.m. ceremony a reception was held in the Junior League Club of Houston.

Mrs. W. M. Greenwell Jr. and son, William Merrell Greenwell III, with Mr. Greenwell of Pecos, Texas, have been guests of Mr. Greenwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Greenwell Sr., in their new home at 2320 Whitney Drive. The senior Greenwells recently returned to Monroe to establish residence after 10 years absence while residing in Texas.

by Doniso

December, that gayest and gladdest of seasons, is with us again, with camellia blooms making their appearance, and the first cool spell visiting the cities. We hope to report many happy times for all ages during the weeks to come.

A beautifully appointed coffee was that given Wednesday morning by LOUISE BIRD and LaVERNE BURGESS in the Bird home on Point drive. The hostesses greeted their guests in the entrance hall, which was decorated with a Hogarth curve of Scotch broom, yellow and mauve chrysanthemums in a white urn.

In the family room, pyracantha berries were used in a large fan-shaped arrangement placed on the hearth and again in a bouquet on a side table. The breakfast room table was centered with a crystal cake stand holding a pyramid of apples, lemons, and berries.

The dining table held a crystal and silver epergne filled with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Coffee and spiced tea were served at opposite ends of the table. MAXINE RILEY, JESSIE WALTON, FRANCES ADCOCK and MARY FAULK alternated at the silver services. On the buffet was a copper urn holding an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums, red berries, and kumquats.

Others who assisted in the serving included MARY ELLISON, CAROLYN WARE, MARY EASON, MARION USREY, MATTIE LAYNE, MRS. CHARLES PALMER, CHARLOTTIE DENT, and JANE YERGER.

About two hundred ladies called between the hours of ten and twelve, including MRS. O. B. CLARK, MRS. CHARLES LEWIS, and MRS. DARRELL WOOLEY of Strong, Arkansas.

An out-of-town visitor is always a good reason for having a party. Tuesday afternoon, JEANNIE DOWNING entertained with a bridge party honoring DORIS GREMILLION, who with husband JACK was here on a three-day visit from Baton Rouge. The affair was held at the Paragon club. MILDRED VANDERPOOL received a gold pin for high score, with Charlottie Dent winning a Santa Claus figure, traveling prize. Lemon chiffon pie was the dessert served to three tables of players.

Earlier this week, the JACK MABRAYS had as their guests Betty's mother, MRS. J. D. TRIMBLE, and Jack's mother, MRS. E. E. MABRAY, both of El Dorado. Mrs. Mabray stayed here with her son and grandchildren while Betty and Mrs. Trimble were in New Orleans from Thursday until today.

On Wednesday afternoon, Betty invited a small group of ladies to meet her visitors. The dining table in the Mabray home on Oak Drive was centered with a silver epergne filled with camellia blooms. The dainties served with coffee included chicken salad sandwiches, Bourbon balls, sand tarts, and cheese biscuits.

For her fifth birthday Tuesday, PATTY RILEY had a "Lady Luncheon" at the Riley home on Pargoud boulevard. Fourteen little girls, all dressed as ladies and bringing their baby dolls, attended the party. A doll centered the birthday cake, which was iced with frills depicting ruffles. Included on the menu were fried chicken, English peas with mushrooms, congealed salad, hot rolls, cake and ice cream. Fans were given as favors to the little ladies.

Celebrating her ninth birthday, SUSAN ALEXANDER was hostess at a skating party Wednesday. Sixty children attended the party, with BILLY HUSTED and SHELA CLARK being judged best skaters. Silver dollars were awarded Stop the Music winners, who were MARY VAUGHN INABNET, SHERRY HARRIS, BILL HAILE, and GEORGE PATE. Favors were ink stamping sets for girls and flying saucers for boys. Cupcakes and soft drinks were refreshments.

Whenever Richard Cory went down town,
We people on the pavement looked at him.
He was a gentleman from sole to crown,
Clean favored and imperially slim.
And he was always quietly arrayed,
And he was always human when he talked;
But still he fluttered pulses when he said,
"Good morning', and he glittered when he walked.
And he was rich—yes, richer than a king—
And admirably schooled in every grace—
In fine, we thought that he was everything
To make us wish that we were in his place.
So on we worked, and waited for the light,
And went without the meat, and cursed the bread.
And Richard Cory, one calm summer night,

White Christmas Theme Marks Junior League Ball

Glittering silver and snowy white appointments throughout the main ballroom emphasized the frosty "White Christmas" theme. A huge snowball formed by myriads of white roses combined with silver leaves and glitter was suspended above the bandstand. A white picket fence, which surrounded the bandstand was also entwined with white roses and silver leaves.

Mrs. Jesse D. McDonald was in charge of decorations and members of the dance committee in addition to Mrs. McDonald were Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst, Mrs. R. G. Hart, Mrs. Harry Bell, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Harold Woods Jr., Mrs. Kent Anderson and Mrs. Jack Madden.

Approximately 200 couples attended the gala occasion which was in celebration of the 30th anniversary of Monroe Junior Charity League's service to the community.

White camellias and magnolia leaves formed a background in the First Presbyterian church of Houston, Texas, for the wedding of Miss Jean Elizabeth Smith, formerly of West Monroe, and Vane E. Howard, both of Houston, which was solemnized Saturday, December 2.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Smith, 1801 Trenton, West Monroe, and the bridegroom is the son of Vane R. Howard and the late Mrs. Howard of Hammond, Ind.

Rev. Robert Sunday performed the double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. in candlelight setting. Branched candelabra, arranged in pyramid fashion, were entwined with magnolia foliage and interspersed with baskets of white camellias.

Traditional wedding marches were played by the organist, Mrs. Carter Chambers Jr. of Baton Rouge. Charles Pabor, who also accompanied Mrs. James Dennis as she sang "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white tissue taffeta. The basque bodice featured a portrait neckline outlined with clusters of seed pearls, and the bouffant skirt was caught up in back to form a modified bustle effect. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a headdress of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white camellias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Carter Chambers Jr. of Baton Rouge, served as matron of honor, and only attendant for the bride. She wore a sheath gown of jade green peau de soie with bodice of matching lace, and a headpiece fashioned of Jade green peau de soie. Red carnations with holly and croton leaves comprised her bouquet.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith wore a mauve lace and crepe dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Howard, stepmother of the bridegroom, was attired in a beige sheer wool crepe ensemble, with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the Junior League Club of Houston. A mass arrangement of white carnations, flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers formed the central decor for the bride's table. The bride's book table, which was garlanded with white flowers held a single memory candle in a silver candelabra.

Members of the house party in charge of reception courtesies were Miss Cathy Boeming, Miss Shirley Crane, Miss Janet Woods, all of Houston, and Mrs. Jack Smith of Monroe.

For travel when the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a Jade green wool suit with feather hat to match, black accessories and a white camellia corsage. They will reside at 1610 Jersey Drive in Houston.

Yule Wreath

Add Stole For Fashion Dash

The quickest way to fashion zing this fall and winter is by way of the stole. The bigger the better, they lend colorful dash to coats and suits, sweep with glitter through evenings.

If last year's coat must do, buy two or three yards of colorful jersey, seam it and throw it around your shoulders. For added zest get two colors of jersey to make it.

Simple sheath dresses can be brought up to date with stoles. Add buttons to one shoulder of the dress, put buttonholes in one of the stole. The free end floats as a panel at back, or wraps around the shoulders for chilly day warmth.

New Fur Status Symbol

AP Newsfeatures

Thanks to the law of supply and demand, fashion's newest status symbol is wrap, coat or jacket made of natural white Persian lamb.

A woman needs more than a generous man in her life to find one under her Christmas tree. She needs a man with shopping luck. They're hard to locate.

The number produced was limited to a handful, fur manufacturers claim because so few of the rare natural Southwest African pelts were found this year.

Traveling With Children Can Be Made Enjoyable

Late autumn traveling with children does not necessarily have to be a traumatic experience. With a little ingenuity, patience and planning, a long family trip can be enjoyable and rewarding for all concerned.

As one mother pointed out after a cross-country trip with two pre-school children, you cannot expect little "Indians" to sit still and gaze through the windshield as if it were a television set. However, if you include your child in your travel plans and consider his needs and desires, your trip will be much happier and well worthwhile.

If your child is very young, the first thing to realize is that you cannot drive too many hours at a stretch. Short stops at roadside picnic or amusement areas will break up a long trip and alleviate constant "I want this" and "I want that" demands.

An important safety consideration is how to keep children from roaming freely throughout the car when it is moving. Injuries resulting from children being thrown against doors and seats when drivers swerve in heavy traffic are common. The solution, fortunately, is a simple one—use seat belts. It is imperative that each child has a belt of his own. Not only does this eliminate a potential source of conflict between children, but it affords each child maximum safety.

You can, in fact, start him at an early age. When he is big enough to graduate from a baby car seat, give him his own seat belt. Introduce it to him as a special treat usually reserved for grown-ups and he will be eager to use it.

Once the child is safely held in place by his seat belt, it is wise to provide a store of amusements to keep him happy. Compact inexpensive toys that will occupy the small child without requiring him to move about, are available in most variety and department stores.

A few suggestions are coloring books, link toys that can be shaped into people, animals or fanciful creatures; game boards that are small enough to be held in the lap (there are pegged and magnetic boards on the market to keep play pieces in place); and puzzles such as the wooden block type which can be taken apart and reassembled.

Older children enjoy singing and all types of verbal games, such as making alphabets from passing signs and counting cows or billboards on either side of the car. Practicing number relations, doing riddles and tongue twisters, are also good ways of keeping active minds occupied.

Occasionally, of course, your child will demand personal attention and it is wise to give it to him; a little will last a long while and he will entertain himself more willingly if you devote a few precious minutes to him. Reading aloud to a travel-weary child is one way of quieting him down when he gets restless.

If you are traveling more than one day, eating lunch and snacks outdoors is easy and inexpensive, and also a good way to let the children run around for a while. It is a simple matter to pack a picnic basket with a generous supply of cookies, crackers and paper napkins. This can be supplemented with milk, bread, fruit, cold cuts and cheese at a roadside grocery right before lunchtime. A stop at a restaurant for dinner—early to avoid the rush—will be even more of a treat and easier on the nerves when the children have already been given a chance to work off energy at previous stops.

If you plan your trip with these few suggestions in mind, plus others learned from travel experience, your trip will be a stimulating adventure for your child and pleasant for his parents, too. Awareness of the needs of your child and adherence to safe driving technique assure a happy arrival of your destination.

Don't Chew The Pearls: Jewelers Warn

AP NEWSFEATURES

Ladies should not bite their pearls. It's no way to tell whether they are real or simulated.

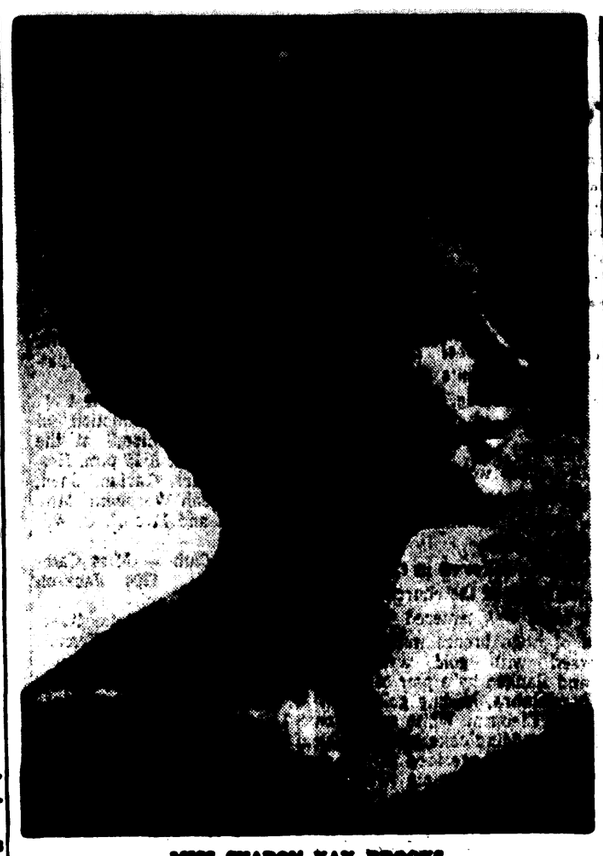
Because jewelers touch pearls to their teeth, women have been damaging theirs at a record rate by chewing on them, claim alarmed members of the Cultured Pearl Association.

Actually the slightest contact with the teeth is enough to determine whether a gem is smooth and therefore simulated, or grainy and consequently cultured, they say.

Simulated pearls are usually made of glass bead or plastic centers covered with layers of lustrous substance of fish scales.

Cultured pearls are developed by inserting a tiny irritant into the fleshy interior of an oyster. The oyster builds a coat around it. Natural pearls are built by the oyster around a speck of sand or some other natural intruder.

The naked eye ca not tell the difference between the two kinds of cultured pearls. Experts rely on x-ray reports.



MISS SHARON KAY BROOKS

Brilliant Accessories Team With Blue-Green Combination In Home

By BETTY PEPIS

Q: In our new house, we have painted the living room walls white. One chair is turquoise, one is slip-covered in a turquoise, pale blue, dark green and white stripe. What colors for rug and new couch? I like blue-green combination and seek something contemporary.

A. A muted turquoise rug would be my choice for your room. Cover the couch in a deep, bright blue. For occasional accessories and in bunches of flowers, select brilliant red or yellow.

Q: The cabinets in my kitchen are a natural birch honey color. The counter tops are a pale aquamarine. I would like to introduce another color. What should it be for walls, floor and windows? I am also repainting the kitchen dining set. Room is very bright.

A: If kitchen is bright, a pale greenish yellow might be a good color for the walls. Floor could be a marbleized vinyl with a honey tone. For the windows, select a small scale print of green-yellow, aquamarine, honey and bright navy. Have two seat cushions of dining set in print and two in bright navy. Paint dining set in aquamarine deeper than counter tops.

Q: My living room has gray wall-to-wall carpeting, lime sofa, dark green chair and another chair in toast. Draperies are in a green pattern on a beige ground. Walls are pink. I know there are too many colors in room. Should I repaint walls, change draperies, or what?

A: Walls should either be a muted lime green color or a pale pearl gray. Draperies, if you want a print, could be in a background color of walls. Should you select lime, then have print in gray, dark green and introduce another color such as cardinal red or mustard yellow. You might also recover the toast colored chair in whatever color you decide and also pick it up for incidental accessories.

Q: My kitchen is small, it has knotty pine cabinets and yellow counter tops. Linoleum is white with spatter design in orange, turquoise and black. Walls are turquoise at present with white ceiling. Thought of soft tangerine for walls, but would this make room appear much smaller?

A: Yes, warm colors tend to make a room seem smaller. I would suggest a pale yellow for walls and ceiling. White yellow is also warm, it is less so than tangerine and, too, it relates to the yellow counter tops. Have yellow curtains with perhaps a trim of orange rick-rack braid.

Q: My living room is 14 by 16. Have maple sofa and one chair covered in a floral print with beige ground and brown, turquoise blue and burnt orange. A wing chair is grey. What color walls, woodwork, ceiling and draperies, also rug? If I recover grey chair, what should it be?

A: The print on sofa and chair sounds pleasant enough to be the basis for color scheme of room. Walls, woodwork and ceiling in pale beige. Draperies could be beige or turquoise, rug is brown, or better still, a hooked rug in beige, white, brown, turquoise and burna orange. Recover grey chair in brunt orange. Have turquoise throw pillows, brass pieces in accessories.

If you're tired of Christmas trees that dry out before the holidays end, but don't like the artificial ones, have you considered buying a living tree? Besides being beautiful at Christmas time, it will become a permanent addition to your landscaping when planted outdoor.

MARCH SUGGESTION

NEW YORK (AP) — Canadian actor Douglas Campbell was raised to co-star billing in the drama "Gideon" at the behest of Fredric March, who had been set for solo spotlight listing.

March made the suggestion at the start of rehearsals, and the idea was quickly adopted by producers Fred Coe and Arthur Cantor.

MRS. CORDELL IRA HOGAN

Saturday Nuptials Unite Patsy Boner, Mr. Hogan

Miss Patsy Ruth Boner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Fee Boner, 812 K Street, Monroe, became the bride of Cordell Ira Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hogan of Elmer, in a double ring ceremony solemnized Saturday, December 2 in Cook Baptist church at Ruston.

Rev. Marvin Jones performed the 2:30 p.m. ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and close friends. A massive arrangement of chrysanthemums and gladioli centered the altar for the exchange of vows.

Traditional nuptial music was played by Miss Deanna Strickland, organist, who also accompanied Bill Hudson as he sang "I'll Walk With God."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the apartment of the newlyweds, 716 S. Vienna in Ruston. For a short trip to Shreveport, the bride was wearing a purple wool suit with matching feather hat, purple goves and other accessories of black suede. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hogan was graduated from Neville High School and attended Northeast Louisiana College and Louisiana Tech. She is a member of Delta Omicron sorority. Mr. Hogan graduated from Plainview high school and will graduate in January, 1962 from Louisiana Tech.

Glycerin Ousts Ink

An ink stain can usually be removed from a washable garment by soaking the spotted area in glycerin for an hour. The treated section should be washed and rinsed before washing the entire garment.

Prevents Shine

One way to prevent navy blue or black trousers from becoming shiny is to use a pressing cloth that has been dampened with a solution of one teaspoon of blueing in a pint of water.

ENGAGEMENT of Miss Elizabeth (Mott) Farley to SP—4 Larry J. Cotten, with the Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Farley of Wisner. The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cotten of Sicily Island. Date of the wedding to take place in Wisner Methodist church, is undecided.

Girl Scout News

The long fall has been ideal for troop camping, cool enough for hikes, for fires in the fireplace at night and in the morning, warm and sunny at midday, and the trees still beautiful.

Troop 15 had looked forward and planned for a camp when the girls could sleep in tents for the first time. Months ago they had made reservation for Pine Wood for two nights in Thanksgiving Week. The girls planned carefully, made kaper charts to take care of camp duties, and practiced making bedrolls that included sleeping bags and ground cloths. According to leaders, Mrs. John Salisbury and Mrs. Charles Schneider, all the mechanics went beautifully, patrols discharging their duties well, and leaving plenty of time for fun.

Asked what was the highlight of the camp, leaders unhesitatingly answered "the tents." The girls had practiced tent pitching in troop meetings, so were able to put up the tents and ditch them properly.

The group took advantage of Mrs. N. L. Huckabee's visit to go on the five-mile hike that many troops have enjoyed under her direction. It includes the gravel pits, with its Indian paint rocks, petrified wood and other treasures, a grassy bluff on the river, sand bars and rivulets along the river, an echo that talks back from across the river, a choice of routes to explore on the way back to camp. Mrs. G. A. Waschka and Mrs. Frank Maxwell spent the nights with the troop and Mrs. A. B. Gregory, Jr., came out for one day.

Some of the new and adventurous experiences of the camp were a flashlight hike that turned into a moonlight hike when no flashlights were needed, digging a bean hole and cooking a big pot of stew in it for one meal, (a bean hole is not always for beans) and most exciting of all, perhaps, keeping watch by the fire all night, two girls for an hour at a time. Watching the stars, listening to night sounds, tending the fire in the quiet of a sleeping camp, provided a thrill such as these city girls had never had before.

The girls maintained a fire outdoors and one in the fireplace throughout the camping period. Mr. Charles Schneider helped with the fuel problem by taking a trailer of logs for use by the campers.

These girls are not only proficient in out-of-door skills. They a doing a service by spending one of their troop meeting days each month playing with younger children at the children's home. At other meetings for some weeks they have carried on the activities of the hospitality badge, getting practice in being gracious hostesses and guests. They are looking forwad to December 18, when, under direction of their school music teacher, Mrs. Melody, they plan to sing carols at St. Francis Hospital.

Silhouettes In Furs Are Clearly Defined

Furs will move up closer to the body this season, with coats following the shape of the waistline. There will be many degrees of fit, always easy yet clearly defined, that accentuate the female curves within a slimming make-up. Flared action will be bursting out at the hemline.

Long torso themes will be reflected in many fur coats. Waistline drops are planned for both dressy and casual garments, the drop more often suggested than definite for added wearability. In addition to the drop of a belt or a seam, the low placement of pouched-out pockets or the like will accent fall's long line.

Cape cuts also will receive strong backing this fall; they are sure to be cast as main supporters of fulness in fur coats. More of a trend-setter will be the bona fide cape. It's now on its way to cover increased fashion ground, in new short cuts besides full length.

Three quarter fur coats are among the most likely successes of 1961. And running parallel with the short coat trend will be the newer one of longer jackets as fashion avant-gardes prepare to extend their line to the wrist, the knuckles and the fingertips.

Wedding Vows Unite Couple In Tallulah

Solemnized Thursday, November 23 at 9 a.m. in Trinity Episcopal church at Tallulah was the wedding of Mrs. Shirley Benjamin Rivenbark and Dr. Albert Bruce Cochran. The Rev. William Parkerson officiated at the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Walter Benjamin of Baton Rouge, wore a deep blue dress with matching jacket, hat and accessories. She wore white gloves and a white orchid corsage.

After the exchange of vows a wedding breakfast was served at the Benjamin home and the couple left for a short trip. They will reside on Cooper Street.

Out - of - town family members in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Benjamin and daughters of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Moore and family of Epps, Mrs. Bessie Gould of Bastrop; Mrs. W. P. Rollins of Delhi; Miss Elizabeth Benjamin of Natchez, Mrs. A. M. Cochran and Miss Geraldine Cochran of Selma, Pennsylvania.

Spanking Clean

To improve the appearance of a wool sweater, wash it, and while it's still damp, brush it with a hair brush. This will remove balls of fuzz that often form.

MRS. CLYDE E. RATCLIFF JR.

Candlelight Vows Unite Myra Curry, Mr. Ratcliff

Newellton Union Church was the scene of a double ring ceremony solemnized at 6 p.m. Friday, November 24 which united in marriage Miss Myra Jane Curry of Newellton and Clyde E. Ratcliff Jr. of St. Joseph. Rev. Paul Snellgrove performed the nuptials. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Curry of Newellton and Mr. Ratcliff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Ratcliff of St. Joseph.

Two pedestal baskets of white gladioli and Fuji chrysanthemums were centered with a pyramid arch of branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers, entwined with southern smilax and pompons. A row of potted palms flanked two tall palm trees formed a background of greenery and completed the setting.

Miss Janie Bounds, organist, presented a program of traditional nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Donald Gregory as she sang "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candles were lighted by Horace Curry Jr. and Bay Ratcliff, brothers of the bride and bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of bouquet taffeta. The fitted basque bodice was styled with a scalloped Sabrina neckline of reembroidred Alencon lace and long sleeves which formed lily points over the hands. The bouffant bell skirt was accented with appliques of the reembroidered Alencon lace which were repeated on the back panels which formed a chapel train. A crown encrusted with seed pearls and crystals held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and lily of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Miss Rose Ann Teller of Baton Rouge, served as maid of honor. She wore a gown of emerald green peau de soie, fashioned with fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and bracelet length sleeves. The dome skirt featured a polonaise drape in back. Double velvet bows held a circular veil of matching emerald illusion which formed her headdress. She wore matching satin shoes and short white gloves and carried a cascade arrangement of white glamellias.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically to the honor attendant, were Miss Kathryn Patton and Mrs. Gerry Clark of Monroe. Miss Donna Kay Curry, sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid.

Mr. Ratcliff attended his son as best man. Groomsmen were Mitchell Ratcliff, brother of the groom and Douglas Ratcliff, his cousin of Mesquite, Tex. Horace Curry Jr. and Bay Ratcliff were ushers.

Mrs. Curry wore a gown of champagne beige silk with matching accessories and a purple orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a gold brocade gown with matching accessories and a purple orchid corsage.

Following the exchange of vows a reception was held in the church annex, where a pink and white color theme was used in the floral arrangements and other appointments throughout the reception room. The bride's table was covered with an imported cutwork linen cloth and centered with the three-tiered columnar wedding cake topped with miniature wedding bells. Maidenhair fern and tiny chrysanthemums garlanded the cake and the crystal punch bowls placed at opposite ends.

Mrs. Elwood Gould, aunt of the bride, of Shreveport and Mrs. Carroll Dufresney of Natchez, served the cake and Mrs. Bruce Tatum and Mrs. J. R. Whitaker presided at the punch bowls. Serving as the girls were Misses Bettie Will Whitaker, Ann Colt and Gloria Crunk. Mrs. Lee Schuster of Natchez, guest of the bride, registered the guests. Others assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Emanuel Teller, Mrs. Edwin Price, Mrs. Hilda Moore and Mrs. Harvey Patton Jr.

For travel the bride selected an emerald green wool jersey ensemble with black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at 604 South Trenton in Ruston, where Mr. Ratcliff will continue his studies at Louisiana Tech.

Timely Beauty Hints

If you are planning to change the color of your hair in order to try a completely new look, remember that it is very important to also change the colors of your accent make-up.

According to one beauty authority, the coloring of your lipstick, rouge, and eye make-up should be in keeping with your new hair color. For instance, if you go from a brunette to a redhead, use lipstick and rouge in coral and orange tones. Lighten brows by shading and shaping them with eyebrow pencil to harmonize with your hair.

If you become a blonde, choose lipstick and rouge in light reds to pinks. Lighten your brows to an even greater degree by shaping them with a light brown pencil for a pale eye brown look. Brownettes can wear most lipstick shades but should lean toward the brighter tones. Brows should be made up in a rich velvety brown tone. In each instance, dramatize your eyes to harmonize with your new coloring. Foundation make-up remains the same for it is always determined by the coloring of your skin. For summertime fashion wear lipstick colors in matte-finish pastel tones.

Spring Ball Gowns Are 'Ladylike'

By SUE REILLY

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Women will be all woman and men will be all eyes when milady appears in one of the attention-demanding ball gowns designed by California fashion creators.

Southern California designers, previewing their spring collections at the 11th annual Press Week, dictate a gently styled, floating entrance for after-five wear.

He had several show-stoppers.

One white gown, featuring a twinkling beaded bodice with half-inch straps and a skirt that swept the floor at least two feet in back, brought applause from usually restrained fashion editors.

Another creation, an orange, pink and shocking pink carnation pattern on white, was styled about one inch below the knee in front, sweeping to a back train.

All of his gowns, showing no color preference, are ladylike and sophisticated.

Helen Rose's collection followed suit. Her three-piece ensembles were invariably a straight suit jacket and skirt with a fussy blouse of chiffon underneath. Ruffles ran down the front and clipped the wrist.

Helga's outfits were in much the same vein, with smart tailoring in skirt and jacket, and fanciful fluffy blouses underneath.

Bewhiskered William Pearson's collection featured the same trend as previous couturier designers. His most inspired creation was a white guipure lace over organdy dancing gown with a peau de soie stole.

"Iced" holly can be created by pouring paraffin over the berries used in wreaths or in sprays. This will help to preserve the berries for the holiday period.

Twilight Nuptials Unite Miss Lewis, James Currie

In a twilight ceremony solemnized at 5 p.m. Saturday, November 18 in the First Baptist church of Delhi, Miss Dolores Lewis became the bride of James Fredrick Currie. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Warner Lewis Sr. of Delhi and Mr. Currie is the son of Mrs. Charles K. Peters of Corsicana, Texas and the late Dr. M. O. Currie of Monticello, Mississippi.

Rev. Connie Ward performed the double ring ceremony before the altar which was centered with a massive arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums against a background of manolia leaves. Lighted gold tapers in seven branched candelabra completed the setting for the exchange of vows.

Candles were lighted by Miss Linda Gail Moyers and Miss Judy Lewis, nieces of the bride, who wore identical dresses of emerald green taffeta, styled with fitted bodices and full skirts. They wore half hats of green taffeta and tulle, green satin slippers and wrist corsages of bronse pompons.

Guests were seated by ushers, Tommy Wainwright of New Orleans and Frank Russo of Kenner. Mrs. E. W. Schon, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Floyd Fisher, who sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white peau de soie with double panels on either side of the voluminous skirt which terminated in a chapel train, outlined with appliques of lace reembroidered with seed pearls and crystal beads. Lace applique motifs formed the neckline of the basque bodice and long sleeves tapered to lily points over the hands. A pearl encrusted crown held her waist-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of Frenched carnations centered with a specimen white orchid, tied with white satin streamers.

Mrs. William A. Laird of Pasadena, Texas, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a ballerina length gown of emerald green velvet and taffeta, styled with fitted bodice and full skirt. Her half-hat of green taffeta featured a full veil of green tulle and she carried a cascade bouquet of bronze Fuji chrysanthemums.

Serving as best man for Mr. Currie was his brother-in-law, James Hudson Dulin of Bude, Mississippi.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lewis was wearing a sheath of champagne lace over taffeta with a hat of champagne satin and brown accessories. Her corsage was of bronze chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Peters, wore a gown of green chiffon over taffeta, trimmed with sequins, with a sequin pillbox hat and satin slippers to match. Long white gloves and a champagne carnation corsage completed her attire.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were hosts at a reception in the social room of the church. The serving table was covered with an imported Italian cutwork cloth. Gold tapers in branched candelabra flanked the central decoration formed by the attendant's bouquet. Baskets of bronze mums were used throughout the room.

Mrs. Ted Orjias served the tiered wedding cake and Mrs. James Hudson Dulin, sister of the briegroom, presided at the guest book and Mrs. Clyde Moyers, sister of the bride, assisted with the courtesies.

For a going-away costume the bride wore a two piece suit of magenta wool with a pillbox of white satin and matching faille shoes and bag. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride graduated from Tallulah high school and attended Draughn Business college in Jackson, Miss. Mr. Currie was graduated from Monticello high school, attended Hinds Junior College and received his degree from the University of Mississippi.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Preston Crosby, Mrs. Edward J. Currie and Susan and Ned Currie; Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Shows, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Louis, all of Jackson, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Peters of Corsicana, Texas; Mrs. Johnnie Aultman, Clifton Crosby, Mrs. Valma Pickering and Miss Paulette Pickering, all of Seminary, Miss., Mrs. Herman Campbell of Collins, Miss., Mrs. Aught Kayser and Mrs. Bobby Joe Ezell of Tallulah; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russo, Kenner; Mr. and Mrs. William Laird, Gary and Marylin Sue Laird of Pasadena, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson Dulin and Lynn Dulin of Bude, Miss., Mrs. J. Marble - Topped Furniture Has Made Comeback

Marble has made a comeback. Old marble-topped pieces of furniture, hidden away in the attic for years, have been dusted off, perhaps redesigned and put back into service. Many a marble-topped kitchen table with shortened legs is now acting as a coffee table, a marble-topped washstand as an occasional table. And new pieces in contemporary and modern design have made the best seller list in stores around the country.

Why this sudden rise in popularity of a material that's thought to be some 500 to 700 million year old? Chiefly because it combines beauty with easy-care qualities, both important consideration to today's busy but style-minded homemaker.

Through marble requires but little care it requires the right kind of care and to know what this is, you should understand its composition. Chemically, it's very similar to limestone and more or less crystalline or granular in structure. As a result it scratches easily and acids eat into it quickly, so avoid any acid or rough, abrasive cleaners or you will pit or scratch the surface.

Alkaline pereparations, on the other hand, which are opposite in nature to acids, are compatible with marble and one of the mildest and best alkaline cleaners of all, namely soda bicarbonate (baking soda), is right on your kitchen shelf.

When your marble-topped table begins to look dull, scrub it off with a baking soda solution . . . about three tablespoons of soda per quart of warm water. Let the solution stand for about five minutes, then rinse with warm water. For stubborn stains, try a paste of baking soda and water. Scour with the paste and dry. Then apply light paste wax of proper shade to protect the surface from scratches, etches and stains. After this treatment, a dusting and occasional sponge down with plain water will keep marble looking its best.

Individualists Wear 'Rags'

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Kookie fashions of the black - stockinged, pony - tailed beatnik type may be replaced by "individuality for the masses," if a Miami designer's steadily growing popularity continues.

Bru Sobel is a handsome, tanned 43 - year - old bachelor who has literally made riches from what he calls rags that provide style - conscious young matrons with a new kind of uniqueness.

"That word, Kookie, reminds me of the unwashed masses — immature dilettantes trying to be different by dressing exactly like each other," he claims.

HOMEMADE RAGS

When Sobel was simply a dress shop retailer two years ago it annoyed him not to be able to stock his racks with something besides the mass approved styles. That's when he made up some designs, bought some fabric and hired a seamstress to execute "clothes with taste and a sense of humor."

To add a little prestige, he invented the Stracci label which is a shortened Italian word meaning rag.

Before long his "rag line" had created such a fashion noise with Florida's tourists as well as the home folk that New York buyers were searching out Sobel's little suburban shop to discover where he was getting his stock.

TO RICHES

Within months Sobel had a drawer full of orders, a squat little factory in the Miami garment district, and more sewing machines and seamstresses. He also added a junior line tagged Ricchese, an appropriate Italian word meaning riches.

Describing his designs are difficult, Sobel admits, because each dress is cut so that every woman looks different in it, depending upin her figure and the way she interprets wearing it.

Not every dress is belted, or unbelted, or ruffled, or pleated or with a swinging skirt, or a straight skirt. There is a strange mixture of everything. "The Stracci look isn't the same thing throughout the line because we don't have the mechanical and sales problems that force the big manufacturers to do this," he says.

But at the rate he's growing isn't Sobel likely to reach the same proportions, and therefore inherit the same snags that limit individuality?

"I'm a happy man and my wants are few. I've got enough money now and I don't care enough about being so rich I have to sacrifice being different."

Femininity Prevails On Dance Floor

Of all recreational activities, dancing is the favorite of many women because it provides the opportunity for them to dress most attractively and appear at their feminine best.

Feminine attractiveness on the dance floor begins with thar elusive quality called grace. Dress, shoes, hairdo and make - up should be chosen to create a graceful appearance in motion.

A skirt that flows gracefully during a dance shows a woman to her best advantage; recommended slightly full cocktail dresses for all but the most formal dances.

With the cocktail dress, high heels are essential, even for the taller woman. Slim, high heels not only make a woman look more graceful, but they carry the body weight forward so as to dance properly o nthe balls of the feet.

Make - up should be applied conservately, although it can be more dramatic than normal daytime make - up. Dance floors usually have subdued lighting, so heavier eye make - up can be applied. The essential thing to remember is that cosmetics and perfume should complement a woman's appearance, not dominate it.

Hair style should be in keeping with the dress for dancing.

MRS. DONNIE ELLIS EDMISTON

Couple Wed In Ceremony At Quitman

Miss Nancy Jo McConathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ermon Boyd McConathy of Quitman, became the bride of Donnie Ellis Edmiston, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Purvis Alvin Edmiston of Clay, on Thanksgiving Day, November 23 at 4 p.m.

The Rev. C. W. Aswell officiated at the double ring ceremony in the Quitman Baptist church before a background of multi-colored fern, flanked by baskets of white chrsanthemums and gladioli and branched candelabra holding white tapers.

Providing a musical prelude were the organist, Miss Carolyn Blalock and the soloist, Miss Gwendolyn Blalock, cousins of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white brocade satin, designed with princess bodice, scoop neckline and long sleeves, with circular skirt ballerina length in front, dipping to floor length in back. A crushed satin bow marked the back waistline and streamers extended to the hem. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids atop a white Bible.

Miss Patricia Sue McConathey, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Judy McConathy, her sister and Miss Joy McConathy, also a cousin. They wore frocks of yellow crystallene, with matching veils and slippers and carried cascades of bronze chrysanthemums.

Candles were lighted by Miss Jeanne McConathy, sister of the bride, and Miss Frances Smith, niece of the bridegroom. Miss Martha Smith, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. They were dressed in miniature copies of the other attendants' costumes. Steve Blalock, cousin of the bride, acted as ring bearer.

Joe Edmiston attended his brother as best man and ushers were Paul Walsworth and Delmos Lyles.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Miss Carolyn Koonce registered guests in the bride's book. The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth and was centered with the bride's and bridesmaids bouquets. Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Joe Edmiston, Mrs. Jerry Robison and Mrs. Betty Smith.

For travel when the couple left on a short wedding trip the bride wore a magenta wool suit with matching accessories and a white orchid from her bouquet. They will be at home in Clay while Mrs. Edmiston will continue her studies at Louisiana Tech and Mr. Edmiston is employed in Hodge.

Fall Fashion Flatters With Newsy Hues

There's fashion excitement in color this season. Black as always is basic and beautiful, but other hues make news, too.

Brown is the largest color family for fall and winter with great emphasis on the russet, spicy tones of cinnamon and ginger, the burnished golden browns of amber and tortoise to the taupy browns and the deep dark rich espresso browns.

Magenta is widely-used and ranges from the bright blued-reds, dubonnet, purple influenced reds, fuchsia and cerise on to the deep dark plum and eggplant colorings.

Neutrals shine in pale tones with beige, outstanding pale off - white backgrounds are used for prints; creamy wools, white mixed tweeds, beige and grey are used with other neutrals, all in calm contrast to the brilliance of color.

Museums Today Inspire Fashion

By FLORENCE DE SANTIS

Often overlooked among the advantages of New York as a fashion city are its great museums. Designers make constant use of museum collections for inspiration. The Metropolitan and the Brooklyn Museums have special collections of actual costumes which can be studied for their design and construction.

Museums also feature special temporary exhibitions which often spark a fashion trend. At present, the Metropolitan Museum of Art is housing the national art treasures of Thailand, which have been sent here as a result of the visit of the King Phumiphon and his lovely consort, Queen Sirikit.

Herself a devotee of fashion, the Queen leaped into prominence with the beautiful wardrobe designed for her by Pierre Balmain for her recent world tour with the King. Balmain also designed many new jewelry pieces for her, and he used the art collection now at the Metropolitan for inspiration.

Gold was the chosen metal throughout Thai history, and the collection includes brooches, armbands, plaques and rings created in gold and gems and found in a fifteenth century crypt. Discovered only three years ago, the monumental tomb was built for two princely brothers who had slain each other in an elephant duel for the throne.

As befitted their rank, hundreds of jewelry pieces were put into the tomb for their use in the other world. The collection emphasizes the fact that in many eras jewelry has been a prerogative om men rather than women and the best pieces have been designed for male wear.

Brooches feature unusual interwined designs, since the pin was not attached afterward, but had to be an integral part of the design. Armbands include sizes meant to be pushed up above the elbow. They vary from narrow to very wide, from plain gold to chased, carved and jeweled types that could start a new jewelry fashion for evening wear.

Plaques were worn upon the breast, and offer inspiration for the large pins now in fashion. Rings often mount figures of fish or animals upon their tops, marking the fact that their wearers' hands did no work.

Use Color To Unify Room

By BETTY PEPIS

Q: Please help me to complete my kitchen. Colors are aqua, white, beige and brown. The walls half way up have an aqua tile with a brown trim. What color for remaining wall and ceiling, also curtains? Linoleum is aqua with beige and white spots, counter tops are white, range top and oven are brown wood - tone, refrigerator is aqua. Dining set is white and beige.

A: Aqua appears to be the only satisfactory color for the walls and ceiling. It will unify the space. For curtains, I would suggest a gay, small scale cotton print with an aqua ground and white beige and lemon yellow in the design. Pick up lemon yellow again in the design.

Q: I just bought a persimmon colored sofa for our den, which has smoke gray walls and dark gray carpet. Now I am at a loss over what color to have draperies, for picture window and two Danish chairs. Could you help?

A: For the windows, I suggest a gray texture fabric; on this, apply a persimmon border of graduated stripes, starting about two or two and a half feet from floor. Have widest band at the bottom. The Danish chairs could be covered in a narrow stripe (modern weave) of two shades of gray and persimmon. Have solid persimmon colored pillows on these chairs.

Q: Can you give me some color advice for my living room? Walls are white, sofa gold tweed, rug is braided in brown, gold, hunter green and beige. Furniture is Provincial; have black Hitchcock chairs. What shall I reupholster a Colonial rocker, also small lounge chair? Windows are small, and have white ruffled curtains. They seem to be colorless against white walls. Would a colored valance help?

A: If windows appear uninteresting in plain white, why not change and find an attractive small Provincial print that has a white ground with gold, green and yellow. Also, cover or slip cover the small lounge chair in the print. I would redo the rocker in hunter green.

Q: I made very colorful wall-to-wall draperies for my living and dining room. It is large scale print in blues, turquoise, olive green and white. Please suggest color for walls, sofa, chairs, also dining room chairs. Rug is pale gold. Would it be too much to have pair of chairs in print?

A: With such vibrant colors in print, I would have white walls and woodwork. Turquoise for the sofa, olive green for two chairs. Why not slip cover chairs in print for summertime when room can be more informal. Dining room chairs could be in a narrow stripe of olive green, turquoise and white, or be covered in a solid gold hue.

Pine Cone Garden

For a "different" flower project which will interest adults and entertain children, make pine cone flowers. Smooth off the bottom of the cone and attach to a wooden disk with a small nail. Set in saucer of water and plant grass seed or small flower seeds in the open cone. When the cone is dampened, it will close up, and the seeds will grow and cover it.

COUNCIL REPORTS

Most Youths Fail Tests For Fitness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Physical fitness tests in the public schools have shown appalling results, the President's Council on Youth Fitness reported Saturday.

About half the 200,000 youngsters taking part in pilot programs failed the minimum test for fitness, the council said, and only about 10 per cent passed a more strenuous comprehensive test.

However, the report added, it has been found that marked improvement can be obtained by following a simple program that includes at least 15 minutes of vigorous activity every day for all pupils.

The pilot programs are being conducted by local school authorities in Muskogee and Midwest City, Okla.; Belcourt, N.D.; Springfield, Mo.; Savannah, Ga., 38 school districts in Pennsylvania, and in U.S. Army dependents' schools in eight countries.

The minimum test includes three exercises—pull-ups to measure flexibility and abdominal strength, and squat thrusts to measure agility.

In the pull-up for boys, the youngster must chin himself on an overhead bar. Passing marks are one pull-up for boys age 10 to 13, two pull-ups for those 14 and 15, and three pull-ups for those 16 and 17.

In the modified pull-up for girls, the youngsters grasps a bar at chest level, slides her legs under the bar so that the body is on a straight line, and pulls her body up with her arms until her chest touches the bar.

For the sit-ups, the pupil lies on his back with legs extended, hands grasped behind his neck, while another pupil holds his feet to the floor. The pupil pulls himself to a sitting position. On alternate sit-ups the pupil touches his right elbow to his left knee, and his left elbow to his right knee.

A passing performance for boys ages 10-17 is 14 sit-ups, for girls 19-17 it is 10 sit-ups.

In the suat thrust, the pupil begins by standing erect. He then bends his knees and places his hands on the floor in front of his feet, thrusts his legs back far enough so that the body is perfectly straight from shoulders to feet—as when he does push-ups—returns to the squat position and finally returns to an erect position.

A passing performance for boys ages 10-17 is four squat thrusts in 10 seconds, for girls 10-17 it is three squat thrusts in 10 seconds.

In Muskogee, 6,557 pupils took this minimum test at the start of the school year and 47 per cent failed. In Midwest City, 5,287 took the test and 2,787—almost 53 per cent—failed.

"Even at an Indian reservation school in Belcourt, N.D.," the council said, "more than 90 per cent of the 480 students tested failed the minimum test."

The council said that after six weeks of following the recommended 15-minutes-a-day program, there was a 24 per cent improvement in the test scores at Muskogee, and significant improvement at Midwest City.

The comprehensive test includes pull-ups, sit-ups, shuttle run, standing broad jump, 50-yard dash, softball throw for distance and 600-yard run-and-walk.

Pick Stewart Chairman Of Tree Program

WINNFIELD (Special) — W. B. Stewart of Winnfield has been named chairman of the Louisiana Forestry Association Tree Farm Program in north central Louisiana, it was reported by Paul Dolhonde of Bogalusa, state chairmen.

Stewart announced that the following will serve on his committee:

Winn Parish — Glenn Futch, John Read, Ed J. Grigg, L. L. Brewton, Jr. and Estes Bozeman of Winnfield and Kenneth Gillespie of Joyce.

Tree Farmers certified last year in this district numbered 58, Dolhonde reported, with 12,683 acres of forestland approved as official tree farms. The district total now stands at 177 Tree Farms, covering 927,872 acres.

The most successful tree farm year in history was completed this year, Dolhonde pointed out, with 330 Tree Farms dedicated throughout the state, covering 368,971 acres of forestland. This brought the total tree farm acreage in Louisiana to nearly four million acres, with 1484 forest landowners now holding certificates of good forest management.

Dolhonde urged other forest landowners in the parish to apply for a Tree Farm certification, pointing out that "even if the property fails to comply with Louisiana's rigid standards, the landowner will receive competent, professional advice as to how to get his forestland into full production."

To become a Tree Farmer, he said, a landowner must have owned his timber tract at least five years. In addition, the property must be protected from fire, insects and disease to a reasonable extent and must be managed for the continuous production of forest products.

Both pine and hardwood lands are eligible, Dolhonde reminded, and any tract of more than five acres in size will be considered. All properties are dedicated at public ceremonies, he said, and all expenses of the annual program are borne by the Louisiana Forestry Association.

"The tree farm program in Louisiana is 10 years old this year," the forester reported, "having started with a dedication at Urania in 1951. However, the national program is 20 years old," he pointed out.

Prospective Tree Farmers should contact the district chairman or the Louisiana Forestry Association, Box 788, in Alexandria for further information, Dolhonde suggested.

Chrysler Newport is still America's top price surprise. And, a car-load of Chrysler value proves it. Newport's no "Jr. Edition." It's a full size Chrysler, with a big Firebolt V-8 engine . . . all-welded, rust-resistant Unibody; smooth, steady Torsion-Bar suspension; and a battery-saving alternator. All of these famous Chrysler features are yours for Newport's surprising low price. Come in. Drive it now . . . this week, while we're offering special high trade-ins on Newport.

WHAT-Ad WONDERS... From Here

Want Ads Help Win $1,000 in Gold

John Lomax Jr. a boy of 12 in Austin, Texas, had a Saturday Evening Post delivery route. Known as the red-headed, freckle-faced boy who goes barefoot even in winter, trying to build up resistance to colds.

The Saturday Evening Post had a national subscription contest, offering $1,000 in gold to the top salesman in a 5-month period. John ran classified ads about how he was trying to win the contest, signing himself, "the red-headed freckle-faced boy who doesn't wear shoes." He won the national contest and brought in the sack of gold on his pet burro's back for deposit at the local bank.

BRINGS COURT ACTION

Ex-Convict Barred As School Teacher

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—Can an ex-convict whose rights have been restored teach in a public school?

Not in Oregon.

This ruling by the Oregon Board of Education in the case of Dean N. Bay, enraged a wide segment of the Oregon citizenry, brought heavy criticism of the board and now is the subject of court action against the agency.

This is what happened:

Bay, 32, was convicted of larceny in Washington State in 1953. He was a night patrolman in Goldendale, Wash., at the time and had committed various thefts while on duty.

He served 18 months of a two-year sentence in the state reformatory at Monroe, Wash., getting six months off for good behavior. A quiet, scholarly person, Bay was released as "completely rehabilitated." He moved to Oregon.

He studied for a degree in teaching at Eastern Oregon College, La Grande. A scholarship student, he applied for and received a one-year teaching certificate from Dr. Rex Putnam, then the Oregon superintendent of public instruction.

Putnam was aware of Bay's prison record, but issued the certificate on recommendation of Eastern Oregon College officials and others. A lay minister in the Baptist Church, Bay taught the fifth grade last year at Weston, near La Grande, winning praise from Weston school officials and colleagues.

Last March, Bay applied for a permanent, five-year certificate. Putnam's successor, Dr. Leon P. Minear, reviewed Bay's case and decided on denial. He indicated reservations on whether Bay was indeed rehabilitated. The one-year certificate expired June 30, at almost the time Bay was getting his college degree.

The matter came before the board of education, at an informal hearing, and the board voted to deny, "in the best interests of education."

A storm of public protest followed, including numerous complaints to Gov. Mark Hatfield.

The board, at Bay's request, conducted a formal hearing in September. Voting 4-3, the earlier denial was upheld despite support for Bay from the local school board that employed him, fellow teachers, parents who had children in Bay's class, Bay's pastor, the Washington State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles and others.

The superintendent of Weston schools described Bay as a "superior teacher." Bay said he paid his debt to society, and wanted to teach.

The board's finding, boiled down, was that Bay had failed to submit satisfactory evidence that he had the moral character necessary to teach.

Hatfield expressed disappointment over the board's decision. He had no power to reverse it, however.

Bay, father of five, moved to Seattle and is teaching in a private school there—King's Garden Christian School, under a Washington state certificate. A citizen's committee in La Grande pressed for an appeal of the Oregon ruling and a petition was filed Oct. 4 in Union County Circuit Court, La Grande.

OFF LOUISIANA COAST

Blast On Barge Is Fatal; 3 Hurt

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — One man was killed, one was seriously injured and two slightly injured in an explosion aboard the pipe-laying barge K. S. Adams off the southwest Louisiana coast Friday night.

The Coast Guard station at Sabine, Tex., Saturday identified the dead man as John L. Shivers, 33, of Berwick, La. Seriously injured was Lee R. Soileau, Route 3, Ville Platte, La.

A spokesman for the Sam Carline Corp., Morgan City, said two other men, whose names were not available, were slightly hurt in the blast of a water heater aboard the 300-foot barge. Previously it had been reported the men were aboard the tub Mr. Chester.

The K.S. Adams was operating with the tugs Mr. Chester and Nevada. The spokesman said the electric 55-gallon water heater was in a hallway of the barge, and the crewmen were working on deck above. Shivers was believed to have been killed by concussion. The condition of Soileau, who was burned about the body, was described as fair at a hospital in Lake Charles. Both Shivers and Soileau were operators of heavy equipment on the barge.

Cause of the explosion was being investigated.

TURKEY COOKOUTS

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Outdoor chefs are missing a good bet for flavor if they overlook turkey, George Draper, Texas A&M College poultry scientist, says.

But in barbecuing turkey, preparation of the fire is half the secret of success, Draper says. Draper suggests the fire be started about 30 minutes before placing the turkey on the grill. Do not try to barbecue with too much fire — slow cooking is very important. The second step to success is frequent basting with barbecue sauce.

What are the

OSSICULA AUDITA?

The study of human anatomy, as a branch of medicine, is essential to the progress of medical science and to the betterment of our country. Unfortunately many potential doctors may never study medicine because they may never go to college. Already many of our colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

BLONDIE by CHIC YOUNG

IT'S FIFTEEN DOLLARS
LUCKY GUY
OH, BOY--- FIFTEEN BEAUTIFUL GREEN DOLLARS-- ALL MINE TO HAVE AND TO HOLD AND TO CHERISH!
I CAN'T LET BLONDIE KNOW I WON--SHE OBJECTS TO MY GETTING IN THOSE OFFICE POOLS
WHY THE BIG SMIRKY SMILE ?
NOW I'VE GOT TO FIND A HIDING PLACE FOR MY TREASURE
NO--NOT IN A CLOSET--BLONDIE'S ALWAYS ROOTIN' AROUND IN THE CLOSETS
IT'S FUN TO BE A MISER AND HAVE A SECRET HOARD HIDDEN AWAY FOR A RAINY DAY
LOOK, DAGWOOD-- IT'S RAINING ONE-DOLLAR BILLS!
HERE COMES ANOTHER
WE EACH HAVE FIVE DOLLARS, DADDY
THEY FLOATED DOWN FROM THE VENTILATOR
THE FELLOW WHO SAID "CRIME DOESN'T PAY" SURE KNEW WHAT HE WAS TALKING ABOUT

MARY STEELE
CRIMESTOPPERS TEXTBOOK
BEWARE OF PERSONS PRESENTING GOVERNMENT CHECKS WHO GIVE ADDRESSES GREAT DISTANCES FROM YOUR PLACE OF BUSINESS. THE CHECKS COULD BE STOLEN.

IT'S MY OPINION, CHIEF, SOMEONE CAME TO TAKE THE CHILDREN. GRANNY PROTESTED—AND THEY SLUGGED HER.
MARY STEELE—JUNIOR'S MOTHER.
MAYBE SO. BUT SOMEHOW IT DOESN'T RING A BELL WITH ME. WHOSE KIDS WERE THEY?
TO FIGURE THAT ONE WE'VE GOT TO KNOW MORE ABOUT THE DEAD WOMAN! AT THIS POINT WE'RE CONVINCED SHE WAS MARY STEELE, JUNIOR'S MOTHER, BUT—WHAT WAS SHE DOING BACK HERE, AND WHOSE KIDS WERE THEY?

SHE WAS A GOOD WOMAN, BUT SOMEHOW SHE COULDN'T MAKE A GO OF IT. SHE WAS MARRIED TWICE. HER SECOND HUSBAND, "STEVE THE TRAMP," WAS AN ALCOHOLIC.
—A BRUTAL STEP-FATHER.
SHE KNEW HER WEAKNESSES, AND I'M CONVINCED THAT'S WHY SHE WANTED ME TO TAKE JUNIOR.
NEWS PHOTO CLIPPING MADE AT TIME OF STEVE THE TRAMP'S CAPTURE

NONE OF THESE MAKE AN IMPRESSION IN THE CLAY QUITE LIKE THAT BRUISE ON HER HEAD.
YOU'RE RIGHT, JUNIOR.
THIS PHOTO SHOWS SOME KIND OF A PATTERN—BUT IT'S VAGUE—VERY VAGUE.
YOU SEEM TO BE TAKING A LOT OF INTEREST IN THIS CASE, KID. HOW COME?
